

Gas Application Blanks to Arrive

Applications for the A gasoline ration books haven't as yet been received by the war price and ration board, but are due to arrive any day. When they come, they will be given to all service station operators. Service stations will be the only place that they may be obtained. After the applications are filled out they must be mailed to the war price and ration board, as they will not be accepted at the offices over the counter. New books will be in the mail by September 22, the date when the books go in force.
