

CONCERN OVER CHINA'S ROLE IN WAR SEEN

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—China's future role in the war against Japan is a subject of increasing concern for military and diplomatic officials here.

The big question is whether the American drive across the central Pacific—even though it is months ahead of old schedules—can open a supply route to free China while it is still free and still organized for effective resistance to Japan.

For this reason Pacific strategists are paying closest attention to the speed of the allied drives into Germany. A long-delayed victory in Europe, which would set back the day of full concentration against Japan, could gravely jeopardize China's continued existence as one of the "big four" United Nations.

This is of primary interest to the American government and its army-navy leaders because they want out of China:

1. Manpower resources to crush the Japanese armies in Asia—especially provided Russia does not enter the war.
2. A government capable of preventing Japanese war-mongers and agitators from going underground in China to spring up during the years of peace.

3. A nation that in the immediate post-war years will become a dominant power in east Asia. At present realization of these aims is threatened by the most complicated set of military and political considerations in any allied war theater in the world. As outlined by high-ranking government advisers in China policy the situation shapes up like this:

China has been at war constantly for seven years. For almost five years she has been blockaded—cut off from outside supplies except the handfuls flown in. During this period of blockade the Chungking government has lost close relationship with the people and their local and regional leaders.

These leaders have grown increasingly dissident. The communist groups in north China, long opposed by the government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek, have grown more powerful. Other opposition groups have come to the fore, particularly in Kwangsi province.

Economic difficulties, inflation and shortages have made the lot of the people increasingly miserable. The armies fight without even a minimum of necessary arms. They are in many instances poorly led, and they feel they have less and less to fight for.

ANOTHER TRAIN WRECK OCCURS IN WASHINGTON

OLYMPIA, Sept. 21 (AP)—Western Washington's third train wreck within 48 hours yesterday claimed the lives of two trainmen, C. V. Swanson, Tacoma, fireman, and Donald L. Swcency, Centralia, brakeman.

Seven others were injured as two Northern Pacific freight trains collided about 15 miles south of here.

First of the trio of wrecks occurred Monday night at Castle Rock when a Great Northern freight sidwiped a Northern Pacific freight pulling out of a siding. One man was killed and three injured.

Tuesday morning Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's presidential campaign train crashed into the rear of another train which had stopped at the scene of the Castle Rock wreck. Fifty were injured.

Others hurt were Fred Reiter, engineer; Archie Rhea, fireman; Joe Wallace, conductor, and Merna L. Warner, all of Tacoma.

Hall said both locomotives were hurled from the tracks and were "total losses."

Henry St. George Tucker, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States, told the 52nd annual convocation of the missionary district of Spokane yesterday.

"We do not want to go into these countries and impose on them our own churches," he said. "We want to help them build up their own churches again."

The district executive council named as members at large Rolston, Butterfield, Moscow, Idaho, lay delegate, and the Rev. Alvin B. Potter, Ellensburg, ministerial member. Mrs. Bertram Warren, Walla Walla, was elected women's auxiliary president. New members of the council of advice are the Rev. Mr. Potter; the Rev. A. W. Gilbert, Lewiston, Idaho, and W. D. WOMEN OF NEWELL MAKING DRESSINGS

TULELAKE—Women of Newell who for many months drove to Tulelake to help twice a week in the surgical dressing classes, now have a unit of their own in a wing of the center hospital. The classes are supervised by the four instructors in charge of classes here, Mrs. Ann DeBurr, Mrs. Jess Dieter, Mrs. Earl McFall and Mrs. George Kurtz.

Organization of the class at the center eliminated much of the driving since 16 women usually made the trip from the project to Tulelake. Thirty were present for the initial meeting and the group is doing all of its own cutting.

The Tulelake workers are meeting here just once a week, on Thursday, until November 1. Quota for this district is 1000 dressings a week.

WAVES EXPECTED TO GO OVERSEAS

Approval of the WAVES "overseas" bill by congress is predicted for this fall, permitting members of the women's reserve of the navy to serve outside of the United States, according to a report received by Recruiting Specialist Dan Schreiber of the Klamath Falls navy recruiting station, who has charge of WAVE applications in this area.

The WAVES overseas measure has just been approved by the senate naval affairs committee, following previous approval by congress by the house group.

First place where WAVES will be assigned when the "overseas" bill is passed, probably will be Hawaii, where there is a demand for young women to replace large numbers of trained navy men who will then be released for assignment to service on fighting ships and advanced bases in combat zones in the Western Pacific.

In these days of fixed deductions for any manner of things there are very few calls for voluntary contributions to charity. And now, all our worthy causes are combined into a drive to raise one complete fund . . . to do it once and get it over with.

So wage earners, let's do it in the good old Klamath way. It can't be done without your contribution of a day's pay! Be ready when you're asked. Put it over with a bang!

- Agencies that get the bulk of the money from the Combined Klamath County Community Fund are:
- Boy Scouts

DEWEY PROPHECIES MORSE ELECTION

EUGENE, Sept. 21 (AP)—The election of Wayne L. Morse of Eugene to the U. S. senate was predicted here by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey when he passed through on his way to San Francisco yesterday.

Speaking from the rear platform of his train, Dewey said "We have a comparatively simple job to do if you will help us."

"We have to get a new administration and a republican congress. Then we will have the greatest housecleaning in history. We can wipe out the dismal years of the new deal."

"The magnificent future of this west seems to me to be clearer and clearer every mile that I travel. It's grand to find a whole, enormous section of the United States which the new deal hasn't even begun to spoil."

He paid tribute to the trainmen who had carried on despite injuries suffered in the previous day's wreck at Castle Rock, Wash.

"We have had a beautiful trip down (from Portland) and we have had no train wrecks," the GOP nominee declared.

Soldier's Wife First Under Fire

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Sept. 21 (AP)—Won't Mrs. Dorothy Winters' army husband be surprised, the remarks, when he hears that she was the first member of the family to be under fire.

She was one of two housewives who notified police yesterday that bullets ripped into their home as planes roared overhead. Mrs. Winters, whose husband is stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., said a slug bounced off the kitchen table and hit the floor and that she was hit by bits of shrapnel.

Police forwarded the reports to army and navy authorities, who had no immediate comment.

According to ancient legend, "lizard men" once inhabited Moorea in the Society Islands of the South Seas.
