man and Hungarian losses in manpower as "immense," particularly near the tributary of the Danube just south of Budapest where red troops wiped out 20 tanks in a great "slaughter" last night.

The capture of Pest appeared imminent but the fall of Buda on the west side of the Danube was another matter. The Danube river is broad and there was no word on whether the Russians had been able to seize any bridges.

The soviet communicate last night reported the capture of Alsomedi, seven miles south of Budapest, as the nearest point to the capital reached by the red forces sweeping across the Boggy plains between the Danube and Tisza. It was one of 100 communities enveloped in the fast-moving offensive.

Caught in Pocket
To the southeast Germans and Hungarians sought any means of transportation available to pull out of a huge pocket near Szolnok. With their way blocked into Pest the nazis tried to make headway across the plains north of Szolnok to a highway which runs on the east side of the Danube to Vienna.

Red army units pouring across the Tisza on a long front also raced for the highway.

no candidate was authorized to quote him and that he believes Lake county taxes are equalized "so far as humanly possible."

Candidate Petersen, a former mill operator who now operates a farm in Klamath county, has also criticized "ruthless" cutting of timber in this area.

Speak to WTC
Congressman Lowell Stockman and his opponent, C. J. Shorb, have left after campaigning simultaneously in this county. Both spoke to Weyerhaeuser employees at the big local mill Friday noon.

The United States senatorial candidates have all visited Klamath in a bid for the local votes, one of the biggest county votes in the state and the largest in the second congressional district. One candidate for the senate, Willis Mahoney, is a former Klamath mayor. His opponent is Guy Cordon, and the candidates for the other senatorial office are Wayne Morse and Edgar Smith.

The Herald and News will hold the usual election night party Tuesday with reports from local, state and national contests made available to visitors and to those who telephone the office. The paper will cooperate with radio KFJI, which will run a line into the newspaper office on election night.
