Currin's

If you don't wait too long, you can get Rubinstein boxed sets, in either Apple Blossom or Heaven-Sent fragrances, to present as gifts this Christmas.

Currin's has a pretty good-sized shipment in stock now... Not so large as Vance Vaupel wanted, because Rubinstein products are so tremendously popular, but still I was surprised at the number of boxes in these days when the manufacturer has to ration the goods.

The sets are of all combinations, anywhere from two things up to five or six... And include such items as perfume, cologne, lipstick, bath oil, toilet water, soap, dusting powder and face powder.

The Apple Blossom sets come in four prices... $2.00 up to $8.50, plus tax... While the Heaven-Sent line has five price stages ranging from $2.25 to $7.50, plus tax.

Currin's also carries combination sets in various other manufacturers' lines, including Hudson, Coty, Max Factor, Fussy, Roger and Gallet, and others.

Currin's for Drugs is at the corner of Ninth and Main streets, you know.

Moe's

BELIEVE it or not, but furs actually are lower in price now than last year... Even though the tax is higher... And if you are skeptical, ask at Moe's.

Where I got the information while looking over the new furs that had just arrived yesterday. Incidentally, Moe's has received some beautiful coats in regular and three-quarter lengths... Jackets, too... And 3-skin, 4-skin and 5-skin fur scarfs.

Of course, to appeal to all tastes and purses, there is a wide range in the types of furs and the prices... $69.50 to $398.

Moe's is at 512 Main Street.

Art & Gift Shop

HAVE you seen the new Lucite candlesticks, picture frames, flower bowls, trays and things? The ones at the Art and Gift Shop are simply exquisite... Beautifully turned, softly clear and well-nigh unbreakable.

This shop carries Lucite items in two shades of green as well as the better known colorless glass-like type.

And it's amazingly inexpensive for something so beautiful... A pair of candlesticks costs only $1.95... The low flower bowls, $2.95 to $4.95, depending on size... and other items accordingly.

The Art and Gift Shop, of course, carries crystal things, too... Including hard-to-get ones like console sets and ball-shaped rose bowls in sizes up to 10 inches.

At 519 Main Street.

Studio of Beauty

EVERY once in a while some gal tells me that the head man in her family has been making snooty remarks about the money she spends to make her hair and face more attractive... So when Fern Short, at the Studio of Beauty, showed me an article entitled, "Is Beauty Worth Half a Billion?", I thought I'd pass on an interesting excerpt... Here it is:

"Dr. Iago Galston of the Academy of Medicine feels that one of the greatest threats to civilian morale is the interruption of familiar personal routine. Psychiatrists explain the thing in terms of conditioned reflexes and the like, but what it amounts to is that by depriving a whole nation of women of their creams and rouges, you would actually produce a wholesale sense of insecurity."

Along that same line, here is one paragraph of a letter from England, from Marie Disspaha, to the editor of the magazine, "Modern Beauty Shop":

"All through the course of the blitz, women continued to get beauty service. It was like a lesson in applied psychology—those who were most neatly groomed and best made up seemed to be the most fearless and dependable in fulfilling their duties under action."

Fern suggested the best answer, I think, to the man who makes remarks about your beauty preparations... She said to try asking HIM if he'd like you to leave off all make-up and to wear your hair "au naturel" without benefit of a hair-do.

Whytal's

YOU probably saw, in a recent issue of "Life," the pictures of old-fashioned "dog collars" that the gals are wearing again around their throats... So I thought you'd like to know that you can get them at Whytal's.

These are black velvet bands studded with silver or gold ornaments, or with front pieces of gold, silver or pearl beads... Which are adorable with low-necked evening frocks.

Whytal's also has combs to match the dog collars... $2.00 for the collar and $2.00 per comb.

Lots of new costume jewelry has arrived at Whytal's recently... Including new pins, and earrings to match, of sterling set with colored stones... And seed pearl chokers... And regular sized pearls... And new "watch chain" lapel ornaments.

There are, in fact, all kinds of costume jewelry at Whytal's jewelry counter, priced from $1.00 up to $25.00... Plus tax, of course.

Whytal's is at Ninth and Main Streets, you know.

