is pretty valuable to him. It has food and war plants. Its loss would hurt. From Hungary, the Russians could push up the Danube into Austria. The situation there will bear watching.

IN Alsace-Lorraine, General Patton's armored forces are still engaged in a bitter battle with the Germans, who are rushing in new tanks with the paint hardly dry from the factories. Patton is keeping up powerful pressure on the Germans to prevent them from sending adequate reinforcements to the critical lower Rhine area where the all-important battle of the bridges is raging.

IN Italy, the British 8th army has captured Rimini, on the Adriatic, thus outflanking the Germans' Gothic line and opening the way into the Po valley. The Germans seem to be pulling out of Greece and the Aegean islands (including Crete) as fast as they can.

Executive Board Checks Progress Of Community Drive
Still hard at work on the community drive, the executive board of the Combined Community Fund committee will meet Saturday noon at the Pelican cafe to check on the progress of the drive and outline further steps toward putting it over. Chairman John Ebinger will be the principal speaker. Donations are still coming in, but, except for several large checks, contributions have not been as generous as the committee expected. Now in the fund are $30,787.63, not quite half of the drive quota.

Selected Innovations Of New Deal OK'd by Dewey

administration is convinced that we can achieve social security only by surrendering a little bit of freedom for every little bit of security. I believe, I know, that we can achieve real social security only if we do keep our freedom.

"Brutal Ways" Decried
Received in San Francisco by the largest crowds of the campaign, Dewey last night told a crowd of 15,000 persons that "the new deal can see only two possibilities for America—ever increasing regimentation as one alternative end reaction as the other."

"It believes," he declared, "that economic security can only be purchased at the price of freedom. That argument is false. Our people do not want to see this country dragged farther and farther toward complete government control over every aspect of our lives. Neither do we want to go back to the reactionary philosophy of dog-eat-dog."

Dewey said the United States can never return to the old "brutal ways" of forcing wages down when a lot of people were looking for work.

"Those days are never coming back again," he asserted. "They are not coming back because we are never again going to submit to mass unemployment. Government's first job in the peacetime years ahead will be to see that conditions exist which promote widespread job opportunities in private enterprise.

"There are many means to that end, including the creation of foreign markets and the promotion of foreign trade. If at any time there are not sufficient jobs in private employment to go around, then government can and must create additional job opportunities.

"There must be jobs for all."
