

MAGINOT LINE SECTION WON; GUNS INTACT

first army was fighting into the face of artillery fire from the Siegfried line and the minefields defending approaches to the forts. Still farther north the British second army broke into Holland at a point 14 miles north of the broken Albert canal defenses.

Shell Aachen

The Americans were less than 10 miles from the German frontier at two points 70 miles apart. They captured Luxembourg, the capital of the Pochet Duchy bordering the Rhineland and Saarland, in one thrust and reportedly threw shells into Aachen, German border city, in the other forward movement.

The biggest air fight since the invasion swirled over the Rhineland and interior Germany. American air forces smashed at gun emplacements blocking the ground assault and at oil refineries feeding power into German resistance.

Reich Shelled

From Nancy and Metz—Patton's sector—north through Luxembourg to Limburg, just below the Netherlands appendix where Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' first army gunners shelled German soil for the first time, the Americans were running into the outer defenses of the Siegfried line.

They were under the fire of German heavy guns along the Moselle. Around Limburg, beyond the captured fortress city of Liege, they were encountering the heaviest minefields seen since they cracked through Normandy.

Near Border

Here the Americans were only 8 1/2 miles from the border and were reported using their Long Tom rifles against Aache, big troop concentration point just two miles over the line.

Aachen stands in the middle of the Siegfried line, with lines of forts running on both its east and west sides. Supreme headquarters did not say where the British crossing into Holland had taken place, but front line dispatches indicated it was on the road to Eindhoven, 50 miles northeast of Antwerp and at a point about 35 miles from the German border.

YANKS REACH NAZI GOTHIC DEFENSES

skirts of Pistoia and occupied high ground dominating the town from the northeast while elements of the 92nd infantry division reached the Gothic line defenses at Zezera, 6 1/2 miles northeast of Lucca.

Presumably content to wait until they get back into the northern Apennines, where the terrain is ideal for defense, the nazis offered scant opposition to the fifth army although some enemy shells fell on patrols which took Monte Mignano, 13 miles due north of Florence.

Meet Resistance

Stiffer resistance was met near Italy's west coast where the Americans made more crossings of the Serchio river and Vecchiano, five miles north of Pisa, was occupied. The river crossings brought the doughboys into extensive minefields and mortar fire. The enemy air force also was active in that area, dropping a number of bombs Saturday night.

Fierce German resistance held the eighth enemy offensive against Reimini and the avenue into the Po valley to a standstill.

On the five miles front between Coriano and Gemmano, a short distance inland from the coast, the fighting is still "heavy and bitter" with casualties on both sides heavy," a headquarters statement said.

