German Control, Postwar Security Slated for Talks

ed States, British and Russian foreign ministers in their meeting at Moscow last fall. But that highlights another problem which the president and prime minister will encounter: What about Stalin?

Now the Anglo-American armies are within possibly a few weeks of meeting Russian armies in crumbling Germany and Anglo-American diplomacy must meet Russian diplomacy in every corner of Europe.

Some observers here are privately expressing surprise, therefore, that none of the numerous reports from Washington and London on the next meeting have spoken of Russian representation. In the absence of such indications it is assumed that Russia will be kept closely informed of developments, and that no conclusive actions will be taken which are not fully approved by the Russians.

HEAVY LOSSES INFLICTED BY ALLIED ARMIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Allied armies in northern France have inflicted more than 400,000 casualties on the Nazis since D-Day, General Eisenhower reported today, including the destruction of 25 enemy divisions and the severe mauling of 18 additional divisions.

In a report on operations in northern France from the landings on the beaches up to August 25, Eisenhower, supreme commander of the allied expeditionary force, reported that the German seventh army and the newly-formed fifth panzer army have been "decisively defeated," dragging down with them the bulk of the fighting strength of the enemy's first and 15th armies.

Five Destroyed
"The equivalent of five panzer divisions have been destroyed and a further six severely mauled, including one panzer grenadier division," said the report submitted by Eisenhower to the war department.

He added that among the costs to the allies in this achievement was the loss of 3000 planes by the airforce in supporting the ground operations.

20 Divisions Ousted
The equivalent of 20 infantry divisions have been eliminated, he said, and a further 12 very badly cut up and have suffered severe losses. Included in this total of infantry divisions are three of the enemy's crack parachute divisions.

In addition, one parachute division and two infantry divisions have no hope of escape from the fortress ports of the Brittany peninsula in which they are marooned. One infantry division is isolated in the channel islands.

"Total enemy casualties amount to over 400,000 killed, wounded and prisoners of war, of which over 200,000 are prisoners of war," Eisenhower reported. "Of these prisoners, 135,000 have been captured since July 25. The total continues to mount.

"One thousand three hundred enemy tanks and over 20,000 motor transports have been captured or destroyed.

"About 500 assault guns and 1500 field and heavier artillery guns have been captured or destroyed. In addition, the enemy has suffered very heavy losses in coast artillery equipment."
