Today's Roundup

By MALCOLM EPLEY WE had a pleasant visit this morning with Harry Truman, against whom we will unhesitatingly vote in the November election. In fact, one of the topics of conversation in Truman's car at the S. P. depot, was the way people of contrary political beliefs can get along famas personal acquaint-

Truman recalled the case of the man who had long nursed a hatred against another per-son whom he had never met. A mutual acquaintance tried to get the two together for an introduction, but the hater refused. "I don't want to meet him."

"If I do, I'm afraid I might not be able to go on hating him as he deserves."

All of which introduces a wholesome note at a time in the political campaign when feelings are likely to get a little over-heated.

EPLEY

Looks Like Clergyman

THE Missouri senator, who got the surprise of his life when he was named Roosevelt's run-ning mate at Chicago last summer, was on the back platform of his car when we entered it from the other end. The train was parked with the car well back in the yard and he was looking for the expected Klamath group to

He came in and shook hands all around. He was dressed in sober gray, and might well have been mistaken for a clergyman traveling to a church conference. Incidentally, he refused cig-arettes when they were offered, and remarked that everybody else in his party smokes.

Not Too Tough
NoBODY else in the party was up yet, and Truman talked for five or tan minutes Truman talked for five or ten minutes with the local folks, including democratic leaders and press representatives, while the train was held for servicing. He said he had had a heavy day yesterday in San Francisco, but that the campaign, in general, was not as tough as some he had had in Missouri.

The local demos told him this was the best town in Oregon and that the county democratic registration leads the republicans. There was a discussion as to the importance of registration as indication of how an election might go. Truman remarking that whichever side is behind in registration is always sure it is inonclusive evidence of the outcome of the elec-

That led to comment on this writer's political convictions and to the story recounted above. By that time, the train pulled up into the station and Truman went out to greet the local people who had gotten up early enough to see

Definitely not in the colorful class, Truman made a pleasant impression but said nothing startling on his brief stop here. He adopted the usual "we're going to win, all right" line, and remarked that the solid south is still solid and that California is in the bag

A GOOD deal of effective plugging, including the help of Senator Guy Cordon, preceded the release of refrigeration e release of refrigerator cars for Klamath sin potato and onion shipping.
Tulelake Growers, California's Congressman

Clair Engle, the county agent's office, the Klamath Potato Growers association, and the county

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 - Daring without judgment is required to predict the outcome of this election.

Even the polls seem to be giving it up. The eminent Dr. Gallup who has never been at a this October 15 forecast, with the day of reckoning three weeks off, warned that he allocated 19 states with almost half the electoral votes (252) into the "probable error" classifica-tion. In short, nearly half his states are doubt-

Beyond this abnormal civilian doubt there are two other factors which make the election practically impossible to forecast. There are 8,000,000 men and women of voting eligibility away from home in the services and at least 4,000,000 of these are expected to vote. It would be against the law for anyone to poll

From what I hear inside, they are being split fairly evenly between Roosevelt and Dewey, and not being cast in bulk for either side.

Votes to FDR

N both army and navy (particularly navy) where career men rely on political appointments for advancement, the votes are going to Mr. Roosevelt. A regular might ruin his chance for promotion if it became known among his superiors that he voted against their wishes.

Reserves from civilian life and a good num-ber of the enlisted and drafted men, however, are voting for Deey as fast as they can-and ther openly. But this service vote is not only an unpollable

But this service vote is not only an unpollable influence for advance guessing, it may not permit the outcome of the election to be known for some weeks after election day. Eleven states have deferred the count of these ballots. Most important is doubtful, vital Pennsylvania where the military count will not be begun until November 22, two weeks after civilian voting. As more than 650,000 military ballots are to be counted in Pennsylvania, it is conceivable that the state could remain doubtful.

ballots are to be counted in Pennsylvania, it is conceivable that the state could remain doubtful until they are totaled. (Roosevelt carried it by only 281,000 four years ago.) California is to start counting the military vote November 24; Colorado, November 22; Delaware and Missouri. November 9; Florida, November 7-17: Nebraska, November 8-13 (but not make public the result until December 5.); Rhode Island, December 5; Washington, November 13-17; Utah, November 12; North Dakota, November 25-December 3.

Under this arrangement, fixed by state laws, it is possible no one will know who is elected president November 7 until nearly a month later, December 5.

