The German Ror river line barring the way to the Cologne plain.

To the south, American and French troops advanced two to three miles in bitter progress toward Vosges passes to Germany. In Holland, a front disarray reported capture of the ferry terminus of Willemstad, leaving only scattered enemy troops below the Maas river. The German high command in the new defense line was decided upon after the north bank of the Maas.

Rush Reserves Supreme headquarters dispatched reserves from Arnhem in an attempt to ward off the first army blows—attacks that might mean the feints, or preparation for a major drive.

Berlin's broadcast communique said allied forces hitting toward the Vosges mountains had reached the west bank of the Meurthe river between Baccarat and St. Die.

Villages Taken French troops seized three villages in an arc east of Baccarat, closing on the Schirmeck and Saales passes, supreme headquarters said, and American troops near St. Remy, Nompates and La Salle at the approaches to the Saales and St. Marie passes.

First army troops near the Ror river were meeting the most bitter kind of resistance.

probably silted up and may require considerable dredging.

An idea of Antwerp's importance as a port may be gained from the fact that it has 500 MILES of DOUBLE TRACK rail enabling cargoes to be unloaded directly onto the cars—and so rushed with little delay as the fighting fronts not much more than 100 miles away.

FOR our best slant on the European war, we must turn today to Stalin—who, like Churchill, is a REALIST, not given to uttering mere boasts.

He says:

"The red army and its western allies (meaning us and the British) have taken up JUMPING-OFF POSITIONS for the DEcisive drive against Germany, and we now stand at the EVE of complete victory."

That seems to indicate plainly that the British, on the west, and the Russians on the east are all set to close in on Hitler for the kill.

ALONG that line, an interesting but unconfirmed rumor comes from the European underground to the effect that Hitler has been examined at Berchtesgaden (his mountain retreat) by a BRAIN SPECIALIST.

This writer would say offhand that it is the GERMAN PEOPLE, who are allowing Hitler and his lackeys to lead them to the final and hopeless slaughter, who ought to have their heads examined.

ANOTHER word from Stalin: He says flatly that Hungary will SOON be out of the war. He adds: "The fall of Hungary will signify COMPLETE ISOLATION of Hitlerite Germany, and every catastrophe will follow inevitably."

Woman Remembers She Forgot, But Too Late

The election board in precinct No. 27 here couldn't do a thing to help a woman voter who forgot to mark her ballot for president.

She discovered her mistake just after the folded ballot was dropped into the box, and pleaded that the ballot be retrieved so she could vote for president. Board members explained that they couldn't unlock the box, and there will be at least one ballot in precinct 27 unmarked in the national contest.

She didn't say whom she intended to vote for.

Cabinet Grants Thorez Amnesty

PARIS, Nov. 7 (AP)—The French cabinet today granted amnesty to Communist Leader Maurice Thorez. He may return to Paris now from Moscow to take his place as a member of the consultative assembly.

The decision culminated a year of agitation by the communists for the government to quash desertion charges arising from Thorez's flight from the country during the Daladier government's communist roundup in 1939. At that time, Thorez was a member of the French army.

minds of all marines. In attempting to find a regiment of men worthy to be honored by being members of the new fourth marine regiment, high ranking officers finally grouped the four marine raider battalions into one regiment, and gave them the responsibility of upholding the almost-impossible tradition of heroism of the defenders of Bataan and Corregidor.

Other marine action in the war, particularly in the Pacific theatre, is enough to fill several volumes. These battle names, however, will suffice to remind the American public of the work they have done to preserve our nation: Guadalcanal, Tulagi, Bougainville, Tarawa, Cape Gloucester, the Marshalls, Saipan, Tinian, and Guam.

Veterans of these battles who have contracted tropical diseases, are stationed presently at the Marine Barracks here, and will honor the living and dead members of the corps during their anniversary celebration.

