

Martha Shops and Shops

Garcelon's

ALL is clean-up time for lots of people, so I thought I'd mention a few things I saw at Garcelon's for cleaning in and around the house.

Things like palm-leaf brooms for sweeping walks, yards and basements . . . At 60c . . . Big yard baskets for $2.25 to $2.75 . . . And of course, all kinds of Mexican baskets of all sizes and shapes for every purpose, just about, that you can use a basket for.

Garcelon's has good-looking, serviceable denim garden hats and aprons for women . . . And hobby aprons (with lots of roomy pockets) for both men and women.

And I mustn't forget to mention the Puritan line of house-cleaning . . . Rug shampoo, paint cleaner, silver polish, etc. Garcelon's is at 407 Main St.

Whytal's

NEW shipment of the cutest little bolero dresses you ever saw has arrived at Whytal's . . . And some new wool dresses that are honeys . . . So I'm going to talk about them both.

The bolero dresses come in two styles . . . One is sequin-trimmed, and has a high fitted waist on the gored skirt . . . Three-quarter sleeves.

The other has contrasting braid on the bolero jacket . . . Black on red, red on grey, etc. . . . Very fetchingly done.

Both types of bolero dresses are made of rayon and look like wool . . . And are $19.95.

The wool dresses are in a new combination . . . 85 per cent wool and 15 per cent rabbit hair, which really is all-wool, but gives an entirely different finish to the material.

They are 2-piece affairs . . . One model has contrasting piping on the jacket, and the other has a short belted jacket that is a darling, with buttons down the front of the skirt . . . Both types have long sleeves and are priced at $19.95.

Whytal's is at Ninth and Main Streets.

Currin's

YOU may remember, a couple of months ago, that I wrote about the new Models' Special Make-Up, a new form of cake powder . . . It was at Currin's and came in a wooden case.

Well, it really proved a sensation . . . Not only here but everywhere . . . And Currin's finally has succeeded in getting a re-order shipment, which arrived just this week.

Only this time, Models' Special Make-Up is in a new, flatter plastic case . . . The price is the same, though . . . $1.50, plus tax.

It still comes in five beautiful shades.

The shipment this time also included the newer-still Models' Special Lipstick, created for fashion models and color-styled by them. Just like the Make-Up . . . And they definitely are clothes-conscious shades, those lipsticks . . . $1.00, plus tax, in a plastic case.

At Currin's For Drugs . . . Ninth and Main Streets.

Studio of Beauty

WITH the addition of a full-time operator about a month ago and a part-time one this last week, the Studio of Beauty now is really able to begin to take care of the people who call for appointments.

For a while it was pretty bad, you know, what with the scarcity of beauty operators and the demand for their services.

Fern Short told me the other day that both the new girls are very good at manicures, too . . . Their names are Marian Rudak Rogacki and Charlotte Schroeder, in case you need one!

Even with the new operators, though, the girls are plenty busy . . . Fern said she hoped that customers who don't work would get their beauty work done earlier in the week, because Saturdays the shop usually is swamped with last-minute work . . . Teachers usually come on Saturdays, and a lot of them patronize the Studio of Beauty.

I was able to get an appointment last week on just a couple of hours' notice, however . . . And Fern tells me that there are enough operators now to take care of drop-ins almost anytime.

The Studio of Beauty, you know, is located on the mezzanine at Whytal's . . . And the phone number is 7151.

Shaw Stationery

IF you have been planning on getting a world globe one of these days, you'd better get it now . . . Shaw Stationery has a good stock of all sizes and types at present, priced from $3.75 to $25.00 . . . But there won't be another shipment before Christmas.

There are table models, and floor models . . . You know, the globe sits on a stand just high enough for easy reference while you are sitting down comfortably.

These world globes are Rand McNally-made . . . And each has a handbook explaining how to use them . . . Besides a tag that entitles you, after the war, to a map supplement showing all the changes made in countries between now and then.

At Shaw's you'll find all kinds of maps and atlases . . . The Rand McNally World Atlas is the most famous . . . The Premier Edition is $5.50 and the Readers' Edition is $2.50.

Another World Atlas that took my fancy is put out by Hammond, and includes an Air Age map . . . The kind that shows it's a shorter distance to China by way of Alaska than by way of the Hawaiian Islands . . . And it's only $1.00, for the whole Hammond World Atlas!

Shaw's is at 729 Main Street.

Cal-Ore

GOING through the old files of The Herald and News, I found this little item in the Martha Shops and Shops of Sept. 21, 1939 . . . Five years ago! . . . Here it is:

"A person certainly appreciates having some place to go these evenings when the crisp night air makes you feel like going out . . . There has been so little doing in the way of evening entertainment in town . . . Few dances or parties, because, for some reason, people always wait until the winter 'season' gets underway before they plan activities.

"I'm not the only one who has been thankful that Cal-Ore is just down the highway . . . It's so easy to run down there . . . And it's sort of like having a party yourself, because you always see so many people you know . . . My friends kid me a lot about my raving over Cal-Ore, but lots of them do the teasing down there while they're enjoying themselves, too!"

