Today's Roundup

By MALCOLM EPLEY
A PERIOD of park development for Klamath Falls appears to lie ahead. Voters at the election last week approved the levy for the acquisition of land and work on the Memorial Park in the area on Link river and Lake Ewauna—a project which is expected to lead the way for public and private property improvement throughout the city.
The fact the Memorial Park issue carried, despite some sectional opposition and a growing feeling against any additional taxation, appears to indicate definite public approval of a program that will change the general atmosphere of Klamath Falls as it unfolds.
That was what really lay behind the proposal for the memorial park from the planning commission. The commission had in mind a major improvement that would not only remove an unsightly place in a prominent spot in the city, but would also lift the general tone of the town farther away from the rough boom days. The voters have now given their stamp of approval to the program.

Jail Plan

THIS newspaper has long had the idea that a city-county jail would be a good thing for Klamath Falls. It would solve the city jail problems that have been perennially before the grand jury, and it would tend to eliminate duplication and waste, at the same time increasing law enforcement cooperation and efficiency.
At the election, the voters approved a plan to transfer certain funds into a city-county jail fund, to go with federal financial assistance in constructing a city-county hoosegow. Perhaps the job can be done by adding to present jail building. At any rate, the consolidated jail idea has made a substantial gain as a result of the election, and city and county cooperation in putting some such plan into effect would seem to be in order.

An acquaintance of ours overheard a woman in a beauty shop complaining because "people are so dumb, there's just no use trying to talk to them about politics." Presently, same woman, discussing presidential succession, wasn't sure whether Henry Wallace or Eleanor Roosevelt would become president if FDR should die before inauguration.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON
OUR TOWN, Nov. 13—This is Our Town, U. S. A., the one in which the plumber must hire 12 helpers to keep 6 on the job as the rest earn enough to live satisfactorily laying off half the time, where the bricklayer has given up trying to handle his crew and gone to blacksmithing, where the unskilled laborer wanted $8 a day for washing windows. It is much like your town I suspect, developing curious phenomena as a backwash of war, that need attention.
While progress is thus being made in some

Langell Valley

Mildred Tears of Klamath Falls, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Tears.
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burnett and sons spent Halloween evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Marchant and family. The occasion was Mrs. Marchant's birthday.
Mr. and Mrs. Buster Watkins and daughter of Merrill, are moving to the Frank Peppie ranch which they recently purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Peppie. The Peppies will make their home in Klamath Falls.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Foote and son came over from Henley Tuesday to vote. The vote of T/Sgt. Lakue House of Mesa, Ariz., was the first cast in Langell valley.
Mr. and Mrs. Bell and son Eddie were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peppie and Bob.
Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walker were here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Walker. Glen is in the Seabees and is stationed at Camp Park, Calif.
Mrs. Mary Dearborn of Raina, spent several days last weekend with her daughter, Mrs. Lester Leavitt and family. Joe Roads and Mrs. Ella Roads and Florence Lee, spent Tuesday evening with Mrs. Dearborn and the Leavitt family.

Mt. Laki

Mrs. Howard Jackson is visiting her sister, Mrs. Hudson Barrows near San Francisco, Calif. Shirley Fairclough of OSC, Corvallis and Dorothy Dixon of the Oregon university, Eugene, spent the weekend here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Fairclough and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Dixon.
Mrs. T. D. Jackson has accepted a teaching position in the Henley grade school.

COTTON FOR SOLDIERS

The average soldier requires 250 pounds of cotton equipment, compared with 20 pounds of cotton goods bought annually by the average civilian.

WOMEN'S TIMBER CORPS

Approximately 5000 members of Britain's land army women belong to the timber corps; engaged in cutting and finishing timber for use in the mines.

lines toward a four and three-day week, the local drugist has not been able to hire a helper for three years or more and has had no vacation in that time. His wife is his helper and they open up about 9 a. m. and keep open until 10 or 11 p. m. every day, seven days a week unless tiredness causes them to oversleep and open up late or weariness at the end of the day sends them home earlier. They are conscientious people who would rather go out of business than offer an inferior or unsafe product, and a fairly general example of the trap in which small business is caught. They cannot get enough products to fill the demand and swell their incomes, as some other war incomes have been swollen in this neighborhood. They are patient victims of a new kind of inflation which is not much discussed and not thoroughly understood.

The patience of all the people, in fact, is impressive. In the nearby city more than here, people will stand in sidewalk lines, quietly, good-humoredly, for a half hour or more to get to a ticket window or into a restaurant. Hurried Americans would not do that before the war, or would not take it well if they found it necessary. Patiently they accept inferior cigarettes, food and service at the prices of the best—or more. They even stand, without a murmur, the law-evading prices of the gouging merchant, one of whom told me: "You know I can charge anything I want and get it."

