

Farm Production Goals Set by WFA For Record Year

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—War Food Administrator Marvin Jones called upon farmers today for another all-out production year in 1945.

Assuming continuance of the war in Europe until next summer or next fall, and consequent heavy military and lend-lease demand, Jones set production goals closely resembling 1944's.

"We must make certain," Jones said, "that we have plenty for our allies and for relief needs."

"We cannot risk the possibility of a shortage," Jones recommended about the same total crop acreage as planted this year, but with some changes as to individual crops.

His livestock goals call for slight increases in the number of pigs farrowed, in milk production and in beef cattle slaughtered but a 16 per cent reduction in egg production.

The 1945 goals and the 1944 planted acreage or production, respectively, include:

Wheat 67,640,000 and 66,705,000 acres.

FESTIVAL SLATED FOR HOMEMAKERS

Groundwork for a spring festival to be held about the first of May for Klamath county homemakers, was laid Monday afternoon when members of the Klamath home extension county committee put their heads together at a regular meeting of the group in the office of Home Demonstration Agent Winnifred K. Gillen.

County committee members plan to attend a festival in one of the neighboring communities before making final plans for the one in this community.

Other matters taken under advisement by the county committee included a special meeting for extensionists on time and motion saving methods of doing household chores, to be conducted in January by Mrs. Gillen.

The group made plans for a speaking tour of extension units and other civic organizations by Dr. James Miller, Portland, a speaker on the value and appreciation of democracy.

Women in attendance at the Monday county committee meeting were Mrs. Rex High, chairman, Poe valley; Mrs. W. S. Mettler, Altamont; Mrs. Dave Campbell, Bly; Mrs. E. E. Kilpatrick, Merrill, and Mrs. William Williams, Henley, and Mrs. Gillen.

Tax Information Available At County Agent's Office

With December 15 the important annual income tax date for farmers, the county agent's office has obtained a supply of explanatory bulletins, report blanks and other information for any farmers in Klamath county desiring such assistance. County Agent Henderson announced today.

S. E. KIRK ELECTED NEW GRANGE MASTER

S. E. Kirk, a full-blooded Indian of the Klamath reservation, has been elected as master of the Fort Klamath grange. Kirk attended a meeting of the Pomona grange at Malin on November 11 to receive special instructions, and will participate in the joint installation of subordinate grange officials to be held at Henley on December 13.

Kirk is one of nine candidates for the two positions of tribal delegate to Washington, at an election to be held on the reservation November 18.

The Klamath Indian received considerable attention last summer when he attended the state grange session. Kirk attended the Carlisle Indian school and has been a member of the Klamath Indian business committee for 20 years.
