

Armor Units Bag Enemy Planes in Orleans Mop-Up

By HAL BOYLE
 ORLEANS, France, Aug. 29 (Delayed)—It is a rare day on the battlefield when armor units bag enemy planes, but when the Americans were cleaning up around Orleans our tank destroyers came up so quickly on one airfield a few miles north of the town they caught a bunch of German planes sitting on the ground.

Some of the tank destroyers crashed right through hangar buildings and ran right over the planes, crushing them. Other units just blew them just cut loose with their guns and began whanging their shells into the planes. It took only a few seconds to turn them all into bonfires.

PEC. Thurman McGree of El Dorado, Ill., said "our boys really shot the hell out of them."

Caught by Surprise
 Most of the German fliers, he related, were caught by surprise.

"They took off and ran to the woods," he said, but "we caught them. Those fliers were so used to riding in airplanes they didn't want to hoof it very far and most of them gave up pretty easily."

"One bunch of 40 surrendered to one of our 49 mm ack ack gun crews. They threw away their arms and crawled out of the woods. They don't like to fight much on the ground."

Blown to Bits
 One American tank did another job on three trucks loaded with jeeps outside Orleans. They just blew them to pieces. We learned later that the Germans were coming to Orleans from Paris on a three-day furlough.

McGree and two of his friends, Sgt. Richard Rossman of Racine, Wis., and Pvt. Cleo Miles, Davis City, Iowa, pried out plates of unbreakable glass from the cockpits of several wrecked enemy planes. These are among the most sought after items of soldier souvenir hunters.

Scavenger Hunts
 There is always a race between the air corps and ground troops to get to captured air fields to strip enemy planes of equipment.

"If you don't get issued what you want in the army you have got to go out and find it or make it," declared Rossman.

"I wish I could find a portable foxhole; I get tired of digging," he added.
 After inspecting the wrecked field and its equipment Lt. Parker Frederick of Midvale, N. J., an aviation engineer, said the Germans had abandoned 5000 unused bombs.
 McGree said it was a shame to waste "all those nice bombs" and suggested that "we ought

ALUMINUM PLANTS TO CUT OUTPUT

SPokane, Aug. 31 (P)—The northwest aluminum industry is expected to cut production by 10 to 15 percent in the next few months. The Aluminum Company of America, which produces about 9,000,000 pounds of aluminum ingots last night, is expected to cut production by 10 percent. The monthly production figures, and reduced output of the light metal to less than half the peak of 12,000,000 pounds a month early last winter.

The Aluminum Company of America plants, including one at Spokane, Wash., also were ordered to cut production, although reductions were not available.

A government-owned plant in Los Angeles, producers of 15,000 pounds monthly when operating at capacity, was shut down in July. Production had been 9,000,000 pounds.

Spokane plant, with a production of 18,000,000 pounds and July production of 9,000,000 pounds, was cut one-third of capacity. The plant was given a 3- to 40 percent reduction as compared with its July production of 12,000,000 pounds.

More than 1000 workers will be affected by the reduction, said, with 500 of these let go by the closing of the Los Angeles plant. In Spokane, operations will be reduced because of the reduction because of already existing manpower shortage.
