

Alaskans Oppose Indian Reservations

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 16 (AP)—Strong views in opposition to the proposed establishment of reservations for southeast Alaska Indians were expressed yesterday in statements by Alaska's governor, Ernest Gruening and Delegate-Elect E. L. Bartlett.

Said Gruening in a message from Washington D. C., to the Alaska Native Brotherhood convention at Kake: "As far as reservations are concerned, I wish to state my own personal view that they are most undesirable. I feel that any effort to put the Tlingly people on reservations would be a step backward."

Said Bartlett: "As delegate I will oppose with all the vigor at my command the creation of a wholesale system of reservations for the exclusive use of the natives in the southeast or any other part of Alaska."

ENJOY INEXPENSIVE PRIZE-WINNING ORANGE MARMALADE

It's Easy To Make Anytime With This Simple Recipe

- 6 Medium Sized Oranges (2 lbs. Sliced)
- 6 Cups Water
- 1/2 Cup Lemon Juice (About 6 lemons)
- 1 Package M.C.P. Pectin
- 1/2 Level Cups Sugar (Measured ready for use)

1. Cut oranges in cartwheels with very sharp knife to make slices thin as possible. Discard the large flat peel ends. Sliced fruit should weigh 2 pounds.
2. Put sliced fruit in 5-quart kettle. Add the water and lemon juice.
3. Bring to a quick boil; boil gently for 1 hour (uncovered). If peel is not tender in 1 hour, boil until tender.
4. Measure the cooked material. Due to boiling, the volume will be reduced below 7 cups. Add water to make total peel and juice exactly 7 cups.
5. Put back in kettle. Stir in M.C.P. Pectin; continue stirring and bring to a full boil.
6. Add sugar (previously measured). Stir gently until it has reached a full rolling boil, and BOIL EXACTLY 4 MINUTES. Remove from fire; skim and stir by turns for 5 minutes.
7. Pour into jars. If you use pint or quart jars, seal hot and invert jars on lids until marmalade begins to set. Then, shake well and set jars upright. This keeps the peel evenly distributed throughout.

NOTE: This recipe works equally well with Navel Oranges or Valencia. When either variety is overripe and peel is soft, use 3/4-cup Lemon Juice instead of 1/2-cup. (Be sure to discard any seeds.) This recipe makes 7 pounds of prize-winning Orange Marmalade.

PRIEST DOUBTFUL OF JAPS' FUTURE

SEATTLE, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Rev. Leopold Tibesar, Catholic priest who gave up his pastorate here to follow his "flock" of Japanese-Americans to evacuation camps, said yesterday he had grave doubts that Japanese who were evacuated from the Pacific northwest in 1942 ever again would be able to enjoy "the normal, peaceful lives they deserve as American citizens."

Speaking at a Quaker-sponsored meeting on the postwar problems of minority groups, he said:

"I hope I'm wrong in holding such thoughts, but recent developments lead me to believe that the lives of these Japanese now in relocation centers would be so disturbed after their return it would be impossible for them to attain a normal life."

Father Leopold referred to a "vocally dominant group" in the area working against the return of the Japanese but did not mention directly the "Remember Pearl Harbor League," composed of residents in the White and Puyallup river valleys, formed with the express purpose of blocking the return of Japanese to extension holdings they occupied in the valleys before the war.

In its finished form the chart will guide the Navy's fighting men in operations in the Pacific zone. In existence two years, there's still a need in the WAVES for thousands of patriotic young women—20 to 36, without children under 18—whose starting pay, counting food and quarters, will be $141.50 a month, plus many "extras" and post-war advantages.

Bone to Be Sworn In As Justice

OLYMPIA, Nov. 16 (AP)—Homer T. Bone will be sworn in at San Francisco today as a justice of the ninth circuit court of appeals.

His resignation as senator received at Governor Arthur Langley's office yesterday. State Democratic Chairman Harry Huse immediately moved to obtain the appointment of Senator-Elect Warren G. Magnuson to fill Bone's unexpired term.

Huse pointed out that an appointment now would give the Washington senator a seniority over other "freshmen" taking office after the first of the year.

Twice during the harvest and packing season just finished, Del Monte has reported that apparently there would be less canned fruits and vegetables for civilians this winter.

This picture hasn't improved, in spite of the industry's strenuous efforts to increase total packs. Both housewives and grocers will need to use a great deal of intelligence and patience in the months ahead.

To help, we are giving you the best answers now available to the questions you are probably asking about this whole situation.

Just what can you expect in canned fruits and vegetables?

The fruit pack this year came close to that of 1941, the largest in history—a magnificent job made possible by earnest cooperation of growers, packers and workers.

But greatly increased military needs have sharply reduced the civilian share of canned fruits. There will be 1/5 to 1/4 less for civilians than last year. In total, fruits will be available to civilians in very limited quantities.

As for vegetables, bad weather and manpower difficulties reduced the 1944 pack below last year's, while government requirements almost doubled.

As a result, the total civilian supply of canned vegetables apparently will be about 1/5 less than last year.

For a quick summary, see table below.

Will the end of the European war change this picture?

There could be a radical change in the civilian supply of canned vegetables if military quotas are reduced or substantial quantities released from military stockpiles.

So far, however, there has been no definite indication that the end of the European hostilities will enable the military to greatly change its requirements immediately.

What can you do to keep your meals up to par this winter?

You, like many other American women, have probably already discovered that sticking to a dependable quality brand is one of the best answers to shortages.

There are so many different Del Monte Foods that even when you can't find exactly the one you'd planned on, you may still find another Del Monte Food to meet your needs.

That way, you are always sure of the quality and flavor—less food is wasted, and all your meals are more satisfying.

What about your chances of finding Del Monte?

Again, we emphasize that all Del Monte foods will continue to be apportioned fairly to our distributors throughout the country.

Deliveries will also be spread throughout the year, giving you a chance to find at least some varieties of Del Monte Foods on your grocer's shelves at most times.

Whose fault is it when you can't get what you want?

Certainly, it's not your grocer's! It's just an unavoidable wartime situation—one that makes things harder for him.

So continue to give your grocer your patience and understanding. It will help him serve you better.

Here's your quick summary of this winter's canned fruit and vegetable prospects

CANNED FRUITS
PEACHES	You will probably be able to purchase an amount slightly less than half last year's supply.
PIERS	Larger pack, but larger government requirements will leave civilians less than half last year's short supply.
FRUIT COCKTAIL	Amount available to home front is about half of last year's limited supply.
APRICOTS	A bumper crop will give you more than usual, even in normal times.
PINEAPPLE	Harvest light again this year. You will get about 1/4 average 1935-39 consumption, and much less than last year.
CANNED VEGETABLES
PEAS	Amount for civilians will be about 1/4 below last year.
CORN	Bad weather reduced crop. Consumer should expect about 1/4 less corn this coming year.

ASPARAGUS	Larger pack offset by increased military quotas. Still you will get only slightly less than last year.
BEANS	Look for slightly less than you bought last year.
BEETS	Packs not complete. Much larger government quotas. Supply for civilians about the same as last year.
TOMATOES	Civilian supply severely cut by weather and manpower difficulties and higher military requirements. Probably about 60% of last year's supply.
CANNED JUICES
PINEAPPLE JUICE	Only 1/2 to 1/4 of amount consumers would ordinarily buy will be available.
GRAPEFRUIT JUICE	Very large pack was anticipated, but recent hurricane damage probably means you'll get materially less than last year.
TOMATO JUICE	Big pack, but larger government requirements, resulting in slightly smaller civilian supply this year.
