the northern Transylvanian salient, the Russian spearhead thrust into the outskirts of the Magyar military training center of Debrecen. General advances on the looping front put the Russian forces within 50 miles of Budapest.

Marshal Rodion Malinovsky's northward drive across flat grazing country appeared aimed at the Ruthenian highlands, where a junction might be made with Col. Gen. Ivan Petrov's fourth Ukrainian army group on the Czechoslovak border. The advance was through country inhabited by Magyar cowboys and shepherds.

Crosses Tizza
At the same time, Malinovsky's southern wing crossed the Tizza river on a wide front in northern Yugoslavia and swung westward in an advance which outflanked Belgrade and endangered the third largest Yugoslav city of Subotica (pop. 100,000) on the main Belgrade-Budapest railroad.

Prospects were reported good for bottling up most of the enemy forces in Transylvania and the Carpatho-Ukraine, which Hungary took from Czechoslovakia. This would permit Malinovsky to strike at ancient Budapest from three sides.

Two Cars Go Off Road, Report

Two cars were reported to have gone off the Marine Barracks road sometime late Monday night or early Tuesday morning. One machine was found partially demolished just off Dead Man's curve. Police brought keys and papers to the city police station and the car was identified as belonging to James Drazil, Malin.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

ON FURLOUGH—Staff Sgt. Howard Scroggins is home from Camp Chaffee, Arkansas, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stanton, 4413 Denver.

Sgt. Scroggins was formerly employed at the First National bank and has been in the service three years. He will return next week to Camp Chaffee.

WAKEFIELD WRITES
Sgt. Jimmy Wakefield, now with the US army tank corps, reconnaissance battalion, serving in Holland, has written the following letter to Mrs. Walter Fuller, 2252 Vine. Wakefield was employed with Union Oil before going into the service from here.

Just a few lines to let you know that I am getting along as well as can be expected. We seem to be changing countries so fast that it is hard to realize where one actually is. The language is about the only difference.

You can't imagine the welcome we have received here in northern France, Belgium and Holland. Fruit, flowers, kisses, hugs and plenty of good drinks. I always remember one town my platoon took over. It was about 10 miles off the main axis, so we were the first Americans since the last war. When we first entered the town, not a person was on the street, but after they discovered who we were they mobbed us. We couldn't move, if the Germans had shown up we could not have moved.

Forget about these people of France, Belgium and Holland starving and in rags for it is not true. Of course, some items of diet they have lacked, but they are doing OK. Oh yes, I meant to mention flags. Thousands of them. Every house has one or two. Just as soon as an American shows up in a section, out comes the flag and arm bands. The underground starts to work and they are doing a wonderful job. Boy, do they hate the Germans.

WRA Head Visits Tulelake Center

Dillon Myer, head of the war relocation authority, was an official visitor at the nearby Tulelake relocation center Tuesday. He was accompanied by R. B. Cozzens, Pacific coast regional director for WRA.

Myer made a routine visit while northbound. He was met here by Project Director R. R. Best.

It was on the occasion of a visit by Myer to the center in November, 1943, that evacuees staged a demonstration which drew nationwide attention. WRA officials said all was quiet at the center today.

Allen Foulk Killed In Action, Report

John Foulk, for the past 10 months employed as janitor at the city hall, was advised by the war department this week of the death of his 23-year-old son, Pvt. Allen Foulk, presumably in the European theater of war.

Pvt. Foulk enlisted from Oklahoma and had been overseas since April 1. He had visited here with his father who has lived in Klamath Falls for five years. A brother, Lester Foulk, of this city, also survives.

For several years, Leslie was employed with the California Oregon Power company and made his home at 811 Rose. He then joined the Oregon state police and was stationed in Ashland for one year. Leslie enlisted in the U. S. army air corps in February, 1943, received his wings at Marfa, Tex., and a commission as second lieutenant. He received additional training in order to take his place as a copilot on a B-24 Liberator, the type of ship he is thought to have been flying overseas.

In Mediterranean
Word to his family advised them that Leslie went to the Mediterranean theater of war about September 17 of this year. It is their opinion that he was lost during one of his very early missions. Leslie and his family visited here in May, following his graduation.

In addition to his parents, his wife and son, Lt. Leslie leaves two sisters, Mrs. Gilbert Fleet, 200 Conger avenue, and Virginia Lee Leslie, at home.

Plan For Yank Entry Into World Union Heads For Debate

system which would obviate the need for congressional debate and decision each time specific forces were called for, the reluctance to raise the issue is regarded partly at least as an effort to minimize debate on this point at this time.

Voting Arrangements
Another point not now subject to discussion is that of the voting arrangements within the proposed 11-member security council. This stalled because Russia wanted the right for each big power to vote in a dispute in which it was involved, while this country and Britain argued that in such a case the power should not participate in the decision.

