

GI'S OVERRUN TWO VILLAGES IN ADVANCES

other advance of nearly two miles.

Bypass Domburg

British commandos who invaded Walcheren near Westkapelle early Wednesday had bypassed the village of Domburg and knocked out at least two of the five big German guns left in action.

Although the American and Poles yielded their Mark river bridgeheads in the drive toward the Maas, they had forced the Germans to destroy the Geert-ruydenburg bridge north of Tilburg. The allies had the remaining two bridges at Moerdijk under artillery fire and one of these was considerably damaged.

Sluis Taken

South of the Scheldt allied troops captured Sluis and were well inside the coastal village of Knocke after the capture of the German commander, Maj. Gen. Eberding of the 64th division and 2500 more of his men. This division was counted as knocked out.

The month-old battle below the estuary came to a virtual finish tonight as the Canadians overran Knocke and Heyst, last German strongholds, and captured an additional 1700 Germans, bringing the total allied bag in the pocket to 11,700.

WEST, LYONS BUY ALEXANDER RANCH

onymous with the growth of the cattle industry in this section.

Adams Buys Ranch

The late J. Frank Adams, equally prominent in early cattle history, purchased the 6000-acre ranch from Carr. Adams was instrumental in bringing many of the Bohemian residents of Malin into that section. Adams then sub-divided the property and the present 400-acre Alexander ranch was bought by John Ratliff of Malin. Alexander began operations in the fall of 1923.

West and Lyons are associated with the Calore Packing company with large interests in the Merrill, Malin and Tulelake communities. Alexander stated that sale of his Merrill-Malin ranch would not affect operation of his other Klamath county interests.

Watters Agent

The transaction was handled by T. B. Watters of Klamath Falls.

No consideration was announced by Alexander or the new owners. Possession will be given April 15, Alexander planning to operate the feeding plant during the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. King have lived on the Alexander ranch for the past 10 years, and the last five years King has served as foreman. Their future plans have not been announced.

Metal Workers Seek Increase In Wages

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 2 (AP)—E. A. Bird, secretary of the Portland metal traders council, disclosed today that a telegram seeking a national conference on an overall wage increase for shipyard workers had been sent to President Roosevelt.

The message, Bird said, claimed that workers were entitled to a 13.1 per cent wage increase under their contracts when the White House announced a seven-point anti-inflation plan in 1942, but were persuaded to take less.

Kept a secret until now, the telegram was sent by the Pacific coast council at a San Francisco meeting, October 17, Bird stated.

The announcement said Nelson's return to China had been urged by the generalissimo.

Today's White House visit was Nelson's first since Mr. Roosevelt announced the recall of General Joseph W. Stilwell because of what he later described as a clash in personalities with Chiang, and the resignation of Ambassador Clarence E. Gauss. Stilwell was chief of the Burma-China-India command.

Nelson, former war production board chairman, was accompanied on his first trip by Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, who remained in China.

On his return Nelson will take with him as his deputy Howard Cooney, WPB executive. He also will be accompanied by Eugene M. Stallings, a technical expert on alcohol production, and a mission of five steel experts headed by Herbert W. Graham of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp.

"boundless benevolence" of Emperor Hirohito have just been delivered there.

The Jap general in command promises, according to the broadcast, that "if the enemy approaches we will destroy him at the beach and cast the mind of his imperial majesty."

(This idea of "getting the big bum up close and knocking him for a loop" is becoming almost a Jap obsession.)

ON the home political front, Dewey charges that the American two-party system is in danger, asserting that "the Democratic party, weakened by 12 years of one-man rule, is being taken away from the Democrats." It is being captured, he says, by "a coalition of subversive forces, including New Dealers, members of the political action committee and communists."

He adds: "This is not a contest between Democrats and Republicans. It is a contest between, on the one hand, those who believe in the system of government—Republicans and Democrats alike—and on the other those who have kidnaped the Democratic party in order to change our system of government."

THIS much can be said with FLAT CONVICTION of its truth: NO communist, no hope for totalitarian government of some sort in America, no subversive hell-raiser of ANY complexion whatever, is going to vote for Dewey.

Whether he wants them or not, every purposeful communist in the United States and all his ilk will vote next Tuesday for FDR.

These gentry see NO HOPE WHATSOEVER for themselves in Dewey.

Here for a last-minute bid for Maryland's eight electoral votes after an overnight railroad jump from New England, Dewey said that President Roosevelt "has consistently abused the members of congress so that today an irrevocable breach exists between the executive and legislative branches of our government."

Observing that a "good start" has been made toward a world peace organization, the candidate said that because congress eventually must approve the terms and scope of American participation "there must be mutual confidence and teamwork between the president and congress."

WAGE RATES SET FOR SPUD SORTERS HERE

Allowable wage rates for potato sorters in the Klamath Falls 12th regional war labor area are $1.25 per hour, Dr. George Bernard Noble, board chairman announced today.

Working foreman and leadman will be paid $1.50 per hour and sorters, jiggers, sack sewers, leaders, wildmen, scoopers and dumpers are eligible for the $1.25 rate.

Noble pointed out these rates have been allowed on the basis that these were prevailing in the industry in the Klamath Falls area on October 2, 1942, the date of the presidential wage freeze order. Since October 2, 1942, no increases have been permitted without prior approval of the war labor board.

Under wage stabilization regulations any employer who pays higher wages for potato sorters than the above listed rates will be considered in violation by the regional war labor board, unless definite proof is established that the higher rates were paid by him prior to October 2, 1942.

LEFTY BRANDT DIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 2 (AP)—Edward (Lefty) Brandt, 39, mainstay of the Boston National league baseball team's pitching staff a decade ago, was killed shortly before midnight when hit by a car on a downtown Spokane street.

Deputy Prosecutor Hugh Evans said an army air force lieutenant, holder of the Air Medal and Distinguished Flying Cross, was the driver of the car which struck Brandt and that investigation was continuing.

The police report said Brandt's car was involved in a minor accident with another machine and that the drivers were talking in the street when the third machine hit the former baseball player. Brandt, his skull and leg fractured and his lungs punctured by broken ribs, died a short time after he was taken to a hospital.

Lefty Ed, as baseball knew him, played for public school teams here and had stepped into the Pacific Coast league with the Seattle team when signed by major league scouts in 1927. For eight years he pitched for the Boston Nationals, then known as the Braves, followed this with a short term at Brooklyn and closed his career with the National league Pittsburgh Pirates.

He operated a dude ranch and hunting lodge for a time in Montana. He entered the army, but was discharged because of age and a few months ago purchased a tavern at Clayton, near Spokane. He is survived by his mother, a brother and a sister in Spokane.

Speaking to the group, Col. Van Orden said that he was amazed at the progress made here under Col. B. Dubel and added that he was particularly pleased with the cooperation of the Klamath townspeople.
