

SHIPMENTS OF POTATOES MAY BEAT RECORD

Potato harvest was practically complete in the Klamath basin before the start of the present storm. The few acres remaining undug was only a small fraction of one per cent of the total crop.

Weather conditions throughout the harvest season were excellent and despite a shortage of refrigerator cars, shipments maintained a high level throughout the month and showed evidence of increasing.

Size of the crop has been estimated at all the way from 11,000 to 13,000 cars, with shipments appearing to be the highest on record.

Conclusion of the harvest season found practically all cellars throughout the district filled to capacity and had it not been for heavy early shipments, some difficulty in storing the entire crop might have been encountered.

Acreage of certified seed potatoes in Klamath county is the greatest ever produced with approximately 10 per cent of the entire planted crop entered for certification. Of this amount, approximately 1400 acres met all certification field inspections.

National Return

Some of the Mexican nationals used in the potato harvest have been returned to Mexico, some to other points in Oregon, and the large number, however, will be returned to Mexico shortly after November 1.

In Klamath county, local help was the big factor in the successful harvest. Many residents of cities and towns throughout the county volunteered their services as did men on leave from marine and navy installations.

Migratory agricultural labor was not too plentiful but a camp was established at Merrill and was filled with these workers throughout most of the harvest season.

Weekly Market Trend

Editor's Note: The following market information is supplied from material obtained over the government leased wire in the office of the extension economist at Oregon State college. The material, in the form of a weekly summary of trends in the livestock market, is not intended to replace day by day market reports.

CATTLE MARKETS

Offerings of cattle at Pacific coast markets continue large with 2339 reported at North Portland, Monday, October 30. Prices were lower except on top steers, which were quoted at $12.75 or above.

LAMB MARKETS

The lamb market at North Portland turned weaker Monday despite the offering of only 1600 head. Top lambs brought $12.50 while a sizable supply of common and medium lambs were unsold.

HOG MARKETS

Effective Monday, October 30, the OPA extended the ceiling price on hogs weighing 240 pounds and under to include those weighing 270 pounds and under. The ceiling price is $14.75 a hundredweight, Chicago basis.

The increase in ceiling price was granted because of the greatly improved situation in relation to the hog numbers, and because the hog crop for the current season of 1945 is below anticipated production.

Wool Markets

The activity in medium fleece wools continued in the Boston wool market during the week ending October 28.

Automobile Ignition Systems

New automobile ignition systems are being developed which may eliminate the present high-tension secondary leads with their accompanying tendency to leak and sometimes even cross-fire.

PRICE OUTLOOK GOOD

Materially reduced numbers of hogs to be marketed this fall and winter plus the continued large non-civilian pork purchases makes the outlook for hog prices much more promising than a year ago.

Output during the rest of 1944 is expected to be materially reduced from the all-time record for this period.

INVENTION SHOWN IN FARM MAGAZINE

TULELAKE—Frank Bell, pioneer resident of this community, who for several years has been engaged in invention and manufacture of potato handling machinery, has been given recognition in the November issue of the Country Gentleman.

A picture of the bulk potato combine which has been in use in this locality for several years is shown with the more recently invented trailer attachment for the speedier handling of potatoes from the field to storage.

The bulk handling invention, according to the article, is equipped with a short elevator on which the harvested potatoes are taken from the digger into the trailer. A motor operated draper bottom in the trailer speeds up the unloading process and the equipment is credited by growers with cutting handling time of potato crops by fifty per cent.

Bell is continuing operations at his recently remodeled plant in Tulelake in spite of labor shortages and difficulty in obtaining materials.

RECORD SLAUGHTER DUES

Cattle are expected to slaughter during the remainder of the year at record levels. The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports, and points out that the greatest slaughter under federal inspection was a record for the month and the second largest for any month on record, slightly smaller than the time high in November, 1943.

The superb mastery of organized supply lines, between beachheads and air almost constantly fluid front, has cost less much to the colonial enterprises in western Europe.