Klamath Consumes More Water, Report Of Manager Shows

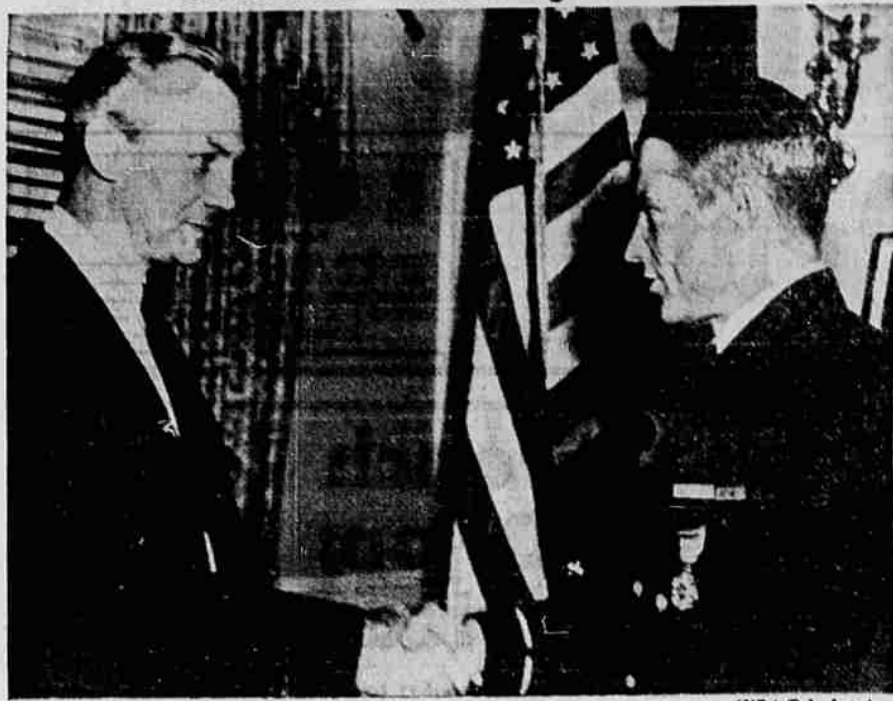

Thirty-five million more gallons of water were consumed here during August than during the same month last year, representing a 24 per cent increase, according to S. I. Ritchey, district manager of the California-Oregon Power company.

Pumpage during the month from the Conger avenue station reached 179,030,250 gallons with 6,456,750 put out during the peak day, August 28. During August, 1943, 144,204,750 gallons were used, and 5,445,000 gallons was the highest daily record for that year.

Highest day's pumpage of this August was within a few hundred gallons of the record set on July 13 of this year and about 1,000,000 gallons above the highest day's out-put of August last year.

FDR and gosh how it dreads it. Thinks Texas will do likewise.

He says Eleanor is ruining the South by elevating the niggers up to notions and the Lord only knows where it will all end.

THESE colored boys and girls who are swarming northward are letting themselves in for a peck of trouble, he thinks, for down home they're understood and appreciated for what they are while up North they're kissed by the politicians around election and kicked in the pants all the rest of the time.

"WE know 'em and take care of 'em," he says. "Take my house," he adds. "We've got three left—Old Gabe, who's past 70 but still spry, Aunt Sally, who's well gone in her fifties and a young wench. Among 'em, they take care of the house and the yard."

"We don't pay 'em much, but they never want to a thing and when they need five dollars we give it to 'em."

HE isn't so far off at that. Everybody's talking about "security" in these days, and his colored employees come about as near security, under the system he describes, as anyone can get—nearer, probably, than their cousins up in the Yankee war plants.

Nazis Evacuate Polish Fortress

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The south Poland fortress town of Korsno, 17 miles from Czechoslovakia, has been evacuated by the Germans, the Berlin radio announced late today.

Korsno lies in the Carpathian foothills, 85 miles southeast of the great Polish city of Krakow, key to the war industries of German Silesia. Other troops across the Vistula were reported within 35 miles of Krakow last month and 75 from Silesia.

Churchill, FDR Meet in Quebec

Mr. Roosevelt had come in from south of the border an hour earlier. From the trains, they motored separately up a steep roadway and along the ancient bastions where out-of-date guns overlook the broad St. Lawrence river. The cars wound through narrow gateways of the ramparts of the citadel.

Open Car The president was in an open car with his official host, the Earl of Athlone, governor general of Canada. Churchill followed in another car with Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada.

The president and prime minister had talked animatedly for a few moments at the train. Mr. Roosevelt sat in a big, open car, a Panama hat shading his eyes from a bright morning sun. Churchill stood beside him, attired in a blue Trinity House naval uniform, a cap perched at a jaunty angle on his head and a cigar jutting from his mouth.

They talked of war and victory and of small things. While officials of neither government would comment on the questions which bring the two leaders together for the first time since December, it was reported that:

Military Reasons 1. Churchill suggested the conference for reasons which he described as strictly military. 2. The most immediate military problem—after Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower completed his job of smashing nazidom, is the occupation of Germany and the prevention of chaos in Europe. 3. Britain, the United States and Russia must decide whether and how far to extend the powers of the European advisory commission—now trying to fix the ground rules for the new Europe.

Meanwhile, Russian newspaper dispatches indicated that the protracted lull on the Polish and Baltic sectors of the eastern front is likely to explode at any moment. The timing and direction of the next major thrusts of the red army remained a guarded secret.

Ambassador to London Named

PARIS, Sept. 11 (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle's new cabinet at its first meeting today approved the nomination of Rene Massigli, former foreign commissioner, as ambassador to London.

