

WEATHER AIDS FIRE FIGHTERS IN NORTHWEST

By The Associated Press
Weather conditions in the Pacific northwest yesterday shifted to the side of the forest fire fighters and except in two Washington locales the situation had eased considerably.

State foresters of western Washington and Oregon ordered logging operations resumed as fire danger receded before rising humidity and lower temperatures.

A remaining danger spot was in Kittitas county near Cle Elum where a fire described by forestry officials as the most serious in that section in years broke fire lines and was burning on a six mile front within a mile of Casland. Fire fighters were hoping predicted showers would be of sufficient extent to aid materially in controlling the blaze.

In eastern Washington a fire spread swiftly over 2500 acres and the small community of Chester, near Dishman, Wash., was saved only by a shift in the wind. Several other small fires in the northern Palouse area caused temporary disruption of power service to Pullman and Moscow, Idaho.

Widespread rains aided materially in checking all fires in Oregon and State Forester N. S. Rogers said the situation, earlier regarded as one of the worst in Oregon history, was greatly improved.

A force of 200 men were mopping up a 1000-acre blaze near Mitchell, Ore., and Rogers said the fire, only one in the state, would be completely extinguished by noon.

Rogers said last night's rains were over all western Oregon, with 12 inches falling at Salem. He said there now is little fire danger in the woods.

Elsewhere on the Pacific slope a 30,000 acre brush and grass fire was spreading unchecked in Fresno county, Calif. A fire which devastated 40,000 acres of timber and brush in Lake county, Calif., was checked after damaging mining and resort properties.

Postwar Planning Limited by Funds

LA GRANDE, Sept. 14 (AP)—Only a small percentage of the improvements suggested by county and city groups in Oregon can be incorporated in postwar plans of the state highway commission, Chairman T. H. Banfield said today.

To expect more, considering the limited funds at the commission's disposal would be "absurd," he said.

Flashes of Life

By The Associated Press
DADDY'S HELPER
HASTINGS, Neb.—Five-year-old Holly Clarke watched her father fill an underground fuel oil tank and decided it was easy. So she did the same thing—with a garden hose.

Now her father is wondering how to get the water out of the tank.

NECROMYSTERY
BILLINGS, Mont.—Police failed to find the body of a man, reported lying in a silo on an abandoned farm. A second report that the body was wedged in between silage and the wall brought the officers back. Again, the body was gone. The police were stumped.

Then Sheriff Herbert Bailey produced a man who admitted that he naps occasionally in the silo, not far from his home.

HERO
WEWOKA, Okla.—Jimmie, 10, and Pearl Martin, 11, saw something moving in the grass, and dived at it—a 5-foot rattlesnake. But "Boy," their little dog, was quicker. He leaped

This Delicious Recipe
Saves Sugar

For jelly making, Concord grapes are best. All blue grapes, however, are NOT Concord. Be sure you get Concord when you ask for them.

CONCORD GRAPE JELLY
1 Cup Concord Juice
1 Cup Sugar
1 Package M.C.P. Pectin

Wash and crush 3½ pounds fully ripe grapes. Add 1½ cups water and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Squeeze out juice. Measure exactly 5 level cups squeezed juice (add water to fill last cup, if necessary) into a large kettle. Add the M.C.P. Pectin, stir well, bring to a boil, stirring constantly. NOW, add the sugar (which has been previously measured), continue stirring, and bring to a full rolling boil. BOIL EXACTLY 2 MINUTES. Remove from fire, let boil subside, skim carefully. Pour into sterilized glasses, allowing ½-inch space for sealing with fresh paraffin.

WHITE GRAPE JELLY
3½ Cups Squeezed Juice
4½ Cups Sugar
1½ Cup Lemon Juice
1 Package M.C.P. Pectin

Use seedless Muscat or Malagas. Wash and stem about 3 pounds of grapes. Add ¼-cup water and simmer, covered, 25 minutes. Squeeze out juice then, using proportions above, follow same procedure as in making Concord Grape Jelly.

RIP VAN WINKLE ALIBI
NEW YORK—A negro youth asked by a judge why he had failed to report to his probation officer for 15 consecutive weeks, replied:

"I was sleeping judge."
Yawning and wearing a dreamy smile he was led off to an indefinite term in the reformatory.

STRANGE SIGHT
PERRY, Okla.—Henry Gengler looked twice to make sure it was a bull's head and not a rooster's sticking up over the roof of the barn. Then he investigated.

The 1000-pound animal had broken out of its pen and onto the roof of the basement barn.
