tegists speak with less and less confidence about China's future war role.

Still Hopeful Diplomatists are still hopeful that Chiang may be induced to shake up his government and army command and reconcile himself to the communists in North China in order to strengthen his government. The whole issue within China should come to a head in the Kuomintang party's central executive committee the middle of this month. Apparently to save what he can in line with American policy of building up China as a power now and great postwar nation, President Roosevelt has made these moves thus far:

Wedemeyer Replaces

1. Recalled General Joseph W. Stilwell from his triple China-Burma-Indian command at the request of Chiang and replaced him with Maj. Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer.

2. Announced at a news conference the resignation of Ambassador Gauss. Close official associates of Gauss had said virtually up to the time of the announcement that they knew of no plans for him to come home.