PERMITS DECLINE

PORTLAND, Dec. 1 (AP)—Building permits issued here in November totaled $209,640, a sharp decline from the $994,135 figure for the corresponding month last year.

November bank clearings, however, were nearly $90,000,000 higher than last year at the same time, the total being $353,242,135.58.

79.7 PER CENT VOTE IN FALL BALLOT RACES

SALEM, Dec. 1 (AP)—A total of 79.74 per cent of all persons registered cast their ballots in the November general election in Oregon, compared with the record figure of 79.79 per cent in 1940, Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell Jr., said today.

The total vote for president was 480,147, compared with the 1940 presidential vote of 489,441. This year's vote, however, was considered exceptionally large because of the large number of service men who didn't vote, and because of the many war workers who couldn't vote since they had changed their addresses.

The percentage of voters in 1936 was 77.6, and it was 77.7 in 1932.

President Roosevelt, in spite of the otherwise republican sweep in Oregon, carried the state by 23,270 votes over Thomas E. Dewey.

Wayne Morse, republican who was elected United States senator, received the largest vote of any candidate for statewide office, while his opponent, Edgar Smith, got the smallest.

The only close race was that for attorney general, in which George Neuner, republican incumbent, won reelection over Bruce Spaulding by 386 votes.

Merten, Wilson to Die January 15

OREGON CITY, Dec. 1 (AP)—Henry W. Merten and Walter L. Wilson, convicted of fatally shooting an Oak Grove baker in a holdup, July 22, 1943, were sentenced today to die in the state prison's lethal gas chamber, January 15.

Judge Earl C. Latourette represented the pair after their appeal to the state supreme court failed.

Ralph Dehlen, 27, died December 7, 1943 from wounds received when he was shot in the back during a July tavern robbery. Merten and Wilson were convicted here last February of the slaying.

Coupe Plows Through Fence, Downs Gate

Herman Lusk, farmer, reported to state police that a yellow coupe bearing a Washington state license, plowed through his fence posts and knocked down a gate shortly after 6 p. m., Thursday.

Lusk lives on a small acreage 200 yards from the Lenox junction. Damage came to between $35 and $40, he reported to state officers.

Tire Quotas Up, But 'A' Card Hopes Down

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (AP)—Passenger tire quotas total 2,000,000 this month for the first time but "A" card motorists may not get new tires until spring.

OPA indicated this last night in announcing that some passenger tire facilities may be diverted to producing jeep tires.

"Production increases anticipated for passenger tires may not be realized for some time," OPA said. Further reductions may be made in civilian quotas of heavy truck and bus tires, it added.

Last Section of Red Steam Raised

PORTLAND, Dec. 1 (AP)—The last section of the sunken Russian steamer Illitch was raised from the Willamette river by U. S. engineers here yesterday.

The stern section weighed approximately 150 tons.

A woman cook was drowned and crew members were imperiled when the vessel capsized and sank suddenly, June 24.

ARGUS SOLD TO CURTIS

SALEM, Dec. 1 (AP)—The Ontario Argus, oldest newspaper in Malheur county, has been sold to Ralph Curtis, former managing editor of the Oregon Statesman, it was disclosed here today.

George K. Alken, state budget director, has published the paper since 1916.

FLIERS KILLED MOUNTAIN HOME, Ida.

Dec. 1 (AP)—Four army fliers were killed in the crash of a Liberator bomber 10 miles northwest of the Mountain Home air base last night, Col. Curtis D. Sluman, station commandant, said today.

PORTLAND YOUTH ATTEMPTS RESCUE

PORTLAND, Dec. 1 (AP)—A 17-year-old Portland boy, Don Robbins, risked his life here yesterday in a vain attempt to save that of a woman he saw jump into the Willamette river from the Burnside bridge.

Young Robbins leaped 75 feet off the center span of the bridge, after he saw the unidentified woman jump when he was crossing the structure in a bus. He hurried out of the vehicle at the end of the bridge, ran back to the span and dived in after removing his shoes and coat.

For 15 minutes he searched for the woman until harbor boats arrived, and although the river was dragged at that point, the body was not found.

