Beauty IS YOUR DUTY

By RITA WHISENANT Licensed Cosmetologist

DO hope you are taking advantage of sunny days by washing your hair in the sunlight once in a while, and whenever possible, drying it in the sun, too. We all know that going bareheaded for hours and drying the scalp and making it brittle, but the sun serves as a swell tonic.

SUPPLEMENT your professional oil treatments with a new at home. We've a special conditioning oil, made by a firm famous for its hair preparations, which will be most helpful in getting your scalp in good condition. It's a luxurious blend of oils, grand to use both before and after permanents.

FIRST, heat the oil slightly, then apply with a small piece of cotton all over the scalp. Daub some oil on the ends of the hair, too. Wrap it around your head to help steam the beneficial oils into the scalp. You'll find the steaming towel has the most relaxing effect on your whole nervous system.

THEN, out into the sun for about a half hour while you massage the scalp with the fingertips. Next, rinse the hair with warm water, making sure all oil is removed. Out into the sun again, and brush dry. Let the breeze whip through your hair.

FOR helping to coax the hair into soft, lustrous waves, you also have a permanent wave which is grand. Spray on with an atomizer. It forms a light, delicately scented mist that is non-greasy and non-sticky, yet helps the hair stay in place.

Young Artists Present Play

Nine enterprising young actresses donated $75 to the Red Cross headquarters here this week. Their contribution was the proceeds from a comedy entitled "Business, Merely Business," which they produced themselves and put on in Bly and Weyerhaeuser Camp 6 this summer.

The girls all have regular jobs and had to rehearse for the show in the evenings. They paid their own traveling and production expenses.

The money will be used to purchase comfort kits for soldiers who are going overseas, reports Mrs. Lena M. Dennis, executive secretary of the Red Cross headquarters here.

Janet Protzman, who was a candidate in the recent Miss "P" math contest, directed the show. In the cast were Reba Lyboud, Gwen Ashbough, Verlye Kaster, Shirley Harris, Jessalee Keffeler, Betty Abbott, Yvonne Stonebreaker and Marie Patzke, whose husband is a prisoner of war in Germany.

The nine girls are working on a talent review now, which they hope to show at military installations here this fall.

Captain David Goehring, who is stationed at a port of embarkation in Louisiana, was a recent visitor in Klamath Falls with his family on Manzanita street.

Mrs. William Bishop entertained at her home on North Ninth, Wednesday evening, September 27, with a shower for Mrs. Joseph Derrah. Fall flowers and appropriate novelties decorated the table. Games were played, and gifts were presented to the guest of honor.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. C. M. Stanley, Mrs. B. A. Lalonde, Mrs. K. M. Peterson, Mrs. Louise Felt, Mrs. Anna Mason, Mrs. Florence Athey, Mrs. Fred Stentler, Mrs. Burt Schuh, Mrs. Louis Thurber, Mrs. Jack Daily, Mrs. Frank Derrah, Mrs. Hiram Thurber, Mary Bellotti, Mary Bishop, Mrs. Leo Kampe, Mrs. John LeFever, Mrs. Frank Ferrari, Mrs. Emil Pastora, Mrs. William Cooley, Mrs. C. Mallow, Mrs. Gubbins, Mrs. W. Doyle, Mrs. Herbert Felt, Mrs. Victor Bellotti, Mrs. E. Tacchini, and Mrs. Wiles.

Mrs. Bishop was assisted by Dorothy Derrah, Mrs. Laurence Derrah and Nancy Derrah.

Friendship Night Observed by OES

More than 150 members of the Eastern Star gathered at the Masonic temple Tuesday evening to celebrate friendship night, an annual event in the yearly program of Aloha chapter, No. 61, Order of the Eastern Star.

A potluck dinner was served in the downstairs dining room. Table decorations were in mountain ash berries and Virginia creeper. A bowl of Mexican zinnias centered the head table, and crepe paper table covers with patriotic designs were used. Responsible for the table arrangements were Mr. and Mrs. Lyle O. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Delos Mills, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murphy.

Delightful musical numbers were presented by guest artists during the regular session in the chapter room. John R. Best of the musical department of KUHS entertained with two cello solos, accompanied by Mrs. Best at the piano, "The Evening Star" by Wagner, and "Spanish Serenade" by Glauzinov. Mr. R. E. Metler of Spokane, Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Metler at the piano sang two numbers, "The Builder," by Cadman, and "Without a Song," by Yeoman.

A beautiful addenda illustrating the lessons in friendship taught by the Eastern Star was carried out by the following: Mrs. George Casper, Mrs. H. E. Getz, Mrs. Arthur Dickson, Mrs. Clarence Humble, Mrs. E. E. Metler, Mrs. Ted Huey, Mrs. Wallace Uerling, Mrs. H. E. Nitschlem, Mrs. Herman Gisvold, and Mrs. Elmer Harnden.

Five southern Oregon chapters joined Aloha chapter in this celebration. From Alpha chapter No. 1, Ashland were: Loren McNair, grand conductress of the grand chapter of the Eastern Star for Oregon; Louise Daugherty, worthy matron; Adelaide Clary, Dolly Stevens, John Daugherty, and Ray Clary, Oriental chapter, No. 5, Lakeview, was represented by Mrs. Ida Umbach, past worthy grand matron of the OES for Oregon; Bernice Moffitt, worthy matron; A. E. Rugg, worthy patron; Margaret Rugg, Yvonne Dalen, and Katherine E. Gott, treasurer.

From Tulelake chapter were: Carrie Golden, worthy matron; George Fisher, worthy patron; Gladys Laird, associate matron; A. A. Rodenberger; associate patron; Ruth Boyd, Evelyn Haggerty, Ruth Rodenberger, Buelah Weise, Gertrude Wolfe, and Lorraine Winemiller.
