HOW ABOUT IT?

Well, the local lads were pretty well snowed under in the first grid tilt of the '44 season Friday nite, but that is no good reason to criticise the team or the new system inaugurated by Coach Marble Cook. In fact, it calls for more fervid support than if the boys had won.

It must be remembered that this was the first game under a new system under a new coach for a new team. The fellows expect your support and they deserve it to the end. Win, lose or draw. Nine Place in Playoffs; Angels Drub Bevos Twice

The Marine Barracks grid eleven will fight their first fray of the current season, Saturday afternoon at Modoc field with the Navycats from Willamette. Local sport fans are fortunate in having some of the top-notch teams of the west coast and northwest scheduled to appear here in Klamath town.

The ball games should all be dingers and will bring daylight football back again. With the marine tilts added to the high school contests, the pigskin season will be nicely rounded out.

would like to put in a reminder to folks to mail Christmas packages to service men and women early, and to be sure that the parcel is addressed correctly and legibly.

Also, we wish to make a suggestion, if we may, concerning Christmas gifts for the armed forces. It has gradually dawned on the American public that sports has been a tremendous factor in winning this war. The performances of Americans, whether from Wayeross, Georgia or Keokuk, Iowa, trained in sports and with the competitive spirit that arises from participation in sports, has been vastly superior to nations trained only in war.

So, when you mail that Christmas box to that boy or girl in service you might consider including an item or two of athletic equipment that will add to their comfort and pleasure.