From the distance of five years, I can now say that I was right, even then!

Your Store

WHEN I was in Your Store yesterday I heard a gal say that she was going to order her Christmas cards right then, because she was too late to get any last year.

I asked Jean Rawlins about it, and she told me that their books of Christmas card samples were called back "way early" last year, before many people had gotten around to ordering their cards . . . Simply because the Christmas card company wasn't able to fill any more orders in time.

She said that right now the length of time you have to wait for your cards to be printed with your name is one week . . . Later on it will be two weeks, and so on . . . Until suddenly you can't order any cards! . . . Not for this Christmas, anyway.

Have you gone through the selection of cards at Your Store? . . . I mean the ones you have your name printed on . . . They are exceptionally lovely, even though not expensive.

Prices range from $3.50 for 25, or $8.00 for 100 . . . Up to $8.50 for 25, or $28.00 for 100.

There is no reduction in cost if you don't want your name printed on them, incidentally.

Your Store is at 721 Main Street.

FEW VETERANS APPLY FOR GI ALLOWANCES

With several thousand of Oregon's service men already demobilized, only a few so far have taken advantage of the readjustment allowances for out-of-work veterans under terms of the G-I Bill of Rights passed by congress in June.

The first $20 check went out this week from the state unemployment compensation commission, which has been designated by the veterans administration to handle Oregon payments.

Recipient of No. 1 check was Glenn Lewis of Baker, while No. 2 went to Roy Sutton of Salem.

In the three weeks during which claims have been taken at 22 U. S. employment offices, 15 veterans have asked allowances and three have continued claims into the second week.

Under the bill's terms, 52 weeks of payment may be made within two years after discharge or the end of the war. Partial allowances also are made for qualified workers who earn less than $23 a week or for self-employed veterans making less than $100 a month.

Acting as readjustment allowance agent for the veterans administration in Oregon is Arthur Heer, who formerly was with the state unemployment commission.

River Travellers Reported Overdue

LEWISTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Amos Burg, Portland, and Charles Wheeler, San Francisco, are overdue on a boat trip down hazardous Hell's canyon, sponsors of the trip said yesterday.

River residents as far as 30 miles up the Snake have reported by phone that they had seen no sign of the boat. The pair had planned to leave Huntington, Ore., in time to reach Lewiston Tuesday or Wednesday.

Truman Scores GOP Men As Bureaucrats

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 28 (AP)—Sen. Harry S. Truman, the democratic nominee for vice president, declared during a speech to a Missouri-wide Elks convention:

"If you stand on Pennsylvania avenue on Washington and throw a brick at a bureaucrat, the odds are 2 to 1 that you'll hit a republican."

Trains ride smoother in hot weather because of rail expansion.

CUT IN OUTPUT OF WORK CLOTHES EYED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Production of civilian work clothes is likely to be cut further during the next three months, the office of war information said today. It added that consumer cotton goods items generally will be less available and of mediocre quality for some time to come.

In a report based on data from the war production board and the foreign economic administration, OWI said that a current scarcity of cotton goods for civilians, now described as greater than at any period during the war, is expected to continue for one to two years after the collapse of Germany.

The civilian market will have 5,000,000 fewer pairs of overalls than first planned for October 1, the report said.

Civilians also will have to do with little more than half of the toweling they bought in 1939 and can get no work shirt chambray at all, it added.

The military has first call on the better fabrics as well as priorities on production. OWI said that when hostilities end in Europe, export demands for cotton are expected to double because of relief needs.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Two Klamath WACs were among the 600 members of the Women's Army Corps stationed in Italy to parade September 1 in recognition of the first anniversary of the formation of the corps as a component of the United States.

In the line of march were Sgt. Pauline Suty of Merrill, and PFC Adeline Houck of Klamath Falls.

Sgt. Edward Ybarra, former Klamath youth, would like to hear from the folks at home, old friends and new. He is somewhere in Italy and has been promoted to the grade of sergeant.

Said Sgt. Ybarra, "I have had the opportunity of visiting Oran, Algeria, Naples and Florence since leaving the States in April of this year. I spent about 30 minutes in Rome as we came through that city, and I've seen many ancient cathedrals and statues and even the Vatican City from a distance. Sgt. Merle Aiken, also of Klamath Falls, has been with my outfit since its re-activation at Camp White in 1942."

Sgt. Ybarra's address may be had from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ybarra, 2153 White. His wife is the former Mary Ware of this city.

SF2/c Leonard J. LaCroix, whose wife, Grace, lives at 632 Oak, is now serving with the Seabees in the South Pacific. LaCroix' outfit built an auto-

Fire On Patrick's Creek Controlled

GRANTS PASS, Sept. 28 (AP)—A blaze which blanketed 200 acres of timber on Patrick's creek, California, and destroyed two cars and several cabins was under control today.

Eight Grants Pass high school boys, employed in Siskiyou National forest during the summer, rushed fire-fighting equipment to the blaze Monday. Additional crews, arriving later, helped youths check the flames.

Technically speaking, a fire does not have thorns, they prickles.
