

FOREST FIRE IS THE ENEMY

of game and wildlife, as well as forests

This is a great deer hunting country,-- and it is a great forest country. Every sportsman knows that fire is the arch enemy of our game and wild life. And every true sportsman is careful to see that he doesn't set a fire. He knows the rules of the game, and follows them.

The Pride of Klamath

But some hunters are not sportsmen. They are careless with campfire and smoking materials. Such people must be educated, or kept out of the woods. REMEMBER -- Smoke only while stopping in a safe place. Put every match and cigarette stub dead out. Never leave a burning or smouldering campfire unattended. Build it in a safe place, and put it dead out with water,--lots of water.

Present weather conditions point to a continuous dry spell and a dangerous fire condition, unless we get early and heavy rains. Let's all get together and do everything we can to
