The Following is a Transcript Of the Radio Talk Delivered By M. L. SHEPHERD

On Friday Evening, November 3, 1944

I am going to talk to you tonight chiefly, about what I think of public power for Klamath Falls. I do this because, if you elect me your Mayor I intend to give you a good business administration.

Many candidates say that, but we do not always know what they mean by it. Let me tell you what I mean by it.

As a realistic business man, I know that communities do not remain prosperous, and grow, just because their residents want them to. Where they do, there is always a real reason for it—and that reason can be stated in one word, PRODUCTION. Population always remains stable where production is stable, always increases, where production increases, always declines, where production falls off—where there is absolutely no production, there is NO population.

The great economic bases on which every inland town rests, are agricultural production and manufacturing industry.

Klamath Falls is blessed, in being surrounded by that soundest base, for year 'round prosperity, a well established, highly productive agricultural and livestock area. We have no need for worry there.

At the present time the principal attention of the government of Klamath Falls, should be directed to the fact that our manufacturing is too largely confined to one industry, and to only that part of that industry which relates to the production of lumber, neglecting its many by-products; and to devoting every effort towards both increasing the number of our manufacturing plants and diversifying their kinds. And to my mind the first thing we should do to attract the increase in the industrialization we need, is to join in with the rest of the county and bring here the low cost public power which is THE primary requisite, if manufacturing is to come and remain here.

There can be no doubt that low-cost public power does enormously stimulate private industry—that it already has done so in all parts of the west coast where it is available for use. If anyone does doubt this, let him visit Tacoma or Seattle, powered from Bonneville and Grand Coulee dams, or Los Angeles and its surrounding area, powered from Boulder dam.

I believe Klamath Falls must have this cheap power to increase and diversify our manufacturing, to add payrolls devoted to the manufacture of plastics, and other by-products of timber waste, paper mills, woolen mills and for possible development of our mineral resources which we at present know little about.

Cheap power will also enable us to enormously increase our agricultural production, by putting to productive use more of our abundant water supply by bringing into production many acres now undeveloped because of high lifts and high power costs. Qualified observers have stated that by means of low cost power for pumping our productive agricultural area can be increased as much as fifty-three per cent.

And so, if the voters of Klamath Falls choose me as their Mayor, they know what I mean by a good business-like administration. I mean that I will stimulate MORE PRODUCTION in every way because that is the ONLY WAY a stable and prosperous population can be assured, and I have emphasized low cost power in this connection, because it is well known that low cost power is THE primary requisite for industrial production, and, in the semi-arid West, for agricultural production as well.
