

PLANE FLEETS BEAT AT RAIL YARDS, PLANTS

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Fleets of 2000 American planes beat today at rail yards, oil plants and other objectives in central and western Germany.

By night, the RAF had switched from disintegrating Cologne to Oberhausen, now the least bombed city in the Ruhr.

Some 1100 Flying Fortresses and Liberators convoyed by 800 fighters bombed the vast Leuna synthetic oil plant at Merseburg in central Germany and other oil plants in the Ruhr. They bombed rail yards at Bielefeld and Rheine and struck other targets in the west which were not specified.

Weather was bad. RAF Mosquitos, however, kept up the assault upon Cologne during the night and other Mosquito forces went for Berlin, the fifth raid on the capital in six nights.

An industrial city of nearly 200,000 population 35 miles north of Cologne, Oberhausen has so far escaped with a minimum of heavy raids of the type that have wrecked large sections of Essen, Duisburg, Dusseldorf and other cities in the Ruhr.

With three vast rail yards capable of handling 12,000 cars daily, its chief value at the moment is as a traffic center for the western front. But it also is the home of several large coal, coke, iron and steel industries which can repair damaged weapons as well as turn out new ones.

The attack on Oberhausen was made by an all-Canadian force of Halifaxes.

RAF Mosquitos attacked transport in Germany and Holland, destroying or damaging 48 trains, 10 barges and four small ships.

Seven bombers and two fighters were missing yesterday afternoon and last night. Five German planes were destroyed.

U. S. Thunderbolts scored seven hits yesterday on a dam holding a nine-square-mile lake 15 miles southeast of Dieuze, American fighter-bombers flattened 12 factory buildings near the frontier town of Sargemund. Two Nazi aircraft were destroyed on the ground near Gotha. Two Thunderbolts were missing.

DE WIART PROMOTED
LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Maj. Gen. A. Carton de Wiart, Prime Minister Churchill's personal representative with Chiang Kai-Shek, has been promoted temporarily to lieutenant-general, it was announced yesterday.

The sale of war savings bonds and stamps is in its second week. The stamps are on sale in a booth in the main hall, and are being sold by the Klamath Knights. Bonds can be purchased in room 221, Everett Vanderpool's room.

The charter members of the Masque and Gavel will hold their first meeting Monday, November 6, during fourth period. The list of members has not been announced as yet.

The list will include mostly seniors, although a few juniors will be admitted as charter members. The list includes those who have already done outstanding work in the field of speech and drama.

An additional group will be taken in after the charter members get the organization started.

The "K" club is starting to clamp down on the illegal wearing of stripes. Until a letter is in the possession of a boy, he is not eligible to wear a stripe uncovered. Those violators will be dealt with by the "K" club.

The Wildcats play Merrill under the lights on Modoc field Friday night, November 3. Since there is not a Pelican game that night, a fairly large turnout of the students should be expected.

Voting Facilities Distributed Here

The setting up of booths and chairs for election next Tuesday was begun Wednesday by sheriff's office personnel, who distribute the voting equipment in the city and suburban areas as far as Keno, Algoma, Midland and Mt. Laki.

Communities further away take care of their own voting headquarters booths.

Also being distributed this week and Monday of next week by the sheriff's office are the ballot boxes which have to be taken to every precinct in the county.

14,400 Spectators Jam Exhibit on Closing Day

"Shot From the Sky" closed its two-day appearance in Klamath Falls last night with 14,400 spectators examining the captured axis airplanes and aircraft parts and attending the afternoon and evening stage performances at the carnival grounds. Total attendance for the two days was 17,600.

Bond sales yesterday totaled $16,200, bringing the total for the two days to $49,500, Myrie Adams of the war finance committee reported. Fourteen-year-old W. D. Miller Jr., Klamath Union high school student at 432 N. 9th, received one of the last axis rifles sold for the $5000 war bond his father bought for him.

Adams said all bonds sold at the exhibit are credited to the Klamath Falls 6th War Loan drive. One hundred and fifty potential war workers received applications for war jobs in this area, it was announced by Jack Almeter of the U. S. employment service here.

Surprise guest star at the evening stage program, was stage and screen star, Dennis Morgan, who is vacationing in Klamath Falls after an overseas tour. Morgan sang the Marine hymn in honor of combat veterans stationed here, and urged the audience to support the men overseas by buying more war bonds.

Lt. Mitchell Paige, 1st division marine and winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor, spoke of his combat experiences and emphasized the necessity of increased production on the need for women in the services and stressed the importance of buying war bonds to send vital equipment overseas. Sgt. Suty was a chief teletype clerk overseas.

The Klamath Falls marine band, under the direction of T/Sgt. Jack Zamzow, played for the evening program, and the drill squad presented its intricate rifle routine. PFC Carl Hagle was featured vocalist with the band, and T/Sgt. Webb Tilton of the exhibit's staff was master of ceremonies for the performance.

"Shot From the Sky" was sponsored here by the Klamath county chamber of commerce.

At one time, the wearing of an amber necklace was regarded as a cure for rheumatism.

State to Quit Flax Business in Future

SALEM, Nov. 2 (AP)—The state board of control reiterated yesterday that it eventually intends to comply with the state flax law provision that the state shall quit the flax business as soon as flax cooperative associations are able to stand on their own feet.

The board indicated that day is a long time in the future.

The board discussed a proposal by the Santiam Flax cooperative that the state acquire 58 growers, who are waiting for the state flax plan to be cooperative. Final action on the proposal will be taken next week.

WHO looks out for U.S.?

FOR 12 LONG YEARS we have witnessed the waste, the extravagance, the bureaucratic bungling of the New Deal.

Can an Administration which is so wasteful and inefficient at home be any better abroad?

New Dealer Harry Hopkins, who has been at Candidate Roosevelt's right hand at every international conference, said: "We will tax and tax, spend and spend, elect and elect."

New Dealer Henry Wallace advocates "A bottle of milk a day for every Hottentot"—to be paid for by the citizens of the U.S., of course.

We know that many shortages here at home are intensified by New Deal wastefulness abroad.

Isn't it high time we elected someone to look out for the people of these United States?