BOND SALES SLOW

PORTLAND, Dec. 1 (AP)—Oregon had reached only 23.4 per cent of its $107,000,000 6th War Loan goal today, with two weeks left to go. War bond sales of $25,128,243 have been counted.

E. bond sales of $8,486,299 climbed slightly higher, marking 24.9 per cent of a $34,000,000 quota.

KAISER WORKERS TURN OUT FLATTOPS

SEATTLE, Dec. 1 (AP)—Workers at the Kaiser shipyards in Vancouver, Wash., turned out most of the "baby flattops" of the fleet which engaged a Japanese task force in the battle of Leyte gulf, October 24. Undersecretary of Navy Ralph Beard disclosed last night in a statement released here by the 13th naval district.

Beard's statement said in part: "These ships were originally employed as one of the answers to the submarine menace in the Atlantic. Their successful use in support of amphibious assault operations in the Pacific demonstrates their adaptability.

"This highly successful employment of your CVE's in a job far more hazardous than those for which they were originally designed will, I am sure, prove an inspiration to all the men and women working on the present top priority program of assault shipping which is needed to gain full advantage of the work of the forces in the Pacific, including the work of those 'baby flattops.'"

Great Britain's population is about one-third of that of the United States and it has a national income of about one-fifth of the U. S. national income.

Round-Trip Flight Added to Route

PORTLAND, Dec. 1 (AP)—United Air Lines now operates six round-trip flights between Portland and San Francisco, adding the last one yesterday.

The new flight leaves Portland at 10:40 a. m., Medford at 12:23 p. m., and arrives in San Francisco at 1:33 p. m. It leaves San Francisco at 4:15 p. m., Medford at 7:04 p. m., and gets into Portland at 8:35 p. m.

Dr. John T. Monahan, Resident Optometrist

In the first 18 months of U. S. participation in the war, accidents in factories, on streets and highways, in homes and on farms, killed and injured more Americans than were lost in war operations!

MOST ACCIDENTS CAN BE PREVENTED

In the year 1943... 97,500 persons were killed and 350,000 were permanently disabled by accidents. And the figures for 1944 will be even higher!

MOST ACCIDENTS CAN BE PREVENTED

During the first year of the war people were more careful. They watched out at work, at home, on the streets, highways—remembered accident prevention rules. Result: a reduction in the accident rate.

MOST ACCIDENTS CAN BE PREVENTED

But in 1943 and 1944 carelessness and other factors brought an increase in accidents. Among some of the people war always means a reckless devil-may-care attitude.

MOST ACCIDENTS CAN BE PREVENTED

And you can save a life—perhaps your own—by taking a little more care at work, at home, on the streets and highways. You can do your share in preventing these casualties on the home front.

MOST ACCIDENTS CAN BE PREVENTED

Here's what you can do to Save a Life!

TRAFFIC

1. Observe the speed regulations.
2. Check periodically on brakes, lights and other equipment.
3. Obey all traffic signals, signs and markings.
4. Be prepared at all times to stop for unforeseen emergencies.
5. As a pedestrian always be alert and be sure coast is clear before crossing.

INDUSTRIAL

1. Know the hazards of your job and avoid them or adjusting it.
2. Keep machinery-protective guards in place.
3. Wear goggles, protective clothing, safety shoes.
4. Don't try to adjust or repair moving machinery.
5. Get first aid for even small injuries.

HOME

1. Keep stairs well-lighted and free of obstructions.
2. Keep chimneys, stovepipes and gas connections in good condition.
3. See that all electrical extension cords are well insulated.
4. Do not accumulate the fire-hazard of rubbish, old newspapers, etc.
5. Keep matches, pins, needles and medicines out of children's reach.

FARM

1. Always stop a machine before unclogging, oiling or adjusting it.
2. Know how to notch and guide a tree so it will fall the way you want it to.
3. Keep guns unloaded except when you are using them. But always treat a gun, loaded or not, as though it were loaded.
4. If a rowboat you're in overturns, stay with it. It will float.
5. Remember, when animals cause injury, it's usually because they're frightened. Speaking calmly, especially when you approach them, helps keep them calm.
