

HOUSING LACK DISCUSSED BY G OF C GROUP

The community advertising committee met at 10 o'clock at the chamber of commerce on Wednesday morning to discuss the housing problem that is facing Klamath Falls at the present time. This committee is aware of the reaction of servicemen to the lack of housing accommodations and is trying to help with this problem as a part of its civic responsibility.

By way of summarizing what has already been done, Charles Stark informed the committee that 80 units are now being started for occupancy by navy and marine personnel.

Both the navy and marine corps are planning surveys of their future housing needs, and on the basis of the results, the committee will go about getting necessary housing units.

The chamber of commerce has actively worked toward supplying additional housing, and will continue in this respect, coordinating efforts with the navy and marine corps.

Both navy and marine officers were represented at the meeting, including Lt. Col. George O. Van Orden, Major Clyde Roberts and Captain Frederick G. Lewis of the Marine Barracks, and Cmdr. R. R. Daron, Lt. John M. Babcock, and Lt. A. W. Martin of the naval air station. Lt. Babcock and Lt. Martin are handling construction at both the navy base and the Marine Barracks.

Stark feels that there are still vacancies in Klamath Falls that could be filled by the ever increasing amount of service men and women that are coming here, and it would be greatly appreciated if families would rent extra rooms in their homes in order to help with this vital problem.

Troops Confined Under this threat of violence, authorities kept a waiting troop train idle on a siding and the English-speaking troops were confined to the barracks.

(In Vancouver, a spokesman for Pacific command said late last night that the train had left Terrace on schedule and without interference.) Protest demonstrations of a less violent nature were staged elsewhere in British Columbia, all of these involving English-speaking units, and sporadic demonstrations by small groups and individuals occurred in other parts of Canada.

she doubtless hopes to retain her hold on at least Sumatra and maybe Borneo and Java in the Dutch East Indies. The Japs are grandiose little devils, and it isn't unlikely that they have it in mind to try to move over to the Asiatic mainland and become a continental power if and when they have to give up their island empire.

THEY have considerable productive capacity already in Manchuria. It is likely that in the conquered parts of China they have been building up their industrial capacity to the extent of their ability.

But they are STARTING LATE. From here on out it will be a race between Jap ability to keep going in their industrial homeland while building up a new industrial machine on the continent and OUR ability to wreck their ENTIRE industrial set-up (both in the homeland and on the continent) by sustained air attack.

We don't have to GUESS entirely as to the outcome of the race, for we have our experience with highly industrialized Germany and the industrialized slave states by which she had surrounded herself to go by.

In about a year and a half of a sustained bombing of GERMANY'S industrial production—and in industrial genius the Japs are very far indeed from equaling the Germans.

EXPENSES OF CANDIDATES UNDER LIMITS

any of these specified persons shall be deemed to be that of the candidate himself.

Under this construction of the law neither of the four candidates for the office of mayor of Klamath Falls mentioned by you, regardless of whether he is a candidate or nominee, has exceeded the limitation prescribed by law as to the amount of money to be expended by each, and for that reason I take it there is no violation of the law, and there does not appear to be any reasonable ground for prosecution of the applicants.

In view of the fact that all candidates for mayor ran in the general election, filing by nominating petitions, the question also arose as to whether the 13 per cent or 10 per cent limitation should rule. Neuner pointed out, however, that the expense of none of the candidates, as paid by him personally exceeded either limitation, and therefore the question need not be considered further.

Sisemore said there was never doubt about the legality of expenditures as reported by M. L. Shepherd and Kenneth McLeod, the third and fourth men in the mayor's race.

D. A. Muat Inquire Under state law, the district attorney, when a question concerning such matters is called to his attention, must inquire into the facts and proceed if there appears to be reasonable grounds for prosecution. If he does not do so, he may forfeit his office, Sisemore said he proceeded immediately under this provision when the question arose.

The circuit court has jurisdiction in cases of violation of the expenditures section of the corrupt practices act. The law provides for penalties, including forfeiture of office in case of successful candidates, and fines and imprisonment. It also provides, however, that the court may not exact such punishment if it finds in its discretion that the violation was trivial, or due to a miscalculation, or did not arise from a want of good faith. In such cases, the successful candidate may be permitted to take the office to which he was elected.

The school has doubled its quota and will continue to add to this amount.

WFA Extends Spud Price Support Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) The war food administration today extended its price support program for 1944-grown Irish potatoes until next April.

Extension of the program, originally set to expire January 1, was prompted, the WFA said, by an unusual rate of movement of late potatoes from surplus producing states this fall. "Extension of the price supports commitments into the spring of 1945 is expected to encourage growers and shippers in the surplus producing states to sell at a more normal rate while affording them greater security against the possibility of declining markets," the WFA said.

Negro Workers Duel With Hammer, Knife

PORTLAND, Nov. 29 (AP)—Two negro shipyard workers, who fought a duel with a six-pound sledgehammer and a long-bladed pocket knife, were imprisoned today.

Idaho to Give Double Thanks

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 29 (AP)—Idaho made ready today for its second official 1944 Thanksgiving tomorrow, an observance which will be marked generally by church services and family dinners.

Some western and northern Idaho communities picked last Thursday—the date observed nationally—for their local observance and store closing, but the majority waited for the state legislature's November 30 date.

State and local governmental offices close on both dates but the 1943 state law in addition to ordering the governor to proclaim the last Thursday in November provides that any date named by the president also shall be observed as a legal state holiday.

slans cleared the enemy from the right bank of the Tisza river, occupying an additional 14 populated places. The advances measured up to 14 miles on two closely linked fronts that total more than 110 miles.

The soviet communiqué said 400 Germans were killed and 130 captured in the fighting for the Slovak town of Vysni Svidnik, while another 600 were captured at a highway junction on the Hungarian border.

Advance General Vysni Svidnik, captured after bitter fighting, is in the southern approach of Dukla pass and 10 miles southwest of the Polish border. The advance in Slovakia was general down to the Hungarian border north of Nyiregyhaza, and within 25 miles of the Slovakian strongholds of Kassa and Presov.

Crossing of the Tisza put the last 35-mile stretch of the river in soviet hands northeast from Tokaj (Tokay). The river's lower reaches below Tokaj were already Russian-held.

Pelican Students Set Bond Example

Klamath county's quota in the 6th War Loan would be well over the mark if individuals were able to follow in the footsteps of Pelican school children.

Since November 1, students and teachers have purchased the astonishing total of $8184.65 in bonds and stamps. Several students and one teacher invested in large bonds which upped the school's quota considerably. Sales are held each Tuesday at the school.