Gen. Emmanuel D'Astier de la Vigerie, former interior commissioner, announced however, that he had declined the appointment as ambassador to Washington. It is believed De Gaulle will pick someone from the resistance forces for the post to balance the giving of the London ambassadorship to a former member of the Algerian French national committee of liberation.

The wife of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has been in Brazil recently, undergoing medical treatment. During her visit to the United States last year, Mme. AIR SERVICE DISCUSSED AT MEETING HERE

City and chamber of commerce aviation groups met jointly at noon Monday to consider what further may be done to promote early start of regular airline service through Klamath Falls, a matter to be before the civil aeronautics board at a hearing in San Francisco in November.

A complete brief on the city's need for this service has been filed with the CAB. It was decided to make inquiry as to whether the city's representatives may be heard at the hearing, and at least to have official representation there.

It was agreed that the recent establishment of an airway through Klamath Falls, accompanying the extensive development on the Klamath airport and establishment of navigation aids through this region, is proper basis for an optimistic outlook for airline service.

Phil Hitchcock, chairman of the chamber aviation committee, pointed out that Klamath Falls is potentially a producer of a heavy volume of passenger, air express and airmail business.

Gus Krause, of the city aviation commission, suggested that thought should be given now to plans for developing a second airport in the Klamath Falls area, in view of the probability that the big municipal airport will be heavily used by commercial transports and larger planes.

Some place where small, private planes can be based will probably be needed in the big upswing in private aviation activity after the war, he said.

The city, he said, has its hands full with the municipal airport, and the second field should be sponsored by some other group. It was agreed that the field should be located somewhere close to town. The civil air patrol field at Worden, it was stated, is probably too far out to answer the purpose.

U. S. Subs Sink Nine Enemy Ships

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—United States submarines have trimmed nine more ships, three of them fighting craft, from Japan's dwindling tonnage, the navy announced today.

The new tally brings the total of all types of Japanese ships sunk by U. S. submarines to 732, of which 61 are fighting ships and 671 cargo carriers and miscellaneous craft.

portant port of Wenchow, in Chekiang province, 225 miles south of Shanghai. The Japanese already had claimed the fall of Wenchow.

The high command also reported a fresh drive northward from Hoihong peninsula in Kwangtung.

Japanese troops also were pushing in seven columns westward toward Paoching, 63 miles west of Hengyang.

Batter Base Vigorous fighting was reported continuing in the suburbs of fallen Lingling airbase, 78 miles southwest of Hengyang.

In Kwangtung province the Chinese recaptured the town of Toishan, 60 miles south of Canton.

Liberators of the 14th airforce also bombed Kurangou island in Amoy harbor and Mitchells attacked Tien Ho and Whitecloud airdromes at Canton.

Jap Garrison Dies Stilwell estimated that virtually the entire garrison of 2000 Japanese died in the three months siege of Sungshan, the fall of which cleaned the Burma road trucks as far as beleaguered Lungling.

Only nine prisoners were taken at Sungshan (Pine mountain), a central height on a group of peaks towering over the muddy Salween river area in the Burma frontier section.

After wiping out the last snipers at Dole, the Americans also staged a drive northwest toward Auxonne, thus exerting even greater pressure on Dijon.

Enemy Bombed Meanwhile the enemy in the rear southeastern corner of the French Riviera was under bombardment from allied warships.

The navy reported that the American destroyer Hilary P. Jones and the French cruiser Duguay Trouin had a "satisfactory" time Saturday against German shore installations in the Mentone region, near the Italian border.

The destroyer blasted machine gun nests, while the French ship fired more than 450 rounds at enemy batteries, pillboxes and troops.

Plot Ringleader Sentenced to Die

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Karl Friedrich Goerdeler, former Leipzig mayor described as ringleader in the abortive July 20 plot to kill Hitler, has been sentenced to death by a British military court today.

A number of alleged conspirators, including high-ranking officers, already have been killed. The 60-year-old Goerdeler had been designated by the plotters to become chancellor of a new German government which would have sought peace with the Allies.

The six convicted war criminals were named as Ulrich G. Hassell, former Nazi ambassador to Rome; Count Wolf Helldorf, von Helldorf, former police chief in Berlin; Fritz Z.
