

Six Amendments, Three Other Bills on Ballot

By PAUL W. HARVEY, Jr. (This is the fourth of five articles on the candidates and issues of next Tuesday's general election.)

SALEM, Nov. 2 (AP)—Nine measures, six of them to amend the state constitution, will be before the voters next Tuesday. Two of them, referred by the legislature to the people, would give benefits to returning servicemen.

One of these so-called "GI bills" would amend the constitution to allow the state to issue bonds to loan money to servicemen so they can buy farms and homes. This is what was done after the last war. The amounts of loans and interest to be charged are not fixed in the bill.

Property Tax The other measure would enact a property tax of two-tenths of a mill to help provide college education for veterans. The benefits would be $75 for the first month, $50 for each of the next eight months, and $35 a month for nine months in each of the next three years.

Little opposition to these bills has developed, although opponents claim they are not needed because the federal GI bill of rights will take care of Oregon's 100,000 veterans. The bills, however, do not allow benefits to a veteran who gets similar aid from the federal law.

Battle Burke Bill California wine manufacturers are waging a battle against the Burke bill which would limit the sale of wines containing more than 14 per cent alcohol by volume to the state liquor stores. These wines now may be sold in privately-owned stores.

After battling in several legislatures, Sen. W. E. Burke, Sherwood, finally got his bill through the 1943 legislature, but the wine interests filed a referendum against it. Burke, who is supported by many doctors, claims the bill would reduce the sale of these wines and thus reduce the number of "winos" or persons who get drunk and insane from wine. The wine manufacturers claim the bill is a "prohibition measure."

Repeat Measure The constitutional amendment to relieve stockholders of state banks from double liability in case of bank failure is on the ballot again, having been defeated several times. There never has been spoken opposition to the bill, but the people just wouldn't go for it. Sponsors of the bill say the provision no longer is needed, because deposits now are insured by the federal government against failure.

They also claim state banks are handicapped in competing with national banks, which don't have double liability any more.

Another constitutional amendment would allow the legislature to restore voting privileges to ex-convicts who have completed their prison sentences. There has been extremely little opposition to this, yet it was defeated two years ago. The state parole board appealed for passage, asserting convicts should be given the voting franchise after they have paid in full their debts to society.

Voters in any county would be allowed to establish a county-manager form of government under a proposed constitutional amendment. This bill merely is a permissive one, leaving the final decision to the voters of any county.

Laborer Arrested For Abducting Niece

SEATTLE, Nov. 2 (AP)—Seattle police last night announced the arrest of a 39-year-old laborer from Cascade Locks, Ore., on a warrant charging him with the abduction of his 13-year-old niece.

Police Detective Pat Kenyon made the arrest at a downtown hotel. The niece was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Policewoman Fern Wheeler said the girl told her she had been taken from her parents' home at Cascade Locks August 4 and after being forced to "live with" her uncle at a Portland hotel was brought to Seattle where she had been staying in hotels with him.

The uncle assaulted the girl while she was still at her parents' home, the policewoman said she was told.

Allen Predicts GOP Victory In Oregon

GRANTS PASS, Nov. 2 (AP)—Niel R. Allen, republican state central committee chairman, told Josephine county republicans today that Dewey and Bricker will carry Oregon and that the two republican senatorial and the four republican congressional candidates will be elected. Basing his prediction on visits to most of the counties of Oregon during the campaign, including a survey of all the counties east of the Cascades during the past week, Allen said Oregon agricultural districts are almost solidly for Dewey, the labor vote less solid for Roosevelt than at the last election and developing a significant republican trend, and many old line democrats throughout the state switching from Roosevelt to Dewey.