Parents Invited—All parents of Fremont school students are invited to attend visiting day at the school Friday afternoon, starting at 1:30. Model junior high classes will be conducted under the direction of Principal Lowell Kaup. Parents of lower grade pupils are invited to visit those rooms. The regular PTA meeting will also be held, starting at 1 p. m., and adjourning at 1:30 for the model school.

and Roosevelt 21. In 1940, the vote was Willkie 33, Roosevelt 13.

Maspeh, on Cape Cod, gave a count of 89 for Dewey and 81 for Roosevelt. Four years ago the final total was Willkie 97, Roosevelt 89. In the Berkshire Hills, Mt. Washington reported a complete vote of Dewey 29, Roosevelt 8. In 1940, it was Willkie 32, Roosevelt 10.

Candidates Vote
The candidates themselves added their personal ballots to the mounting figures while many hours yet remained before officials generally began to tally the electorate's decision.

President Roosevelt voted before noon at Hyde Park's old town hall. As he did four years ago, he gave his occupation as "tree grower." He raises Christmas trees on his Hudson Valley estate.

At about the same time, Governor Dewey put in his ballot at an automobile tourist bureau serving as a polling place in New York City.

Vote First
There was a line waiting to get in. The Governor and Mrs. Dewey started to take places at the rear of the queue, but those ahead insisted that the Deweys vote first.

As never before, the men and women who had the final say-so on the argument over a fourth term for President or a first for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, hurried to the polls to register their decision.

Between 40 and 45 per cent of registered voters got their ballots in before noon in New York City's Bronx and Manhattan districts.

And it was much the same in other big cities and rural districts as well, with few exceptions.

Despite the emotions stirred by the first wartime election since 1864, voting was orderly on the whole.

Legal Position of Councilman Bussman Challenged by Mayor

Confidence Voted.
John J. Keller, veteran member of the council, asked that the group go on record placing confidence in the chief of police and the police department. A motion to this effect was made by Harvey Martin, seconded by Walter Wiesendanger. When the vote was polled, Bussman was silent, Cantrall said he would vote "no" in view of his present attitude toward the department, and not want to vote "no" against the department. Cantrall said for benefit of the minutes, he was referring to his stand of October 23, when he made a motion that Chief of Police Earl Hevel be removed from office. This motion was not carried through on recommendation of Councilman Bussman, due to the absence of Mayor Houston at that time. Cantrall said he thought the vote should be "separate" on the chief and the department.

Reviews Position
"I would like to say a word in my own defense," Bussman told the council. He then reviewed his position and referred back to minutes of June 5, when he was asked to continue on as "a member of the council."

Councilman Rollin Cantrall then asked the city attorney why, at this time, the council was being advised that Bussman's position was illegal.

"Isn't it the duty of the city attorney to advise the council on matters such as this?" Cantrall queried.

"Never Occurred"
Carnahan replied that it had "never occurred" to him.

During the evening, George P. Davis, chairman of the civil service committee, gave a report on the last four years of that body and termed this period as "turbulent" from the personnel standpoint.

Unfavorable Comment
Davis said that the press had given information to the public not necessarily good for the commission but that the newspapers did not "originate their sources."

He said that unfavorable comment had been made against the police and fire department, members of both bodies being under civil service.

The mayor expressed appreciation to members of the commission who have served without pay and during their term of office.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7 (AP)—Emulating the Germans at Lidice, Japanese have wiped out at least two villages of The Netherlands East Indies with virtually their entire populations, headquarters of Netherlands forces in the Far East announced today.

A village near Medan, on Sumatra, was soaked with kerosene and petrol and burned to the ground. Any inhabitants who tried to escape were shot with machine guns.

A village on Java was set afire by incendiary bombs, and

Good Industrial Chances Predicted

PORTLAND, Nov. 7 (AP)—Portland and Oregon have a good chance for many new industries after the war if efforts are united, W. B. Dobson, Portland's chamber of commerce representative in Washington, said here today.

He said that many eastern firms plan to establish branches on the Pacific coast and are interested in such products as wood alcohol, sugar and lignin from wood pulp, synthetic rubber, plastics, and plywood and aluminum goods.
