A three-person staff has been assigned to the Klamath Falls recruiting office of the United States army. The members are Lt. Jean E. Morrison, PFC Elizabeth Grigsby Sanders and PFC Charles L'Herrison.

PFC Sanders returned to her Klamath Falls home on this assignment. She has been in the WACs since January, 1944. She took her basic training at Fort Des Moines, Ia., and came to Klamath Falls from Fort Des Moines.

Mrs. Sanders is a member of a pioneer Klamath Falls family. Lt. Morrison is in charge of the office. She has been stationed at the air depot at San Bernardino, Calif.

PFC L'Herrison is just back from the Aleutian islands, where he saw 20 months of duty.

WAC recruiting will be emphasized by the local staff. Lt. Morrison said that the need for WACs is greater than ever, with an increasing number of men being discharged from service.

Strathdee's Death Results From Injuries, Not Cold

BELLINGHAM, Aug. 25 (AP)—Larry Strathdee, 17-year-old Seattle mountain climber, died from injuries sustained in his 30-foot fall from an icy Mt. Baker slope, and not from the cold, in the opinion of veteran mountaineers who assisted in bringing out the youth's body yesterday.

The University of Washington student's body was found about 100 feet from the trench where a companion, Jack Schwabland, 17, had placed the injured youth after his fall Tuesday. A rescue party reached the scene at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

American-Born Japs Permitted to Return

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25 (AP)—Two American-born Japanese have been granted permission to come here. U. S. Attorney Charles H. Carr has announced, adding that the action does not "by any means involve a general return of Japanese to southern California."

Carr said Mrs. Shizuko Shiramizu and Masaru Baba have been exempted by military authorities from an order excluding Japanese from the Pacific coast defense area and particularly from Los Angeles county. Mrs. Shiramizu is the widow of a Japanese American killed while fighting with the U. S. army in Italy. Baba holds an honorable discharge from the army. Both are in midwest relocation centers.

Versifying Cafe Owners Explain

PORTLAND, Aug. 25 (AP)—Two versifying cafe operators explained why they closed down temporarily. The sign on the door of their restaurant said: "We're out of points, and sugar too."

Now what in the world are we going to do? The OPA we asked for more, but in our face they shut the door. You're tired of fish and tired of ham. So guess we'll take it on the lamb. We'll be back when we get more points. In the meantime eat in the other joints.

Critical Transport Problem Predicted

PORTLAND, Aug. 25 (AP)—America will face its most critical transportation problem within the next three months, a Seattle railroad official said today.

F. T. Westmeyer, district manager for the Association of American railroads, told northwest shippers that freight loadings, already 4 per cent above last year, will sharply increase. Manpower shortages were cited by shippers as the chief obstacle to speeding up freight movement. They studied a U. S. employment service plan to secure transient labor.

Awards Made at Naval Air Station in Twin Ceremonies

At impressive twin ceremonies held at the Klamath Falls naval air station Monday, Lt. Commander Richard B. Brodrick, USN, a navy flight surgeon with a background of 21 months in the South Pacific, was decorated with the presidential unit citation ribbon in recognition of his outstanding services. Likewise, Albert Patrick, the first civilian employee at the air station, was decorated with a meritorious civilian service emblem.

Lt. Commander Brodrick in September of 1942, was one of the first physicians to arrive at Guadalcanal and was instrumental in providing medical care and improving hospital facilities on that battle-scarred island.

Dr. Brodrick stated that upon first arriving at Guadalcanal he found that facilities were very primitive and food supplies inadequate. He was one of four doctors who volunteered for duty at Guadalcanal, one of whom was lost before their arrival.

He spent considerable time flying battered human cargo between Guadalcanal and a base hospital. The return flight was usually made with bombs, gasoline and oxygen in place of patients.

A native Californian, Lt. Commander Brodrick completed his undergraduate work at Leland Stanford university and later served his internship at San Francisco.

He joined the navy in July, 1940, and served at naval hospitals at Philadelphia, San Diego, Iceland, and Samoa, and received flight training at Pensacola, Florida.

The meritorious civilian service emblem was awarded to Patrick in recognition of his outstanding services in connection with the construction program of the navy. His citation was awarded by Vice Admiral B. Moreell, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, U. S. navy, and reads as follows:

"Upon recommendation of the board of the bureau of yards and docks, the chief of the bureau has this date awarded you the meritorious civilian service emblem as recognition of the excellent services rendered over and beyond those normally required in connection with your duties in the construction program of this bureau.

"The chief of bureau congratulates you upon your outstanding performance and loyalty, and ex-

NATIONAL GUARD REVAMP STUDIED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The war department has begun a study looking toward revamping of the National guard in the postwar military organization of the United States.

