The War Today

By DeWitt MacKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst
WHATEVER may be the allies' intentions towards Paris, it seems clear from the fresh crisis in the battle of France that their major objectives of the moment are (1) to destroy the German 7th army on the Normandy front, and then (2) to outflank the strong enemy forces along the English channel to the north...

Purpose: Annihilation

NATURALLY the primary interest of General Eisenhower's forces is to annihilate the enemy. That comes before the mere capture of territory or cities. However, the allies have a special interest in clearing out those robot-bomb nests because, while these inventions of the devil can't win the war, they're subjecting the British people to a cruel burden they shouldn't have to bear...

Speed is imperative, not only to trap the enemy while he's in trouble, but to spare England the plague of that flying death. And speed is what the allies are showing in every department since they acquired enough space to get their big war machine into top gear. Significant of this greatly increased tempo is Eisenhower's shift of his headquarters from Britain to Normandy so he can be in closer touch with operations...

Dramatic Turn

YESTERDAY the allied effort to envelop the 7th army took a dramatic turn. Canadian, British and Polish troops intensified their attack on the German right wing anchor in the Caen zone. Simultaneously an armored American force, which had been speeding towards Paris, turned suddenly northwards and swung an arc about the German left wing that had been torn from its anchor at Avranches and had been flying wild while the nazis tried to swing it back north towards the Seine river where they hoped to reestablish their front...

Klamath Woman Has No Doubts About Advertising Power

Mrs. E. K. Loosley, of 1922 Manzanita, has no doubts as to the pulling power of The Herald and News classified. In fact, she says, her classified life has twice been made miserable by it.
It came about through a confusion of telephone numbers. Someone with an out-of-Klamath Falls number the same as hers has twice advertised electrical equipment for sale. Both times her telephone has rung constantly for hours on end—and happened that she was expecting long distance calls, she has had to answer every ring.
'Please, PLEASE,' she pleaded this morning, 'don't call 3401 Klamath Falls to ask about used electrical equipment. I'm worn out to a shadow already, and fear I can't take any more.'

Night Shift Premium Granted

SEATTLE, Aug. 12 (AP)—In a decision involving 150 employees of the Fir-Tec Insulating Board company, St. Helens, Ore., the regional war labor board today awarded a night shift premium of three and five cents per hour for the second and third shifts respectively. A general wage increase was denied.
The third shift differential will apply, the order said, only as long as the shift remains eight hours long. Dissent was entered by labor members on the wage denial and industry members were opposed to the night shift premium award.

Market Quotations

By VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—Stock market leaders generally kept one foot on the recovery ladder today although the majority had to do much in the way of spectacular climbing.
400 volume for the two hours of around 1924 shares was one of the ampler of the past several months. Low-priced sprouts remained in the background. Sugar stocks revived, apparently in a reflection of the possibility next week's Cuban negotiations might result in a better price for the 1945 crop.
Ahead the greater part of the time were Cuban-American sugar, South Porto Rico sugar, Baniff Airways (at a peak for the year), United Air Lines, Pan American Airways, Bethlehem, N. Y. Central, Pullman, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Cerro de Pasco and U. S. Gypsum.
Railway bonds enjoyed a modest lift. Commodities were steady.
Attracting support in the curb were Everhart, Raytheon, Cuban Atlantic Sugar, Penrod, Republic Aviation and Puget Sound Power.

WHEAT

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Selling of rice futures in local market down at 7 1/2 cents as a cent in late dealings today and the liquidation spread to other pits, turning earlier gains into slight losses.
Commission house selling of rice was influenced partly by a fall in the cotton market, which had opened strong. Favorable war news discouraged strong buying in the wheat market. Oats were weaker, but lower grades steady.

Telling The Editor

Letters printed here must not be more than 300 words in length, must be written legibly on ONE SIDE of the paper only, and must be signed. Contributions following these rules, are warmly welcomed.
HAP DAVID WRITES SOMEWHERE IN A LEU-TIANS—(To the Editor)—Have you noticed your ad in the paper where you are going to give us 10 days' notice before our subscription expires. I think you should make that 30 days, as 10 isn't enough to reach us in the Aleutian Islands. Hardly any letters reach me in less than 10 days from KF and the west coast. Most mail is over 10, more likely 18, 21 or even 30 days.

Consider our return letter and the delay of the censor, etc., and 30 days would not be too much for the boys in the armed forces. I don't want to miss the Herald and News, and I try not, as it is the best connection I have with what is going on in the home town.
I have property there, and will go back you get into business there as soon as the war is over. Would like to see South Sixth improved and some solution to the sewage problem.
Yours truly,
HAP DAVID, MM 2/c.
(Editor's Note: Thirty days' notice will be given service men subscribers, rather than the ten days given local subscribers who can be reached promptly by mail. Thanks to Hap David for the suggestion.)

EMPTY COTTAGES

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., (To the Editor)—This is my first letter. I read in your column where the chamber of commerce wants homes and trailers for our arriving marines and their families in Klamath Falls. It seems a shame we can't house these good people—when in our own locality there are at least eight houses which could be fixed up at a small cost and made livable. They are known as the Bratton cottages out at the junction just southwest of town.
Can't something be done about these houses, when right now the hue and cry is housing. Hoping this reaches the eyes and ears of the chamber of commerce.
I remain yours for better housing,
FRANK M. BENEDICT, 724 Lincoln St.

P. S. I am not interested in the Bratton cabins in any way, but just can't help seeing the emptiness of these homes.
Editor's Note: The above matter has been before the chamber of commerce on a number of occasions, and efforts made to assist Mr. Mann, the owner of the cottages in question, in connection with government priorities, etc. Thus far, due to various obstacles, no action has been taken to finish the cottages.

Resolutions Formed At Mining Confab

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12 (AP)—A postwar program calling for use of silver and gold as a monetary base, 'orderly' transfer of defense plants to private operators, prompt revision of income tax laws, and the freezing of metal stockpiles was prepared today for submission to the governors of western states.
The program was set forth in a series of resolutions adopted at the closing session of the Western Mining conference yesterday.
A monetary policy resolution, drawn by a committee of which R. S. Palmer of Denver, secretary of the colored Mine Owners' association, was chairman, advocated 'use of silver and gold in the international fund and also in the international bank proposed by the Bretton Woods conference.'
