

Five Oregon Prep Teams Maintain Perfect Mark

Powerful Medford Socks Bend, 35-14; Eugene Whitewashes Milwaukie, 8-0

By The Associated Press
Five Oregon prep grid teams maintained perfect records yesterday (Friday) in an action-packed day that saw only one tie game—Roosevelt of Portland evened its record with the undefeated team from the undated district ranks.

HUGH FULLERTON JR., NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—M. T. Oklahoma A. and M. T. Tulsa 46-49, in that wild week of the Aggies' asst. coaches, swore: "They never going to another year." Any bets on where they face the Norman Navy tomorrow? When the Yankees drafted Herb Crompton from Toronto the other day, it was the first time the draft had a player in the draft line-up for Notre Dame. The night by listening to a lecture on practical application and this morning had an examination on the subject. "Wonder if they find the goal line surrounded by a green field?"

AT THE ALLEYS

Another summer has rolled by when winter comes and out of the outdoor sports are on the shelf, the weary, self-appointed bowlers of the county, their usual pin banging.

Well, Thursday it started off with a bang. Speaking of pins, the girls on alleys one of two banded away for free and a half hour and finally at 11:30, they finished, was sort of a casualty of home front and the poor just couldn't get any consolation from the pin setters.

Eight teams started last night the women. Fluhrer's won out of three over Hazel's only shop. The Safeway girls, two from Coca Cola and the rest girls took two from a with no sponsor, as yet. In other rolling, Daggett's quindraped Black and White for

The Ann Eaton started the season off with a bang by rolling a 218 single game and a three game total.

Always and Fluhrer's were neck and neck in team total with victory girls rolling a 2322 the grocery five rolling a

Now for the headache department which your writer is getting into. Corcoran's number one: The Commercial league will have a limit of 100. The Booster league at 75. The Big league on Friday will have the $15 limit for the men.

Looks like the men will be bowling next week, if anything works out all right. Would shoot you a bowling thing this time but the fun thing to me is still those on alleys, one and two, who didn't see it, missed a ball of the century from a pinsetter and our ball throwers. Maybe it is funny to the girls but looked so weary after three half hours' bowling. Hats on the long home front victory No. 7—their sixth in league play—with a 21-0 blanking of winless Lincoln.

Down in southern Oregon's district 2, Al Simpson's Medford Black Tornado stunned Bend's Lava Bears, 34 to 14, for its sixth straight triumph. Negotiations are under way between Medford and unbeaten Coquille, which faces Reedsport today, for a clean to decide the district title.

Four clubs kept in the running for the district 3 flag. Columbia Prep of Portland downed Hill military academy of Portland, 20 to 2, for its sixth win in a row; Little Lebanon put the whammy on Albany, 12 to 0, for its sixth triumph; Newberg hung up victory No. 6 with a 34 to 7 defeat of McMinnville, and Eugene shut out Milwaukie, 8 to 0, to stay undefeated and untied in district action.

Two other unstopped machines, Gresham and Vernonia, both in district 3, had open dates. La Grande, district 1 champ, played Nampa, Ida., at Nampa.

The races for district championships and places in the state title playoffs are definitely taking shape except for district 3, where a whole flock of teams still are in the running.

La Grande, of course, will represent district 1 in one semifinal game against the Portland winner. Either Medford or Coquille will carry the district 3 kingdom, which will be one of the following: Eugene, Newberg, Lebanon, Columbia Prep, Gresham or Vernonia.

In Portland, Grant, defending state champion, has the inside track. A victory over Roosevelt next weekend will clinch matters for the Generals, but a Roosevelt win will give them the crown.

Former Stanford Basketball Star In Naval Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Chronicle said yesterday Lt. Angelo (Hank) Luisetti, USNR, former Stanford university basketball player, has been stricken with spinal meningitis at the Norfolk, Va., navy base.

The story quoted the wife of the 28-year-old as saying the navy informed her "that Hank" has regained consciousness and was taking nourishment for the first time in nearly two weeks. He is apparently getting better, but is still in danger.

The officer's wife, Mrs. Jane Luisetti, said he was stricken October 24 after being transferred to Norfolk for overseas assignment.

Cotton Bowl Set New Year's Day

DALLAS, Nov. 3 (AP)—There will be a Cotton bowl game January 1 but that's all the official information available right now.

However, it's pretty well settled that no service team will play in the Dallas gridiron classic.

It's also pretty certain the Cotton bowl folks have Oklahoma A. and M. down as No. 1 on the list of prospects as visiting team.

