

Grade School Students Find Improvements in Buildings on Return

By SCOTT REED
Grade school children after Labor Day, they find not only several new buildings but also clean, renovated buildings.

of the rooms the chief project. Fremont
All the outside wash has been repainted here. The washcoats has been refinished. Plaster patching was completed in various places in the school. The home economics room has been repainted.

MEET THE CARRIERS

Sharon Johnson, 13, of 809 Owens and Kathleen Pugh, 14, of Fremont, have been carrying Herald route 10 since October, 1943. Sharon and Kathleen have carried a route longer than any other girl carriers in the city, and are very well liked by their subscribers.

Both girls take care of children in the evenings and go roller skating in their spare time. They start paying their bill before the first and always have it paid before the fifth in order to receive their bonus. Sharon plays the accordion and violin in the Junior high school band.

Marine Sidelights

MT/Sgt. Maurice E. Moran, writer, and Sgt. Johnnie Birch, photographer, are working on a group of stories about the barracks for "Leatherneck" and other marine corps publications. Sergeant Moran comes from marine corps headquarters in Washington, and has 14 years news experience as reporter for various papers and a marine combat correspondent.

Sergeant Birch is here from San Diego, where he is staff photographer for "Leatherneck." The Klamath Falls barracks is receiving much attention from all marine publications and public relations outlets. Recently T/Sgt. Robert H. Myers, "Leatherneck" and "Marine Corps Gazette" feature writer, was here getting material for an article, and the west coast area public relations office has had newsmen here doing publicity work.

PFC Harvey Uhen has rolled the high score so far, 254, on the post bowling alley.

Sgt. Les Israel is combing the compound for basketball players. He expects to have a barracks basketball team this fall and to schedule games with other outfits in this area.

Thirty marines will attend a dance at Tulalake Thursday night.

Gyroscopic Sight Used In Fighters

LONDON, Aug. 17 (AP) — A gyroscopic gun sight described officially as "almost uncanny in its accuracy" now is in use on RAF fighter planes, the air ministry disclosed tonight.

The sight, details of which were not disclosed, eliminates to the last degree the chances of error due to human failure, the ministry added.
