SOUR GRAPES?
BETHLEHEM, Pa.—A soldier who claimed "canning is my hobby" tried in vain to coax a sugar certificate from the ration board without the necessary stamp. He left, disgusted and with these words:
"Well, I guess my good wine will spoil this year—thanks to you."

ERROR
LOS ANGELES—Man made a huge mistake, from a health standpoint, by learning to stand on his two feet, says Dr. D. J. Metzinger.
He told the 22nd annual National Chiropractic convention: "In his upright position man is forever trying to keep his balance, which throws the neck vertebrae out of alignment and crowds vital organs of the body into the viscera."

SAFETY
SAN FRANCISCO—Aged Ed Kenneally will hobble in safety to get his occasional glass of beer at Ma Pederson's taproom across the street from his waterfront hotel.
The retired teamster wrote Mayor Roger D. Latham he had "several times been knocked for a loop" across the busy truck approach to the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge.

HOME WORK
TOPEKA, Kas.—Michael T. Birmingham, anti-aircraft gunner on a carrier, who is home on leave after a year of sea duty in the Pacific, just can't get away from it all.
He went to the movies the other night. And there he was, back in the Pacific, in the news reel.

VARIETY
BOISE, Idaho—Beer Revenue Director W. B. Trowbridge ordered 2000 cases of beer removed from the state because, he said, it was "bottled in everything from catsup to pickle bottles."

CAW CAW AND HAW HAW
CHICAGO—Sgt. Thomas Ryan says he was more than surprised when he stepped onto his porch to fetch in the milk and was greeted by a crow's "Hello."
Ryan offered the crow a piece of bread and, he said, the bird took it with a query: "How's business?"
The crow followed Ryan around as he inspected his garden, made other remarks, less intelligible, and then flew away.

Canneries to Bid On Coast Pears

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 31 (AP)—Fifty-six canneries in California, Utah and Idaho will be asked to bid on 20,000 tons of bartlett pears from Oregon and Washington, the regional office of distribution for the war food administration said today.
The 20,000 tons is the amount estimated in excess of Pacific Northwest Cannery's capacity, Donald E. Wilcox, regional fruit and vegetable representative, said.
The WFA will pay transportation costs to canneries in the three states. Growers will receive the support prices of $75 and $43 a ton for No. 1 and No. 2 fruit.

Right to Ration Whiskey Upheld

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 31 (AP)—The state liquor control commission's right to ration whiskey was upheld today by circuit court.
The court rejected the claim of L. B. Sandblast, Portland attorney who brought the test suit, that rationing was prevented by an Oregon law prohibiting limitation of liquor sales except for resale.
Attorney for the commission contended that unlimited sales would quickly deplete state stocks, and lead individuals to resell their purchases.

MODOC DEFENSE COUNCIL SETS MEETING HERE

Modoc county's active defense council was offered and accepted an invitation Wednesday night to hold its November meeting in Klamath Falls.

The invitation was issued by Klamath men who attended a meeting of the council at Adin, with Malcolm Epley, president of the Klamath county chamber of commerce, acting as spokesman for the group. Charles Mack of Weyerhaeuser Timber company, and Jack Almelier and George Missett of the United States employment service, were in the Klamath party, as well as Ernest Kolbe, Western Pine association representative who is now making his headquarters here. John Shaw, Klamath man now located at Tionesta, was another local representative on hand.

The Modoc council members will probably come here on the last Saturday in November. It is hoped arrangements can be made for them to see the Marine Barracks and Klamath naval air station, and the gathering will feature an evening dinner with special entertainment.
Many matters of importance to Modoc county were discussed or acted upon at the Adin meeting. A survey of the county's water resources will be undertaken by the California waters division as a result of council work.

Warm appreciation was voiced at the meeting for help given Modoc people in firefighting by the Klamath Falls Marine Barracks, the naval air station, and Camp Tulelake.

A committee was named to study the question of seeking Sunday mail service for Adin and Bieber.

Harry Edgerton of the Edgerton Lumber company presided at the sessions, held in the Adin high school building.

High Grade Ore Deposits Found

PORTLAND, Aug. 31 (AP)—High grade bauxitic ore deposits in northern Washington county of Oregon, about 30 miles northwest of Portland, were reported today by the state department of geology and mineral industries.
Potential tonnage will run into millions, the report said. Surface mining methods appear possible, as the ore is near the surface, covered by moderate thickness of silt.
The deposits were estimated to contain 30-35 per cent alumina; 20-25 per cent iron; 8-10 per cent silica and about 0.15 per cent phosphorus.

Shoe soles generally are made of cow hide.

SHORTNESS OF MAN AIDS IN SEARCH

SEATTLE, Aug. 31 (AP)—Detective Capt. Wesley N. Miller last night shortened considerably the hunt for a young gunman because he found himself too short to hurdle a deadfall log and accordingly crawled under it.

As he poked his head under the log he found himself looking into the weapon of a gunman suspected of holding up the Bellevue Feed store on the east side of Lake Washington. The youth fired three times but Miller's return fire wounded him in both arms and he surrendered.

An officer preceding Miller in the chase over a wooded area had stepped over the log under which the fugitive was hiding. Previously the youth had escaped a hail of fire from two other officers who had attempted to stop him in the stolen car he was driving.

Mrs. H. C. Mueller, who faced the robber in the holdup, reported $147 was taken.

Highway Bill Acceptable to Oregon, Says Snell

SALEM, Aug. 31 (AP)—The federal aid highway bill now in the senate is "very acceptable to Oregon," Governor Earl Snell telegraphed today to Sen. Guy Cordon.
Under the bill, Oregon would spend $16,500,000 a year for the first three postwar years, half of the amount to be contributed by the government and the other half by the state.

The governor urged that the bill be considered soon so that state legislatures, most of which meet next January, may make their state highway plans.