The Southwest Conference champion automatically becomes the Cotton bowl folks have Oklahoma A. and M. down as No. 1 on the list of prospects as visiting team.

Other top prospects as visitors are Tulane, Georgia Tech, Wake Forest and Mississippi State.

Winter Major League Baseball Meet Set For Early December

TAINT' FAIR

The outburst of Bill Klepper, business manager of the Portland Beavers of the Coast league, over the loss of Marino Pieretti to the Washington Senators seems justified to us.

Pieretti was, of course, the ace hurler for the Beavers last season and came up with 28 wins over the route. He was also the only 20-game winner of the circuit.

According to the rules of the major league baseball draft the team that finishes on the bottom gets first choice of the minor league clubs and can acquire the player of its choice for $7500.

Washington happened to be the tail-end ball team in the American league and they promptly took advantage of this to grab Pieretti for about one-seventh of his actual worth in the dollars and cents column.

Pieretti is a $50,000 ball player as Klepper claims, and when one remembers that Dixie Dean went from the St. Louis Cards to the Chicago Cubs for 185,000 smackerels and three players, it seems nothing less than a bad joke that Pieretti should be gobbled up for one twenty-fourth of that amount. And that's just about what it is, one twenty-fourth as much!

The great Diz was also just about finished when he hiked from St. Louis to the windy city while wearing a heavy ball player going up for the first time into the big show.

One more thing to be considered is that he is going to get his initial tryout with a last place club, and if he can win 26 tilts for the decrepit Senators, not only does he deserve the key to the city, but the White House as well.

Klepper says, "I don't know why we stand for the draft at all. The Pacific Coast league should take a stand right now to demand recognition as a third major league, or become an outlaw circuit to battle the majors. There's no sense giving up players like Pieretti."

Well, why not demand recognition from the majors? As far as we know the only coast club affiliated with the majors is Los Angeles. Last year's attendance at Coast league games was outstanding and there seems little doubt that it will remain so in the future. We personally think the coast would and could support their own MAJOR league.

The draft, itself, seems to us to be just a way for the major league clubs to grab off outstanding baseball talent at a minimum of cost, and we think Klepper is absolutely right. Something should be done about it and soon.

Anyway, Marino will get to see the president throw the first ball!

CONSERVATION PROBLEM

According to publicity received here recently from Outdoor Life magazine, Oregon conservation officials must face the problem of providing fish and game for at least 160,000 anglers and 145,000 hunters after the war.

The question is asked, "can the state meet this tremendous increased demand which, without sharply stepped-up restoration measures, may mean the destruction of sport?"

"Facing the facts squarely, there is real danger that the state may be hunted and fished out unless adequate preventive measures are planned and put into effect at once.

It seems to us that a vigorous and sustained demand by all anglers and hunters, through their rod and gun clubs and various other organizations for increased measures of wildlife conservation and restoration, should help greatly in solving this problem.

The fact that the economic welfare of the state is also involved is stressed. Wildlife resources are a definite better-business factor, an attraction to outsiders, as well as a means of enjoyment. So it behooves hotels, merchants, chambers of commerce and traveling agencies to put their shoulders to the wheel also, and demand prompt and effective conservation and restocking measures to meet the tremendous inroad on wildlife of all kinds that will undoubtedly come after the termination of the war.

Ernie Misses Sonnenberg Butt—"Grey Mask" Wins

The rasser with the bulging biceps and the concrete dome, the "Grey Mask," continued merrily on his winning ways in the main event last night at the armory, due to a tough break for Ernie Piluso. With the count standing at a fall apiece, Ernie missed a Sonnenberg butt and plunged through the ropes knocking himself out and automatically giving the bout to the hooked heel.

The savage "Mask" took the initial tumble with a series of his favorite head-butts, followed by a Boston crab. Piluso came back to show the masked grappler that he was still ready, willing, and able to mix it up, by tossing him through the strands and then proceeding to

UO Quintet Sets Basketball Dates With Marine Five

The basketball games tentatively scheduled between the Klamath Marines and the University of Oregon this season have been officially set according to a letter received by the post athletic officer today from Eugene.

Lt. Francis Hogan, marine recreation officer, announced that the tilts here will be played on November 24 and 25, the first game at the Barracks and the second at the local high school. This will enable both the residents of the city and the marines at the post to see the highly touted Eugene boys and an up and coming leatherneck quintet clash in what promises to be an interesting tussle.

The two encounters scheduled to be played at Eugene will take place December 15 and 16.

