WHEAT

CHICAGO, Oct. 3 (AP)—Grain futures rallied sharply after early irregularity today and at the close held substantial gains. The December contracts showed greatest strength and at one time the nearby wheat delivery hit $1.65, a new high since early May.

There was not much wheat for sale during the last half of the session. Millers again were in the market lifting hedges and commission houses turned buyers after an early mixed trade. A broker with northwestern cash connections bought large amounts for May delivery.

Commission houses with eastern connections bid up rye futures.

Weather unsuitable for the maturing crop caused some short covering in corn. A house with cash connections bought moderate amounts but the trade was not large. Local traders sold oats but the offerings were absorbed easily and the market was firm.

At the close wheat was ½ to ⅝c higher than yesterday's finish, December $1.65. Corn was ⅛ to ¼c higher, December $1.13½-⅝. Oats were up ¾ to ⅞c, December 64⅛c. Rye was ⅝ to 1¼c higher, December $1.08⅝-¾. Barley was up ¼ to ⅝c, December $1.04½.

Market Quotations

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (AP)—Low-quoted stocks absorbed the greater part of the buying in today's market while profit-cashing in aircrafts and other sprinters of the past week or so put many issues behind minus signs.