Can "Charge Anything"

HE was nearly right because, in many lines, by cutting quality and service or creating new inferior brands or by any one of a hundred devices difficult or impossible for the customer to detect, he can "charge anything."
The one who told me this was a restaurant proprietor but I can see the same thing is true in other lines. The list prices on the wall concern items that are sold out most of the time. Then there is the roofer. I called one I do not know, who had an advertisement in the paper, to fix two leaks which are ruining the plaster. He questioned me closely about the nature of the job and then told me: "If we do not get out next week, you will know we could not handle the job." In the end he made it rather clear that he selected only work from which he could make the most money. If I wanted a roof put on he could do it, but he would not fix small leaks. I guess it will leak all winter unless I fix it myself.
I finally contracted for some painting. The painter did half the job, then as it was Saturday he said he needed money to pay his men, so I paid him up to date. He never returned to finish the other half of the job. I thought he might be waiting for a rainy day to do the interior work, but we had a week of rain thereafter and he never showed up. I reached the conclusion he must also have chosen another job in the middle of mine.

Common Examples

NOW these are not amusing symptoms from a single community but striking and common examples of a new kind of national inflation which does not show in price or manpower statistics or problems as handled in Washington.
Mr. Roosevelt, in his campaign, recognized one of the points involved. He promised high wages for a "full" work week, the first time I can recall he mentioned the word "full." This may mean some action is coming to promote full national production by available manpower. But if he contemplates only another national wage increase as suggested, it will complicate the problem, the essence of which is that the people have two or three times as much money as the goods they can buy, and a seller's market is demoralizing war economics.
The proper time economically for a wage increase is when lay-offs start in war production, after defeat of Germany, so as to take up that slack in purchasing power and maintain the existing level of national income. Otherwise more irresistible impetus will be added to the inflationary impulses already noticeable everywhere except in the statistics.
The president said something in his Boston speech about having cured inflation. I think he still has a lot of work to do on it.

Coast Guard Stomps UO Hoopsters Twice

EUGENE, Nov. 13 (P)—The inexperienced University of Oregon basketball team dropped its second decision to Seattle Coast Guard here Saturday night, 53-44. The Seattle team won 67-58 Friday night.
The series was the first of a 21-game pre-northern division schedule for the Webfoot.
Bob Hamilton, Oregon guard and leading northern division scorer last year, was high point man, with 15.

Seattle Sixes Lead Coast Hockey League

By The Associated Press
Seattle's two Pacific Coast Hockey league sixes continued to dominate the race last night with the leading ironmen downing Portland's Eagles 3-1 on two first period goals, and the Stars blasting Vancouver, Wash., 8-5 under a flurry of five counters in the third frame.

BAD SNOW STORM

TAHOE CITY, Calif., Nov. 13 (P)—The worst early winter storm since 1941 piled snow over the Tahoe country during the weekend, disrupting power and telephone service and blocking secondary roads.
There was 18 inches of soggy snow on the ground here when the heavy fall of dry snow started.

CASH WHEAT PRICES ADVANCE SLIGHTLY

PORTLAND, Nov. 13 (P)—Cash wheat prices at Portland advanced one to two cents a bushel on some ordinary types and higher protein qualities at the end of last week, the war food administration reported today.
The rise was attributed to extremely light offerings rather than to any important demand at terminals, whose calls were still very limited.
The WFA reported an increasingly serious boxcar shortage was bogging down the already slow movement of grain. Car orders of several weeks' standing remain unfilled, the weekly grain review said.

Will Faith Only Save A Man?

Many in the religious world teach that the only requisite to salvation is faith. The doctrine of "Faith Only" is not only a comforting doctrine as one manual explains it, but it is quite a popular doctrine. However, let us to the writer James of the New Testament agree with his doctrine.
James 1:26 says, "For as the body apart from the dead, even so faith without works is dead." Now, the New Testament after the institution of the Church was any man ever saved by faith only? Certainly one of the requirements before one can be saved is going too far. We must prove our faith by our works. James says, "Yes, a man will say, Thou hast faith, have works; show me thy faith apart from thy works; I by my works will show thee my faith."
The doctrine of "Faith Only" is like a man rowing a boat with only one oar. In order to pursue a straight course a man must have two oars. In the religious realm the oars might well compare with "faith" and "works," both to please God.
James says that even the devils have faith. He says that that is not enough. "Thou believest that God is, thou doest well; the devils also believe, and shudder; wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith apart from works is barren? Was not Abraham our father justified by works in that he offered up Isaac his son upon the altar? seest that faith wrought with his works, and by works faith made perfect." (Jas. 2: 19-22).
