Annual Battle Between Service Teams May Become Part of Sixth War Loan

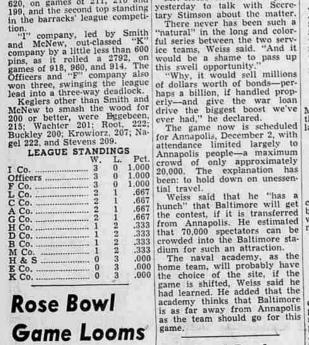

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (P)
President Roosevelt today appeared to have checked to the war and navy secretaries—and ODT—the question of shifting the Army-Navy football game to a big town setting.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early reported this morning that the president has not yet received recommendations from

Post Keglers Set Record Mark Monday

Monday night on the post alleys, in the Marine Barracks inter-company bowling league, Sgt. Clyde McNew and Sgt. Clifford Smith had two of the hottest nights of any of the keglers. McNew hit 206, 191, and 227 to total 624, the highest series the league has had since the alleys opened. Smith came up with 620, on games of 211, 210 and 199, and the second top standing in the barracks' league competition.

"I" company, led by Smith and McNew, out-classed "K" company by a little less than 600 pins, as it rolled a 2792, on games of 918, 960, and 914. The

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES—Manuel Or tiz, 117, El Centro, Calif., TKO Luis Castillo, 117, Mexico City,

Our football prognosticator, Johnny Foster, has left for Los Angeles where he will remain for a while, and we found the following note in our type-writer when we arrived this morning. We wish Johnny the best of luck and have enjoyed working with him through the grid season.

GUEST DEPARTMENT

Back in the GUEST DEPARTMENT, back with my back to the wall and back for a few more last scrib'slings.
Last night I picked up the paper and turned to the sports'
page first, like I always do, and started glancing about for news. . . Brother, I found it and it was all about your prognosticator.

nosticator.

Guess I was a matter of discussion at the Quarterback club by our coach because I said Bend would whip Klamath by that now familiar 19 to 6 score.

by our coach because I said Bend would whip Klamath by that now familiar 19 to 6 score.

Being a prognesticator, and I still claim to be a shadow of one, I looked at the odds and old games and came to the conclusion that Bend had the better team. I hadn't seen them play on dry or wet turf.

When the Klamath BQYS came out on the field and had played their hearts out on the slippery and goocy terrain and pulled through with victory over Bend, it didn't surprise me at all, because I saw Klamath play its best game of the scason.

I graduated from KUHS a few years back and wherever I traveled since, I have always kept tab of our grid squad. I know a rood number of the football players: I've seen a couple of the backfield players grow up from grade school on and they know I've always been 100 per cent with them and wished them all luck before each game.

After they beat Bend, a few of them showed up at the dance that night and called me over and heckled me about my predictions. Deep down it made me feel good to tap em on the shoulder and sort of laugh off my blunder and they laughed it off with me. Those are the kids I know, swell fellows, and I'm pretty sure that they know they could ask me to do anything for them and I'd readily accept.

It's a funny thing, I haven't met our coach. Believe me, Marble, I do follow football and have for some time. Our Klamath Pelicans ended up the grid season on a 50-50 basis, and that isn't bad. They came out with three wins, three losses and one tie. Here are the final scores against each opponent for the season.

Samuel Jackson Snead, the hill-billy with the perfect swing in golf, is back on the tournament fairways to give winter golf the same lift Babe Ruth would give baseball. Yes sir, Siammin' Sammy's back right where he left off to enter the navy. After receiving a medical discharge because of a bum back, Jackson toured a course in Atlantic City in 68 and to prove it was no fluke, fired a par-shattering 66 in Philly a few days later.

losses and one tie. Here are the final scores against each opponent for the season:

K. F. 0. Grant 33.

K. F. 18. Salem 0.

K. F. 12. Ashland 12.

K. F. 12. Grants Pass 0.

K. F. 12. Grants Pass 0.

K. F. 13. Bend 6.

This adds to a total of 61 points accred by the Pelicans against 70 marked up by their opponents. This breaks down to an average of 8.7 points per game for the K-men against an average of 10 markers per tilt for their opponents.

Everything considered, we think Coach Marble Cook and his Pelicans did a darn good job for the season. We said early in the season that the boys were starting at the bottom of the gridiron ladder with a new coach, a new system and a new team. They progressed steadily, however, after their 33-0 shellacking by Grant and were never beaten near that badly again.

In fact, Grant rolled up almost half the points scored against the Pelicans all year in that opening debaele.

The boys were in there doing to prove it was no fluke, fired a par-shattering 66 in Philly a few days later.

Sam was the leading money winner of colfdom in 1938, copping 19,600 simoleons, and just before he entered the service he walked off with the PGA championship at Seaview, hard by Atlantic City, this in 1942.

Strange as it seems, this tourney was the first major trophy that the Big Boy of golfdom had ever captured. Everyone, including Sam, thought he was in with the United States Open crown in 1937 with 283 for the distance, when Ralph Guldahi came roaring home with a record 281.

Guldahl nosed the King of Swing out in the Masters at Atlanta with the incredible feat of shooting the last nine in 34 shots. Samuel was in with a record 280. Guldahl promptly lowered it to 279.

The biggest explosion of all came in the National Open of 1839 when he had the title practically nailed down only to take an eight on the last hole! But the boys who should know, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and others, say that Slammin' Sammy has the perfect against the Pelicans all year in that opening debacle.

The boys were in there doing their best in every ball game and a 50-50 break is not bad in any league, especially when they met the probable state champs in Medford.

So let's slam the lid on the 1944 Klamath Union high school grid season with the thought that the local lads played the game for all they were worth and played it to the hilt.

Once under way, Ortiz turned on a stream of right crosses and uppercuts that flowed straight to a technical knockout in the ninth. Their slugging match last night was the titleholder's twelfth defense of his crown, and his second victory over Castillo by the T.K.O. route. Ortiz rallied after being floor
