

Aloha Chapter

Friendship night will be observed by Aloha chapter, No. 61, Order of the Eastern Star, at the regular meeting Tuesday evening, September 26, at the Masonic temple, Klamath avenue. The evening's entertainment will begin with a potluck dinner at 6:30 o'clock in the dining room of the temple, with Mr. and Mrs. Lyle O. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Delos Mills, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murphy in charge. Meat, rolls, butter, coffee, cream, sugar, and potatoes will be furnished. Members and visiting members are asked to bring either a hot vegetable dish, a salad, a pie, or a cake, and to phone one of the women of the committee what their contribution will be. A musical program will be presented, and a ceremonial address representing the value of friendliness will be featured during the regular chapter session. Mrs. Arthur R. Dickson, worthy matron, and Mr. Earl Tompkins, worthy patron, extend to all members and visiting members a cordial invitation to attend this meeting.

Women of Moose Langell Valley

The Women of the Moose met in regular session Friday, September 15 at 8 p. m. in the Moose hall. The meeting was called to order by the associate dean, Ruby Bell. Following the business meeting Rose Perkins, war relief chairman, presented the chapter night program. The Eagles drum corps presented a drill and Cpl. Funnan, a marine and a veteran of Tarawa, told how lives were saved on the battle field by blood plasma, brought to the forces at the front by the Red Cross. Cpl. Fruchey also told of things the Red Cross does for the boys at the front as well as for those at home, and stressed the importance of salvage of waste paper and fats. The Ladies of the Moose had a large crowd enjoyed the program.

A class of seven candidates was presented by the war relief committee. They were Joan Rife, Rae Blankenship, Delaney Cunningham, Vivian Boshimich, Wanda Phillips, Paula Pine Hendron and Willa Bark. Under the good of the order Edna Jensen received the special award and May Capps the flower fund. Ruby Bell was appointed publicity chairman. There were two birthdays observed, Blanche Dixon and Margaret Dabney. It was decided to change the meeting night from the first and third Fridays of each month back to the former time, the first and third Tuesdays.

The committee chairman of the Women of the Moose met in the Moose hall Wednesday, September 13, with graduate associate regent, Jewell Gieger. The card party sponsored that afternoon, had eight tables in play. High score was held by Mildred Wilkinson, second by Lillian Green, and the special award went to Ruby Bell.

The chairman of the home-making committee, Maude Sergeant, presided over the meeting held Friday, September 15. A potluck luncheon preceded the business meeting, and 10 members were present.

Wed Monday

In a simple wedding ceremony read at 11:30 o'clock Monday morning at the Klamath temple, Mrs. Orlean Jobe and Mr. Robert B. Toogood were married in the presence of a small group of friends.

Officiating minister was the Rev. Daniel B. Anderson.

The new Mrs. Toogood chose a dove grey costume suit with lavender accessories and wore a corsage of roses. Mrs. Timothy Murphy and Mr. O. V. Gibson attended the couple.

Immediately after the ceremony there was a luncheon given for Mr. and Mrs. Toogood in the party room of the Pelican and the table was prettily centered with a bowl of autumn flowers. Places were laid for the bride and groom, Rev. and Mrs. Daniel B. Anderson, Ora Mae Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Rawlings, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Laberee, Mrs. Timothy Murphy of Dunsuir, and Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. Toogood are making their home here.

TULELAKE—Three new brides, Mrs. C. A. Maharry and her two step-daughters, Mrs. Thomas McMackin and Mrs. Jimmie Patrick were honored with a three-way shower at the C. A. Maharry home, Thursday afternoon, September 14. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. F. W. McGuire, Mrs. Alfred Maharry, Mrs. George M. Kasperian, Esth- er Rider and Mary Ellen Maharry.

A host of lovely gifts were received for the new homes. All of the honor guests will make their homes here for the present.

Invited for the afternoon were Mrs. C. H. Moore, Mrs. Grace Molde, Mrs. William Hodges, Mrs. Roy Tilley, Mrs. Alvin Buell, Mrs. Cecil Buell, Mrs. Paul Brown, Mrs. Jay Howard.

