HARVEST HELP AVAILABLE TO SPUD GROWERS

It was announced today by the county agent's office, that any farmers needing harvest help should contact placement agents at the Mexican labor camps. Growers in the Merrill and Klamath Falls areas should see Ed Crawford at the old Merrill CCC camp, and growers in the Malin district should contact Tom Swoyer at the Malin Mexican labor camp. Those in Bonanza and the Poe Valley sections should get in touch with Art Dougherty at the Bonanza Mexican labor camp. All requests for these workers must be made by Saturday, October 21. It is the interest of the Klamath Potato Growers association to work these men if needed, however if there is no demand for them they will be moved to some other harvest area as soon as transportation can be obtained.

SPUD HARVEST HERE NEARS COMPLETION

Up to Wednesday night the spud harvest in the Klamath basin was at least 80 per cent completed, it was announced by the county agent's office. The weather has been excellent, with only two small showers since the start of the heavy potato harvest, which resulted in a total loss of only half a day. As a result the current harvest is being completed in record time and demands for labor indicate that it will just about be over by the middle of next week except in fields where unusual circumstances prevail. Shipments have been going ahead in the face of the refrigeration car freeze and some shortage even in box cars. Total shipments are far greater at this time of the year than in any previous season as the total car shipments up to Wednesday night was estimated at 2600 cars. Cancellation of the freeze order on refrigeration cars should bring about continued heavy shipments for the duration of the harvest and a few were loaded out today. Shipping out of 700 Mexicans from Klamath county is contemplated next week as the harvest will be practically completed.