Delay Unnecessary

THE theory of these states, in delaying the soldier count, was that men at remote fronts should have plenty of time to get their votes in. Actually these and other states got their ballots out so early, the delay seems to have been unnecessary. Pennsylvania, for in-stance, sent her ballots out August 15, allowing 100 days before return.

The second factor which makes the election extremely difficult to gauge is the continuous fluctuation of war populations. California and other west coast war centers have been losing many thousands a week for the last few months These people are seeking permanent peacetime jobs, and may be going back home (largely mid-western and south.)

western and south.)
Will they register? Will they vote? Will those remaining in war centers overthrow the normal partisanship of those states (southerners, for instance, in Michigan?) How can anyone ers, for instance, in Michigan', how can anyone weigh these influences accurately?

If you average out all these enigmas and calculate reasonable expectations, you will give a silent edge to Mr. Roosevelt, but a betterchance-than-Willkie-had to Dewey.

My election advice is this: Wait this year until the votes are counted.

ANSWER TO NELLIE MARINE BARRACKS — (To the Editor)—In reference to Nellie Kaszychi's comical composition concerning military information and Klamath's noncombatant marines:

batant marines:

Little Neille is convinced that Klamath service men are responsible for the military information being spread around town, and that the civilian population is being unjustly accused. Also that the wild and woolly stories we tell to the town folk are purely "scuttle butt." Tsk! Tsk! And how many "ex-marines" have you talked to in town, fellas? I actually know more about World War I than I do this war, thanks to the bar flies. I venture to say that if all the men in town are ex-marines, as they say, the total number of marines would far exceed the army and the navy.

Nellie mentioned Mr. Hilton, but does she know the circumstances which led to his exceptionally unfortunate accident? I assure you the marine concerned is also fine and upstanding.

And now about little Neil's cavesdropping. The two "high-" the same strong today with gains of a cent or more strong today with the wearer has participated in. assure you the marine concerned is also fine and upstanding.

And now about little Nell's cavesdropping. The two "highclass business men" Nellie overheard discussing "loose talk, were surely patriotic citizens. No doubt, little one, they were trying to find a solution to end loose talk, and not condemning the people of Klamath, as you insinusted.

The conclusion derived from Nellie's fairy tale is that she loves to write. "Period." With all the interesting subjects on hand, we feel highly honored to have been the chosen guinea pigs. We also feel that much more could have been attained by our journalistically minded Nellie if she would concentrate more on her homework and leave the propaganda angle alone.

Little Nell's comical composition did many things. First, it made us feel important, and secondly, it degraded our once high esteem for the girls of KUHS.

First allow me to emphasize the fact that military secrets are quite extinct as far as marine barracks personnel are concerned.
In other words, our knowledge

gram directed by Mrs. John W.
Taylor, acting lecturer, were treated to a varied group of numbers following presentation of the flag and the national anthem.

C. A. Henderson, county agent talked on the labor problems of the basin and the Mexican nationals. Mrs. Winnifred Gillensang Trees" and "Nancy;" Mrs. Luther Taber presented a piano solo; Ronnie Trotman and Donald Bowman played an accordion duet; Rex High, Poe valley deputy state grange master spoke on accomplishments of grange, Joan Kandra, Barbara Leenbice, Mary Katherine Hammond, Patricia O'Comnor, Mildred Petrik, Lois Lee Kandra, Maura Lou Hill, Dolores Steele, Geraldine McKendree, Barbara Anderson, Evelyn Petrik and Lila Winebarger presented a drill.

In post-war automobiles, distributor points—now a source of a good many headaches—may be fathers. How about that? Nellie stathers a marine barracks personnel are concerned. In other words, our knowledge military info is equivalent to zero. Now Nel stated her girl friend and a sailor as an example. The sailor s story, little Nell, was a pure, unadulterated "snow lob." Very common and very old. For those of you who don't recall Nellies article. I'll explain: "It seems a sailor, the old meany gave a strange girl the, I'm shipping qut to sea, so please will ya story. Sigh!!!"

And now for the more scrious part of Nell's handiwork. Our girl states that if we were to ask her, she would scriously doubt that we are prevaricators of the first water. Now what I'm wondering is: Who asked her? And she is a soph, too, fellas. Oh, yes? Marines and sailors, we are cuested in a crude sort of way to put a halt to our bar room conversation with the town's fathers. How about that? Nellie

Do you have poor digestion? Do you feel headachy after eating?
Do you get sour or upset easily? Do you feel tired—Histless?

Do you feel tired—Hatless?

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. It Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial sids to counteract, indigestion—when Garter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 10s and 25s.
