WHITE HOUSE CLEANING EYED BY TOM DEWEY

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 28 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, republican presidential nominee, arrived back in Albany today after a three-week trans-continental campaign tour.

The Dewey special train arrived at 9 a. m. (EWT) but the governor and Mrs. Dewey did not leave their Pullman car until 9:30.

They were greeted by approximately 300 persons, who gave them an impromptu reception.

Dewey faced a busy day at the capitol, including a conference with Herbert Brownell Jr., chairman of the national republican committee.

Dewey appeared refreshed as he motored to the executive mansion. He had retired late after several train-stop addresses en route from Tulsa, Okla. In these impromptu speeches, the GOP candidate emphasized that if the republicans win in November he would sweep new dealers out of the government from top to bottom.

"There is a job in Washington which I would particularly like to do," he told a Muncie, Ind., crowd yesterday. "I should like to start the best house cleaning job the government ever got."

DEWEY BEATS ROOSEVELT

NEMAH, Neb., Sept. 28 (AP)—Dewey defeated Roosevelt, 12 to 7, but don't try to collect any election bets. That was the score in a game between two southeastern Nebraska rural school softball teams.

During the first four months of 1944, 2200 planes flew the northern Atlantic route to Russia. American ferry pilots fly the planes from Great Falls, Mont., to Fairbanks, Alaska, where the Russians proceed to Siberia via Nome or Bering Sea.

A new gunsight lamp that enables York gunners to aim directly into the sun and yet fire with deadly accuracy will protect airmen against enemy planes which dive out of the sun to attack.

M'LEOD ISSUES STATEMENT ON RACE ENTRY

Kenneth McLeod, candidate for mayor at the November election, issued his campaign statement today, asserting that if elected one of his purposes will be to "return the city police force to a place of respect of all citizens."

McLeod's full statement follows:

"In filing my petition to place my name for the position of mayor of Klamath Falls upon the November ballot, I do so with sincere appreciation of the problems with which an incoming mayor is bound to be faced. These problems not only deal with the conduct of current civic affairs but also with the post-war development of our community.

"In accumulating signatures for my petition I have personally been brought in contact with a large block of the voters of the city. From a careful analysis of the outside of many interviews I find that there are definite issues which should be considered by the citizens of our community in the selection of a mayor.

"I find that the voters of the city are not satisfied by catch phrases, such as, 'A Business Man for a Business Administration' or by vague superficial campaign promises of promises of conducting the city affairs in a business-like and efficient manner. These are qualifications that the voters demand from any candidate.

"The community is waiting to hear clear-cut, straight-from-the-shoulder statements upon at least two important issues: The first concerns the police department of the city of Klamath Falls.

"In my interviews with many people I have found that the police department during the past few years has lost the respect and confidence of many members of our community. If the citizens elect me to fill the position of mayor, I will endeavor to return the city police force to a place of respect of all citizens.

"The second problem foremost in the minds of many people concerns the question of the closed or open town. The pool hall and beer parlor have attained their place in the American scene of life established and governed by certain legal controls. As long as such establishments conduct themselves upon present accepted standards of decency, I see no reason to curtail their operation; however, should such an establishment overstep the bounds of our accepted standards it becomes the duty of legally constituted authority to correct the situation.

"With our present problems of juvenile delinquency it came as a surprise that some members of the city council should advocate the establishment of penny arcades upon Main street. Such institutions are recognized as breeding grounds of juvenile delinquency. Should I be selected mayor, I will insist that the police force of Klamath Falls, at all times, give assistance to juvenile authorities in the enforcement of juvenile laws.

"Another problem that brings concern to many of our citizens is the apparent lack of a concerted community movement to assist in helping solve the problem of our dwindling industrial life. This is the most vital problem which faces our community and its future development. Should I be elected mayor I will apply the experience and knowledge gained through the practice of industrial management the past 20 years to this problem.

"Should I be selected mayor I will at all times attempt to develop cooperation between all units of our community to the end that Klamath Falls will be a better place in which to live."

PUC SURVEY OF FREIGHT RATES OPEN

The Oregon public utilities commissioner has started a survey of freight rates affecting Klamath Falls and other Oregon points in this vicinity, it was reported to the board of directors of the chamber of commerce this week by Charles Stark, secretary.

He said that the Klamath rate problem was presented to representatives of the PUC on a visit here. The survey will take some time, Stark stated, because comparative figures Chamber directors emphasized at their luncheon this week that the chamber is not on record in any way in connection with a report that the army engineers have considered a possible drainage project for lands around Upper Klamath and Agency lakes.

The chamber has made inquiry concerning this survey, and is asking the army engineers and the fish and wild life service for further information. The land use committee of the chamber has been asked to look after the question of chamber policy regarding any such proposals.
