THREE HURT AS CAR CRASHES GROCERY

Three men were hospitalized, their injuries serious but not considered critical, when a car operated by Fred Joseph Webber, 31, 2720 Crater, failed to make the turn at East Main and Stukel and crashed into the Safeway building at 1:44 a. m. Sunday.

Webber, an employee of Klamath Lumber and Box company, was accompanied by R. P. Borgen, 44, also a Klamath Box employee, and Van E. Fowler, 44, route 3 box 987. All three are at Klamath Valley hospital. City police said that the three were on route from an out-of-town roadhouse at the time of the crash. Webber was unconscious when admitted to the hospital and apparently suffered from internal hurts. Fowler had a bad cut on the head, and was virtually scalped and Borgen has severe bruises and other injuries. No arrests had been made Monday, police said.

KENO TEACHERS GIVEN WELCOME

KENO—A reception was held on Friday evening, September 8, in honor of the teachers at the Keno high school. Singing of a couple of songs by the crowd opened the evening's entertainment. C. A. Waterhouse then introduced the teachers, Alice Lytle, Ethel Puckett, Mrs. Guy Moore, Mrs. Tom Denham and the principal, Harvey Denham. Two of the teachers are new here this year, Mrs. Moore and Mr. Denham.

Following the short programs, games for the children and grown-ups alike were indulged in, after which sandwiches, cake, ice cream and coffee were served in the cafeteria. About 50 persons were present to greet the teachers.

4-H LIVESTOCK SHOW SLATED FOR WEEKEND

Committee members Monday put the final touch to plans for the annual Junior Livestock show, which is slated for Sunday and Monday, September 24 and 25, at the Klamath county fairgrounds arena. The show, Rotary sponsored, attracts boys and girls throughout the county and although not as spectacular as in pre-war years, still remains the highlight of the year for 4-H participants in livestock and dairy circles.

Ed Geary, chairman of the 1944 show, said Monday that some 30 beef exhibitors, 20 lamb, 12 hogs and a considerable number of dairy exhibitors would be on hand Sunday morning when stock will be received. Judging will get underway Sunday afternoon and should be completed by Monday morning.

Judges will be Harry Lindgren and Harry Seymour of Oregon State college.

Auction of all stock, with the exception of the dairy cattle, will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited to participate. There will be no capons offered for sale this year.

Rotarians will be hosts at a dinner to be given Monday at 5:30 p. m. at the Willard for all boy and girl exhibitors and their club leaders, the hour set early in order that the sale could get underway at 7:30. Rex High of Olene will award prizes and there will be a short program.

Assisting Geary is Dick Herzog, vice chairman, and Wallace Bruce, in charge of publicity. Henry Semon and E. G. Glenger will be in charge of weighing. Auctioneer will be veteran Charles Wiese of Tulakela.

Canal Medal Mystery Solved; Boy Lost It

Gunnery Sergeant Milton Ericson, stationed at the Klamath Marine Barracks, has helped solve the mystery created when his marksmanship and sharpshooter medal was found in the irrigation canal recently.

Sgt. Ericson came into The Herald and News office to claim his medal, Monday, after friends had told him about a newspaper story which appeared when the medals were found.

As a possible explanation to why the medal was in the canal, Ericson explained how he had let an eight-year-old boy wear it on his shirt. The pin was bent and the decoration had been lost when the little boy was at play.

POWERFUL

DALLAS, Ore., Sept. 19 (AP)—Mrs. William Boydson folded a newspaper to swat a fly on her window. But she swatted too hard and the improvised swatter went right through the pane.

The fly has given her no more trouble, she said.

Things you may not know about a busy western neighbor

Southern Pacific has been a part of western life for three quarters of a century. We've had our share of brickbats, and we've had our share of praise. Mostly we've been taken pretty much for granted, like the paper boy or the milkman.

Since Pearl Harbor, though, people generally have regarded Southern Pacific and the other railroads with new understanding and appreciation. Now, when the chips are down, they seem to realize how indispensable the railroads really are.

Because of Southern Pacific's strategic location in relation to the war against Japan, we have been called upon to carry an enormous westbound burden. In addition, we are handling vast quantities of raw materials and finished products of greatly expanded western industries, plus an abnormally large east-bound movement of foodstuffs.

The six facts below may help explain the unprecedented burden we are carrying, and why our service to civilians is not as good as we'd like it to be:

- 1 In freight and passenger volume, Southern Pacific is the third largest railroad in America. Only the Pennsylvania and New York Central are carrying a bigger load than Southern Pacific.
- 2 Southern Pacific's 15,000 miles of line (more than any other United States railroad) are predominately single track, requiring the most accurate and exacting kind of railroading.
- 3 Southern Pacific serves more military and naval establishments than any other railroad in the U. S. From New Orleans to Portland an endless chain of air bases and encampments adjoins our line.
- 4 We serve more military meals to personnel of the armed forces than any other two U. S. railroads combined. And, of course, service men and women have first call on our restricted ration points.
- 5 Southern Pacific crosses innumerable mountain ranges, and has to climb more major summits than any other U. S. railroad. It takes more locomotives to pull trains up steep mountain grades.
- 6 Southern Pacific has the main north and south line along the Pacific Coast, serving the principal ports of embarkation from San Diego to Portland. Naturally, troop trains must come first with us.