Zurita-Williams Lightweight Title Bout Discussed

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4 (AP)—Promoter Herman Taylor has started negotiations for a 15-round bout between Juan Zurita of Los Angeles, and Ike Williams of Trenton, N. Y., with the NBA lightweight championship at stake in Philadelphia in January.

Taylor said he sent this telegram to George Parnas, manager of Zurita:

"Staging Ike Williams with Willie Joyce here November 13. In event of Williams winning, I will guarantee you $15,000 with an option of 37 1/2 per cent for Juan Zurita to box Williams here first week in January for NBA lightweight championship."

Taylor said it would be "the outstanding boxing contest of the season."

Klamath Juniors Defeated 13-0 By Grants Pass

The Klamath freshmen-junior high eleven dropped another ball game last night over Grants Pass way to the tune of 13-0.

Grants Pass scored their first tally in the second period on a forward pass and rolled up another in the third frame when Klamath fumbled behind their goal line and Grants Pass recovered.

The local lads never lost their spirit however, and had the ball on their opponents' two-foot line when the game ended.

In a previous fray against Grants Pass, played on Modoc field, Klamath won 25-0.

Swap Smokes, Room, For Precious Ducats To Army-Irish Tilt

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—An advertisement in the Buffalo Evening News reads:

"Notre Dame-Army game. 'I have an extra room at Hotel Pennsylvania, but no tickets. If you have two extra tickets, but no room, I'll swap, or if you prefer, I will swap popular brands of cigarettes for tickets. Box V.V.24, News office."

The game, scheduled for next Saturday at the Yankee stadium in New York, was sold out a month ago.

Mrs. Morrison was thrown from the horse and bruised; the horse suffered a broken nose; and the car owner reported $200 damages to his bashed-in automobile.

Police, dutifully recording skid marks which are part of traffic accident reports, announced the horse slid three feet on three hoofs.

Hoosier Hotshot 'Cats Slough Through Rain To 6-0 Win

Hunchy Hoerschmeyer returns to further synchronize Indiana's running and passing game.

The Wildcats sloughed their way through the rain and mud last night at Modoc field to a 6-0 triumph over a husky Merrill eleven. The lighter but more aggressive 'Cats dominated the swim meet from start to finish. Merrill threatened seriously only once and that came in the second stanza when three successive passes put the ball on the Wildcat ten. At this point the local lads dug in and held to take the ball over on downs and end the threat.

Tommy Edwards scored the lone tally of the tilt, after Veitch had set up the score by intercepting a pass on the Merrill 35 and galloping to the 15 before he was nailed. On the next play, Edwards swept around his own right end for the remaining distance just as the gun ended the first period. Coleman's pass for the extra point was incomplete.

The ball sea-sawed back and forth during the remainder of the contest with neither side able to gain any decisive advantage.

The field was a quagmire at the conclusion of the fray but both elevens held on to the wet ball surprisingly well. Edwards, Veitch and Mocabee showed up well in the Wildcat backfield and Eck and Gerbino were outstanding in the forward wall. This was the fifth victory for the 'Cats this season under the tutelage of Paul Angstead.

Bombers Favored Over Rockets In Tilt Sunday

SEATTLE, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Seattle Bombers and the Portland Rockets stage the farewell northwest appearance of the American Professional league here tomorrow with the hometown eleven favored to repeat its two earlier wins.

Both elevens will be at peak strength for the contest with Portland's Jimmie Caine, fleet Georgia halfback, back in shape after being injured two weeks ago. Dean McAdams, Seattle passing and kicking star, also will be back in the Seattle lineup although he probably won't start.

Reward Offered For Hand Grenade Tossers

BEND, Nov. 4 (AP)—A reward has been offered for the discovery of persons who have been tossing homemade hand grenades about Bend with property-damaging effect.

A couple of the "pineapples" tossed from a window, just missed Mayor A. T. Niebergall. A plateglass window in the business section was broken by a grenade, and citizens are almost afraid to show themselves outside their homes.

IT'S WEARING TO WEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—D. Walker Wear of Binghamton, N. Y., sat in on his last New York state athletic commission meeting early this week. Wear says he will go into a new sports venture, January 1, but refused to disclose particulars.

Hawaiian Currency Usable Anywhere Now

PORTLAND, Nov. 4 (AP)—Persons carrying Hawaiian currency now may spend it anywhere they like, the Federal Reserve bank informed Portland banks today.

Previously, the money had to be exchanged at mainland banks for regular U. S. currency.

The bills, which were issued originally as a military precaution for Hawaiian circulation, have the name "Hawaii" overprinted on them.