This point is one of such high policy that it will, if possible, be turned over to a meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin—and possibly Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek of China—to work out.

There is some speculation here that one of Churchill's purposes in his present Moscow conference with Stalin might be to arrange such a three or four-power meeting. It could serve not only to fill the gaps in the Dumbarton Oaks plan but also to settle some of the political issues currently complicating the relations of the leading allied powers.

Segregues Sentenced On Assault Charges

Two Japanese-American residents of the Tulelake WRA center were given 90-day jail sentences and two others put on probation Monday for assaulting a mess hall attendant who refused to permit a cook to serve them a special meal.

Sent to jail were Hideo Tagawa, 20, formerly of Sacramento and Toshio Sonoda, 20, formerly of Seattle. Harold Kocuto Okamoto, 17, and Mike Tadashi MacKawa, 17, both from Hawaii, were put on probation at a project trial.

They admitted beating Ismu Yamaguchi, 40, the mess hall attendant.

Air Fleets Hit German Targets

LONDON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Numerous allied air formations flew against the Germans at sunrise today in continuance of the unprecedented daylight aerial offensive after the RAF executed a heavy night attack on the Ruhr steel capital of Bochum.

The British heavy bombers made a saturation attack on Bochum, a city of 303,000, dumping thousands of fire bombs and a profusion of explosives and set fires which glowed for many miles through layers of clouds and fog. The Nazis had spent a year rebuilding Bochum after the last heavy attack, on September 29, 1943. Some major industries had been placed in working order again.

Right-of-Way Charge Filed In Court

Charged with failure to yield a right-of-way to an emergency vehicle, a Ward's ambulance, W. W. Southwell, 731 Main, was slated to appear at 4 p. m. Tuesday in police court before Police Judge Harold Franey.

According to a report, Southwell struck the ambulance at 6th and Main at 10:47 a. m. Sunday. Fred L. Hale was driver of the ambulance at the time of the crash and reported that both the siren and red light were on the vehicle. C. R. Beck, route 3, box 148, city, and A. W. Gross, Anchor hotel, were witnesses. Southwell, who posted $10 bail, following a plea of not guilty, contends that he gave right-of-way and that the crash was an accident. Southwell's car was going north on Main at the time.

KLAMATH TO VOTE ON POLICE FUND

serves and renovation and sanitation of the present city jail. The intent of the issue now leading the ballot is to repeal chapter 18 of the City of Klamath Falls. The taxes already collected, and funds accumulated as well as funds budgeted, to be used for the city's portion together with Klamath county and the federal government funds for the construction of a new city-county jail.

Alternate Use
However, should the proposed city-county jail not be constructed cooperatively, monies now being held will be used for renovation and repair of the present city jail, or for new jail purposes, to be decided by the city.

The very fact that the measure appears on the ballot is significant of the city council's approval of the measure and its interest in seeing jail conditions in Klamath Falls improved immediately.

Brought To Council
The issue was first brought to the council by committees appointed by Mayor John H. Houston, due to the jail condemnations by the county grand jury and recommended, in addition to that, by the city planning commission. The council's action followed.

If this measure does not pass approval of the voters, the 4 mill levy will continue to be collected and money will remain in the emergency police fund, making it impossible to furnish sufficient funds to construct a new jail.

Sprague Wires Pep Talk On Fund Drive

"Filling this war chest is our job—let's do it," Charles A. Sprague, chairman of the Oregon War Chest, said in a telegram to Charles R. Stark, secretary of the chamber of commerce here, today. Sprague stated that every county in the state was now organized for the effort, and that early reports had been gratifying.

Stark said today that a large number of people, contacted through publicity sources, had sent checks to the drive headquarters, but that a considerable amount was still needed to meet the drive quota of $65,200.

MISSING CREEK
CAMP RUGGLES, ARIZ., Oct. 10 (AP)—The stream, not the fish, got away.
The state game department sadly reports that a mile and a quarter of the best casting stretch on Horton creek suddenly seeped through its alluvial bed and disappeared.

Board Delays Lifting Ban

CHICAGO, Oct. 10 (AP)—Replying to President Roosevelt's request to lift a ban on making recordings, the executive board of the American Federation of Musicians declared today that it could be removed only if two companies that have not signed contracts with the union, to agreements with the union. The ban was issued August 1, 1942. A war labor board order for removal of the restrictions was issued last June 15, but the union has ignored it. Fred M. Vinson, stabilization director, decided subsequently the union's non-compliance with the WLB directive was not "unduly impeding the war effort," and noted that the law requires a finding that a dispute hampers the war effort before the government could act.

Parsley, popular now chiefly as a garnish, was used by the ancient Greeks as a victory wreath.
