New Pine Creek

There will be a regular meeting of the East Side grange this coming Saturday evening at 8:30. If no rains occur in Modoc county it looks as though all grangers who planned to hunt over the weekend can go to grange instead as unofficial rumor has it that the season will be postponed for a while in California. Everyone should be out for grange as plans will then be outlined for the big Booster night, September 30, which is the national Grange Booster night.

A social hour of dancing is planned and a potluck supper will be served.

Mrs. Mabel Westgaard of Simi, Calif., arrived last Wednesday to visit with her daughter, Mrs. Grace Bernard, for a few weeks.

Curri's

FOR girls who like to touch up their hair a little, to keep it the way it is, to make it the way it used to be, or to change it, Curri's For Drugs has almost a department of various products.

Here are the ones I noticed the other day while I was in the store:
Tintz Creme Shampoo, which is a dye and permanent, at $1.00 plus tax. . . . And Tintz Shampoo Soap, a tint, at 50c and no tax. . . . (Because it's soap.)
Roux Shampoo Tint, for all shades, which really is a dye. . . . And Roux Oil Bleach. . . . Both of which are $1.25 plus tax.
"Instant" Clairol, a dye, at $1.25 plus tax. . . . And Clairol Touch-Up Crayon, which also carries a tax on its price of $1.00.

And for blondes only. . . . Lechler's Hair Lightener. . . . With which you can lighten your hair gradually or suddenly, whichever you wish. . . . At $1.00 plus tax.
Curri's is on the corner, you know, at Ninth and Main Streets. . . . But the address is 840 Main Street.

Whytal's

NEW shipment of Blou-Slips, in all sizes, has arrived at Whytal's. . . . Which is wonderful news to anyone who has ever worn one. . . . Because after wearing one of these combination blouse-slip affairs, you're kind of spilted for short blouses that slip out of skirts.

Blou-Slips never ride up, of course. They come with a hilo tailored collar, short sleeves, and the hem of the skirt is fixed so that you can shorten it with a snip of the scissors, or so.
They're wonderful for wearing under uniforms or suits. . . . And the diagonal sharkskin washes easily and irons beautifully.
And the price, $4.95, is less than you'd pay for separate slip and blouse.

See the Blou-Slip, in your size, at Whytal's. . . . Ninth and Main Streets.

Your Store

HERE are a lot of good gifts for servicemen at Your Store, as I discovered yesterday when I was buying wedding presents. . . . And the store will pack them for mailing, if you don't want to put them in one of those pine wood boxes with other gifts.

The line of "His" toiletries. . . . For men, of course. . . . Are ideal for men in the service. . . . Especially the after-shave lotion, talc, hair dressing and shaving cream.

"His" products aren't expensive, for all their high quality and swell fragrance. . . . The highest-priced sets are only $4.50, plus tax.

Then, Your Store has various kits. . . . From little ones called "Commando Kits" containing comb, toothbrush, toothpaste, steeple pencil, and numerous other things, at $2.95 plus tax. . . . To real leather fitted cases that are priced at $10 and $15 plus tax.

And writing portfolios, to make it easier for that man of yours to get off letters to you, from $5.50 to $10.
And leather picture holders of all sizes, to slip your picture in. . . . And handkerchiefs, which men seldom have enough of. . . . And a number of other things that I guess you'd better see for yourself at Your Store. . . . 721 Main Street.

Whytal's

THE new Jean Lang dresses have arrived at Whytal's. . . . The darlinest wool creases you ever saw. . . . Just a little different than you've ever seen, with clever touches that make it hard for a gal to decide on only one.

Marge Whytal is a gal who had her heart set on one particular Jean Lang dress, though. . . . It was black and charcoal. . . . She saw it while unpacking, decided she'd buy it for herself. . . . But her back was turned a moment later and somebody sold it. . . . Before it even had a price tag on it. . . . "And I'd have given half my life for that dress!" Marge told me.

These dresses come in one and 2-piece styles. . . . (They're arriving every morning, luckily.) . . . They're good for any age, and come in sizes 10 to 20. . . . Are ideal for high school or college, business, street, or just wearing. . . . And are priced at $19.95 and $22.50.

Whytal's is at Ninth and Main Streets.

Moe's

THE purses made of smallish diamond shaped pieces of lizard and alligator skin are stunning looking, really. . . . And when I saw the price you could have knocked me over with a feather right there in the aisle at Moe's.

These handbags are made from perfect pieces left over from I. Miller shoes. . . . The pieces are stitched together cleverly to make gorgeous purses. . . . At only $9.50 to $14.50.

For the best alligator and lizard, too!
Moe's has a big stock of handbags in right now, ready for the Fall and Winter. . . . There are real leather ones with plastic zippers, in handle and underarm styles, at the amazingly low price of $4.95.

Those of you who depend on Rambler bags. . . . For matrons. . . . Will adore the new ones at Moe's. . . . They are genuine leather, with plastic zippers, too. . . . And are priced at $8.95.

A new shipment of alligator grain calfskin is at Moe's, too. . . . Real leather but simulated alligator that looks like the real thing. . . . In brown, at $8.95 to $13.95.

Garcelon's

HAVE you seen the lovely porcelain horses at Garcelon's yet? . . . They were in the window yesterday, and I couldn't help enthusing when I saw them, myself.

They are colored sort of palomino style, with maroonish bodies and white manes and tails. . . . The horses come in about five or six different styles, all of them beautifully graceful. . . . The coils in two styles.

There are cows and bulls, too. . . . And the cutest little modernistic donkey with green eyes that you ever saw.

They're made by the Laguna Pottery Co., and are priced from $1.95 to $15.
Garcelon's is at 407 Main Street.