No hint of the specific problems to be tackled by a special six-man committee was contained in the announcement issued yesterday, but the question of political control of appointments of high ranking officers in the peacetime National guard is known to be a matter of considerable concern to the army command.

Fears have been expressed at times in National guard circles that this concern might result in an army attempt to federalize the guard completely, removing it from its historical position under state command as a development of the old state militia.

The present army high command, however, is believed to favor retention of the guard as an agency of the states except in national emergencies, although with an extension of the war department's authority over training and over qualifications of top guard officers.

DEMOBILIZATION BILL APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The House Ways and Means committee Thursday approved a postwar demobilization and reconversion bill, after rejecting the administration's program which called for broader jobless benefits in the reconversion period.

The committee action on the legislation came after it voted down a proposal by War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes that the unemployment benefit coverage be liberalized, with a minimum standard of 26 weeks payments, in amounts up to $20 weekly.

It sided with the senate in leaving the jobless compensation program in the hands of the states.

Before heading the legislation to the house floor, for debate starting Tuesday, the committee struck out large portions of the senate approved demobilization bill.

It struck out all the senate provisions for re-training and re-employment of war workers, and eliminated 3,500,000 government workers from the unemployment compensation.

"Wanted" Woman Found by Sherlock

PORTLAND, Aug. 25 (AP)—An amateur detective excitedly called city police and told them he had located the woman whose face is shown on hundreds of war posters under the caption "Wanted for murder, her careless talk costs lives."

Officers were told by the would-be Sherlock that he was sure he sat beside the "wanted woman" in a Portland theatre.

Mothers of Champ Salesmen Chosen To Christen Ships

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Mothers of 11 champion war stamp salesmen among the nation's 150,000 newspaper boys and girls will be designated by the maritime commission to christen new ships in October, the war finance division of the treasury department announced today.

Designations will be based on results of 11 sectional competitions being conducted by newspapers participating in the treasury's "newspaper boys for victory" program.

All expenses of the winners and their mothers up to the nearest first class maritime commission shipyard will be assumed by the local newspaper which they will represent at each ceremony.

The maritime commission will hold the launchings either on October 7, national newspaper boy day, or the nearest day possible in accordance with the readiness of the vessels for launching.

BROWNELL PREDICTS LABOR TO VOTE GOP

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., asserting that "a larger percentage of union labor will vote the republican ticket this year than we have seen for many years," said today one reason "is that they believe Dewey and Bricker will furnish real jobs in the postwar era instead of any makeshift dole."

"The workers realize," he said at a press conference at national headquarters, "that under the new deal no constructive program to solve the lack of jobs in the Roosevelt depression was carried into effect."

Continuing his discussion of labor, Brownell said "AFL and Railroad Brotherhood officials have been outspoken against the open drive of the Hillman-Brownell faction to dominate the entire new deal campaign—a drive which has created great resentment and has brought many more union members under the Dewey-Bricker banner."

He referred to Sidney Hillman, head of the CIO political action committee, and Earl Browder, president of the communist political association.

Nelson Leaves On First Leg of Trip

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson has begun his first leg of a nationwide economic mission to the west coast today.

Nelson and Maj. Gen. J. Hurler were selected by President Roosevelt for a mission to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Here it is, MEN!

A FINE RAILROAD JOB AT ABOUT $220 BASE PAY

Active and important work with a company whose biggest war job STILL lies ahead!

These two jobs are not ordinary, everyday jobs. They call for action. They've got a real challenge in 'em for men who like to work at a good job and for a good outfit. These jobs are absolutely vital in keeping the war trains rolling. Look them over.

- 1. STUDENT SWITCHMEN. You've got a locomotive to help you on this job . . . switching trains and cars . . . cars from the N. Y. Central, Milwaukee, Union Pacific—every road in the nation . . . cars loaded with guns, tanks, half-tracks, war materials. No experience to start. A couple of weeks training and you're a full-fledged Switchman who can really keep 'em humping. You work with an engine crew, get around, see things move, see railroading on the ground floor. About $220 base pay after training. (Some Switchmen average a whale of a lot more when there's overtime). Fine pension plan. Railroad pass privileges. Medical services. Good gang to work with. A job for a real man.
- 2. STUDENT BRAKEMEN. Maybe we shouldn't say "Student" Brakemen. Because after about 2 weeks' training you'll be a real honest-to-goodness operating Brakeman. You'll form a team with the Conductor and Engineer. You'll ride the trains, learn railroad lingo, meet a lot of people . . . do a job that's one of the most interesting on the entire railroad. If you're a sincere, reliable man who wants not only good money but a real chance with an established company—one whose biggest war job still lies ahead—by all means look into this right now. It's a job we think you'll like.