Mrs. L. I. Crawford, Mrs. Ruby Williams, Rose McGuire, Lula King, Peggy King, Joanna Patrick, Dolores Leithold, Mrs. Floyd King, Mrs. Christine Leithold, Marlene Buell, Mrs. Phil Leithold, Ollie Moore, Maxine Buell, Jean Minnis, Mrs. Muri Patrick, Lillian Decker, Virgie Hodges.

Married Here

MT. LAKE—A few immediate relatives witnessed the lovely home wedding of Mrs. Bella V. Dawson and Mr. L. C. Regnier on Friday, September 22, at 11 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hugh Bronson of Tulelake Presbyterian church, and formerly pastor at Mt. Lake, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Thompson of Mt. Lake. Mrs. Thompson is a sister of the bride.

The rooms were attractive with bouquets of fall flowers. The new Mrs. Regnier has resided in Klamath Falls for the past 33 years. She, with her two sons, managed the home ranch for the past eight years, until one and one-half years ago when she disposed of the place known as the L. B. Dawson ranch.

Mr. Regnier, formerly of Los Angeles, is now located at Sweet Home, Ore., where the couple will reside.

Refreshments were served, after which the newlyweds left for a short honeymoon. The community extends its very best wishes to the couple.

What's the Rush?

IT'S THE TELEPHONE RUSH.
Every night thousands of service men and women dash to the nearest telephones to talk with families and friends at home. Most of the Long Distance calls from camps and naval stations are crowded into a few short hours.
Many circuits are likely to be crowded at that time and it helps a lot when you keep the lines clear from 7 to 10 for service men and women.

Homemaking Highlights

From the Office of the Home Demonstration Agent

A TELEPHONE symposium on Klamath wild plums, which this department held with several local women, disclosed the fact that, while there are several methods of preserving this famous Klamath basin product, the two favorites are those of making jelly and jam.

MRS. GEORGE WRIGHT offered this time tested recipe for wild plum preserves which Dr. Wright's mother, one of the pioneers of our country, used years ago. She washed and pitted the plums, then added an equal weight of sugar and allowed them to stay in the sun for 24 hours, or until the sugar has been well absorbed into the fruit. Then she cooked them until they reached the consistency she desired.

MRS. EARL GARDNER suggested that they would be especially good as a conserve. A recipe which might be used as a basis is:

4 pounds of plums
2 lemons (juice and grated rind.)
2 pounds seedless raisins
6 cups sugar
2 cups walnuts
Wash plums, remove seeds, weigh fruit. Combine all ingredients except nut meats. Cook until thick. Blanch nut meats 2 minutes, drain, cut or chop. Add to mixture just before removing from stove. Pour into sterilized jars and seal while hot.

MRS. E. A. GEARY, another homemaker who may well be termed an authority on preparation of the fruit, said that she has known of a few early-day residents of the county who dried wild plums. They can then be cooked and used for sauce or they may be eaten out of hand in the dried state.

MRS. HAROLD M. BROWN, whose prowess as a maker of delicious things to eat this column has long held in high esteem, says that she uses Mrs. Wright's method, but she does not leave them for 24 hours. She just pits them, and cooks them with a weight of sugar equal to the weight of the plums until they thicken up.

FOOD MARKETS are featuring two relatively newcomers to the season's fresh food collection in grapes (concord for jelly-making next week, they say) and in the winter types of squash. This week will mark the end of the peach season, pears are at their peak, and tomatoes will become fewer and more expensive from now on.

ONCE MORE may we call your attention to the Christmas sealing service which the office of the home demonstration agent is offering during the overseas mailing period, September 15 to October 15. Edibles which do not require processing may be sealed right in the office, if the homemaker will bring them up. She can purchase the cans there, and labels, in accordance with postoffice requirements, are available.

If you wish to send that man of yours some wild plum preserves, for instance, or other non-liquid food treat, get your neighbors together and make a big batch of jam or jelly. Then Mrs. Gillen, by appointment, will bring the tin can sealer to the gathering, and the food can be safely processed.

MRS. E. J. LAHODA of Mallin came into the office as this column was going to press, and said that she has an unusual and fam-
