

Guests this week have been complimented with parties and teas, livening up the summer social whirl. Here from Corcoran, California, is Annie Robinson who is visiting with Rose Macartney at her home on Washington. The two girls left Friday for Spokane where they will visit another school friend, Julie Crommelin. Rose is a student at Stanford University. Visiting with Joan Campbell at her home on Pacific Terrace is Josephine Fraser of San Francisco. She will be here until the end of the month. Both girls are students at Mills college in Oakland. —Wesley Guderian

Houseguests:

Junior Hostesses Active This Summer

Hostesses for a picnic to be given tomorrow, Sunday, will be members of the Junior Hostess organization who have invited about 65 servicemen to be their guests at Moore Park. Transportation for the men will be furnished but the girls are to provide their own transportation to and from the park. All those not having a way are asked to meet behind the high school at 10:30 where they will be met. Those girls able to take cars are also asked to meet there if they have extra room. This is another of the many activities being carried on by the Junior Hostess organization this summer.

The group was formed last spring when the military installations came into this area. There was a request for dances where the men would have a nice time and could meet Klamath girls. There has been an average of at least one dance a week during the summer where the girls from the organization are hostesses.

The girls were organized from a list of those who had good character references and who could meet certain qualifications. They include girls who are Juniors and seniors in high school and many girls who are college students out of town and many other girls who are employed in Klamath Falls.

Those attending Klamath Union high school had to be approved by the dean of women and references of all other members were carefully checked. Many of their dances have been given at the Elk's temple and at the American Legion hall where men and women from the Klamath naval air station, the Klamath Falls Marine Barracks, and Camp Tulelake were invited. Members of this group, along with the Commandeers and their hostesses, were also guests at a dance given at the Marine Barracks last Saturday night.

A group of the girls have also given some of their Monday evenings to give dancing lessons to about 40 men from the Marine Barracks. These lessons are held in the Legion hall.

Sojourners Picnic

Sojourners annual picnic held at Moore park this last Wednesday afternoon was a most enjoyable event attended by a large group of members, their children and guests. Chairman was Mrs. Glenn Jones.

The next regular meeting of the Sojourners will be held on September 13 at the Willard hotel with a luncheon at 12:15 and cards at 1:45. Mrs. S. B. Hopkins will be hostess for the day. All newcomers to the city are welcome to attend.

Garden Group

Mrs. Horace Getz will be hostess at her home at 511 Pacific Terrace this coming Monday, August 28 at the regular meeting of the Klamath Garden Group. They will meet at 2 p. m.

Mrs. G. A. Krause, a judge for the National Iris Society will talk and give a demonstration on the correct division, trimming and planting of irises.

C. H. Mueller will give a demonstration and talk on the transplanting and dividing of shrubs. This should be of special interest as now is the time to divide the shrubs.

Anyone who has extra iris plants is reminded to save them to give to the Marine Barracks. Members and prospective members are urged to attend the meeting. There will be a representative present of the Library club membership committee to receive dues.

Lawn Supper Event Given for Clubs

Climaxing the vacation season was the lawn supper given Monday evening, August 21, at the Sheldon Brumbaugh's country home near Olene for the Soroptimist and Business and Professional Women's clubs, which was the final informal gathering for both groups before resumption of regular meetings in September.

The supper was served buffet style in an attractive garden setting with places set for about 50 at tables grouped about the lawn.

Special guests enjoying the evening included Mrs. Bernard Dubel, Lt. Jean E. Morrison and PFC Elizabeth Sanders of the WACs, Ebba and Ethel Wicks, Ina Patty and Twyla Ferguson, hostess of Soroptimist House.

Rose Poole recounted a number of highlights of her trip to New York this summer and of her attendance at the biannual international conference of Soroptimists, held at St. Louis.

Norma Miller, president of BPW, reported on the recent district conference held at Dorchester House on the coast, and urged all members of her club to pay up their dues by September 1, after which date a penalty will be added.

Mrs. Brumbaugh, president of the Soroptimist club, who presided as hostess, was assisted by Josephine Penrod, Stella Bowne and Nell Olsen.
