

'HOOEY', SAYS BECK ABOUT HOTEL FIGHT

SEATTLE, Oct. 6 (AP)—"I'll bet it was some fight," declared Dave Beck, international president of the Teamsters union, last night in discussing the so-called "battle of the Statler hotel."

Stating he regarded the prominence being given the "battle" in connection with the election campaigns as "a lot of hooey," Beck added:

"I don't say there wasn't one. But I didn't see it, and 76 of the best reporters in the country, all right on the spot, didn't see it."

"If there was a fight, as the naval officers have testified, let it be investigated as any other such affair would be in an orderly manner. Such individual affairs have no significance and nothing to do with the election," he continued.

Two naval officers testified they were manhandled by Teamsters' union members immediately after an address by President Roosevelt when they refused to answer questions on how they would vote.

Wayne Morse, republican candidate for United States senator, who arrived in Klamath Falls Friday, October 6, to speak before a mass meeting to be held in the Willard hotel Friday night at 8 o'clock. He will also address all labor groups at the American Federation of Labor hall, 422 Main, at 7:15 p. m.

DEMOS HEAR RADIO TALKS AT MEETING

A sizeable group of democrats attended the rally held by the club at the Willard hotel Thursday night.

Sitting in a darkened room, with large pictures of President Roosevelt and Willis E. Mahoney, senatorial candidate, spotlighted before them, they listened to the radio addresses of the two democratic leaders, broadcast over KPFI.

The president's speech, which came over the National hook-up, contained a plea to all Americans to "get out and vote." Mahoney's address, transacted especially for the occasion, was directed to citizens of Klamath county, and promised his assistance in our county problems, especially in connection with the loss of jobs to which our servicemen hope to return.

Local candidates for state, county, and city offices were introduced and some took the occasion to make a statement of the program and policy they expect to follow, if elected to office. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Klamath County Democratic club, of which Dora Goddard is president, and the Klamath county democratic central committee, of which E. P. Ivory is chairman.

Temperatures in different parts of the body vary, although normal body temperature is considered to be 98.6 degree Fahrenheit.

Command Changed; Turner Transferred

NAVAL AIR STATION, Pasco, Oct. 6 (AP)—Commander J. E. Shoemaker, a native of Helena, Mont., and a veteran of submarine, air and surface branches of the navy, has assumed command of this air station, it was announced yesterday.

The shift sends Lt. Comdr. B. M. Turner, commandant since August 23 of this year and formerly at the Klamath Falls, Ore., station, to the Sand Point naval air station near Seattle.

GOP Victory Eyed As Fatal Mistake

PORTLAND, Oct. 6 (AP)—referring to the election of a republican president in 1920, Willis Mahoney, democratic senatorial candidate, urged the country not to make that "fatal mistake" again.

In a radio address last night, the Klamath Falls man attributed today's war to the fact "in the election of 1920 we failed to heed the call of that inspired leader of peace, Woodrow Wilson, and permitted the league of nations to be sacrificed on the altar of partisan politics."

Girl Scout Heads Meet at Cook-Out

Twenty-one Girl Scout and Brownie leaders met at the home of Mrs. Roy Carter for an outdoor cook-out, Wednesday, October 4. Mrs. W. L. Terwilliger led some singing and taught an appropriate grace that the girls might sing before meals.

Mrs. L. A. Murphy announced that the theme "Service to Hospitals" is to be carried out by the Girl Scouts in Klamath county this year. She made suggestions as to ways the girls might best serve the hospitals. The hospitals that the girls will include in the project are Marine Barracks, naval air base, Tulelake army hospital, Klamath county infirmary, isolation hospital, Klamath Valley and Hillside.

Sp. (S) 3/c Jane Eckel was present and told the leaders how best to serve the service men in the various hospitals.

After the luncheon, Mrs. D. W. Holloway led the group in criticism of all the activities involved in the preparation.

Those present were Mrs. H. R. Burritt, Mrs. L. A. Murphy, Mrs. W. C. Preston, Mrs. A. E. Woodruff, Mrs. B. G. Thompson, Mrs. Ray M. Worden, Mrs. Ray Brown, Mrs. T. J. O'Hara, Mrs. W. L. Terwilliger, Mrs. Helen O'Donnahue, Mrs. May Rowden, Mrs. L. E. Kaup, Mrs. L. L. Porter, Mrs. Waldo C. Perry, Mrs. Harold Beasley, Mrs. D. W. Holloway, Mrs. Roy Carter, Mrs. Dorothy Jolly, Mrs. W. K. Charlesworth, Mrs. D. L. Snyder, Mrs. George Condey, and Mrs. A. L. Brandt.

Albi Reputation Good, Says Martin

SPOKANE, Oct. 6 (AP)—Former Governor Clarence D. Martin testified yesterday that he thought the reputation of Joseph A. Albi, president of the Spokane Athletic Round Table, was "excellent."

Martin was a witness in the action in which Albi seeks $250,000 from the American News company of New York and its Spokane agent on grounds he was libeled in an article in Pic magazine.
