RE DANGER AT RECORD POINT HERE

w humidity, late summer es in the woods, and in- ing human carelessness combined to make the fire d especially bad at this d, according to Charles manager of the Klamath Protective association. said there have been sev- man-caused fires in this recently.

t weather of the past few has added to the danger, number of fires, breaking in hazardous places, have checked by quick work good luck.

e such fires occurred on the Klamath Indian reservation —one in the Black Hills and the other above Chiloquin. A 95-acre fire at Worden was started by an elderly man who suffered a stroke soon afterwards, and apparently was in a daze at the time, foresters reported.

Fire crews are dwindling at this time as boy members return to Klamath Falls to prepare for entering school.

SALEM, Aug. 30 (AP)—Governor Earl Snell, greatly worried about forest fire hazards which he said were the greatest in many years, urged today that people stay out of the forests.

Handicapped by inadequate fire protection forces, the state forester's office was holding its breath today in fear that a major conflagration might break out.

The governor said logging operations have generally ceased throughout western Oregon because of low humidity and high temperatures. Logging stops when the humidity goes below 30 per cent. At Medford the humidity dropped to 8, the conditions being similar to those of eight years ago during the disastrous Bandon fire. The humidity at Salem fell to 28.

"Extra precautions must be taken to prevent a major fire," the governor said.

AUTHORITIES PUT BOYS ON PROBATION

Two boys who narrowly escaped seriously wounding or killing a woman Saturday when a shot fired by one of them went through the wall of a house and missed the woman's head by two inches have been placed on probation by local juvenile authorities. They will not be permitted to use guns of any kind for some time.

Harold Hendrickson, head juvenile officer, suggests that parents never allow their children to take out guns unless they are accompanied by an older person who is experienced in the use of rifles.

Shooting inside the city limits is a violation of a city ordinance, and Sheriff Lloyd Low reminds all potential marksmen that they will be held liable for any damage to property or any injury to persons wherever they are shooting.

Targets should never be placed on the top of a hill or any place that the person shooting the gun cannot see where the bullets go when they miss the target.

INDIA'S ILLITERACY

India, the land of immense wealth and home of one-fifth of the world's population, with natural resources rivaling those of the United States, is 90 per cent illiterate. Only 39 per cent of its people are well nourished, and 80,000,000 of them are perpetually hungry.

Sgt. Finley Now Employed at Office In Klamath Falls

Sgt. Les Finley, who has been the marine recruiting officer in Klamath Falls for over two years, is now employed at the U. S. employment office, following his discharge from the marine corps, August 16 at Portland.

Finley served four years previously in the marine corps. He enlisted in 1915 and traveled with the corps to all parts of the Orient. Before his recent enlistment, he was employed as general foreman on the water department by the local power company, serving with the company for 17 years.

FORT KLAMATH SETS JUBILEE SATURDAY

FORT KLAMATH — Honeysuckle, a six-month-old white-faced Hereford calf, will be sold at the Old Fort Jubilee on Saturday night, September 2, at Fort Klamath.

This will be one of the highlights of the entertainment sponsored by the Civic Improvement club with most of the proceeds going to the buying of Christmas gifts for Fort Klamath boys now in service. The rest of the money will be used to help defray expenses of having a new frame put around all the servicemen's and women's pictures to be put on exhibition at the GI clubhouse.

Twenty-six marines from the Klamath Falls Marine Barracks will be guests at the jubilee, bringing some of their talent with them.

Other features at the entertainment will be bingo games, and dancing and dining from 10 until 1 a. m., with a four-piece orchestra. Prizes will be awarded for the best waltzers and square dancers.

Branch Office to Be Moved to Klamath

Due to the increased need for civil service employes in Klamath Falls since the establishment of the navy and marine bases here, the civil service commission will move its branch office from Medford to Klamath Falls, September 1.

Eugene Liljenquist, who has been in charge of the Medford office for some time, will set up headquarters at the U. S. employment office here, and persons interested in civil service jobs in Klamath Falls or in other parts of the country may contact him there.
