Some Yanks reported seeing Japanese in full flight.

Dopking's dispatch did not make it clear whether the amphibious operation was still going on or if it were only a raid to throw the Japanese off balance.

Claim Landings

Meanwhile Tokyo radio claimed Japanese paratroopers had landed at four points behind the American lines on Leyte to destroy airfields.

The broadcast, unconfirmed by allied sources, said a "grand scale offensive" was launched Wednesday, against "the many enemy airfields" on eastern Leyte. It is from these airfields that Yankee planes have been wiping out enemy reinforcement convoys and cratering Japanese airfields throughout the Philippines.

The Tokyo broadcast, recorded by the federal communications commission, said the Americans were found "in a confused state."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today noted successes on land, sea and in the air. In ground fighting dough-the men's political philosophies and plans for the years ahead.

The action affected these newly-appointed aides to Secretary of State Stettinius:

Joseph C. Grew, former ambassador to Japan, designated undersecretary.

Will L. Clayton, former cotton dealer, erstwhile assistant secretary of commerce and surplus war property administrator, named an assistant secretary of state.

Nelson A. Rockefeller, coordinator of inter-American affairs, assistant secretary.

Archibald MacLeish, poet and librarian of congress, assistant secretary.

Connally made no effort to hide his feeling that the senate's action was a slap at the foreign relations committee if not a direct blow at the president. Acting Republican Leader White of Maine, who voted for all the nominations in the committee, backed up Connally in denouncing "this very unusual procedure," but to no avail.

ning at 9:48.04 p. m. Pacific war time, yesterday, scientists reported today.

Further details of the records were not immediately available.

SEATTLE, Dec. 7 (AP)—What he described as "a major earthquake, between 5000 and 5200 miles from Seattle" was recorded on the University of Washington seismograph last night, Prof. Howard A. Coombs, seismologist, reported today. He said the disturbances started at 9:46 p. m. (Pacific war time) and continued for at least three and a half hours. Coombs said the center was uncertain, but "might well have been Japan."

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—Two "extremely violent" earthquakes possibly in the southern part of Japan were recorded on the Fordham university seismograph early today, the Rev. Joseph J. Lynch reported.

Father Lynch said the shocks, which he described as "very severe and extremely violent," were felt at 12:40 a. m. (EWT) and at 12:53 a. m.

Wine Dealers Await Signing Of Burke Bill

Klamath business houses which have stocks of fortified wine on hand were awaiting word today of the signing of the Burke bill proclamation, which will restrict sales of such wines to state liquor stores. What dealers will do with stocks on hand was not decided by all, but some have attempted to dispose of them by drastic price reductions, and others believe they can return them to jobbers.

Signature of the proclamation by Governor Snell and Secretary of State Robert Farrell will make the Burke bill a law. It was passed at the last session of the legislature, re-referred, and then upheld by the people.

Radio Tokyo, acknowledging damage in Mukden and the port of Dairen, claimed 15 B-29's were downed, five by collision with Nipponese craft.

Meanwhile, 21st bomber command headquarters on Saipan told of single plane weather reconnaissance flights over Tokyo today, seven hours apart. Bombs were dropped on both visits to the Japanese capital.

Crippling Blow

Fall of Kunming would virtually hamstring the prospective new India-China supply route and deal the U. S. 14th air force a crippling blow.

In a special communique the Chinese said Tushan fell the morning of December 5. The Japanese had claimed the town was captured December 2.

Drive Made Possible

Its capture set up the possibility of a two-fold enemy drive northward on Kweiyang and westward to Kunming, 300 miles distant.

Meanwhile it appeared another Japanese column was moving toward Kunming up the Yu river from captured Nanning, former advance base for American fighter planes, which fell to the enemy last week.

"Armed rightists who attempted to join forces with British troops are being disarmed, as they were acting contrary to orders of the government and Gen. Scobie regarding the carrying of arms by irregulars. This is being done without incident.

"Elsewhere in Greece the situation is quieter, although in the Drama area (Thrace) fighting has broken out between the ELAS and nationalist forces.

"It has been confirmed that a German officer has been captured while commanding a detachment of ELAS troops."

This was the second time this week that the state department has spoken out in favor of political freedom for the people of Europe.

Earlier it protested Britain's intervention in the formation of a new Italian government. The British action had vetoed Count Carlo Sforza as a candidate for either premier or foreign minister of a new regime at Rome.

Alive and unharmed, O'Quinn strolled into his platoon area the next day, much to the astonishment of his buddies, and was presented his dog-tags by the platoon leader. The Jap had taken them for a souvenir, and later had been killed by the platoon leader, who retrieved the tags.

Squad Wiped Out

Cpl. Bonnie Harris, an Indian boy from California, was a squad leader on Guam. He was wounded in the arm, and his entire squad was wiped out trying to take a Jap-held hill.

A rifle slug pierced the helmet of PFC Alfred Tankersley on Saipan. He was knocked flat by the blow, but not seriously hurt.

Cpl. James West received multiple shrapnel wounds in his right shoulder and side. While he was lying in a too-narrow fox-hole, scooped out of the hard coral on Guam, a Jap mortar shell exploded only a foot away, showering him with fragments.

Other Decorations

Others who are scheduled to be decorated for wounds received in action are Sgt. I. H. Douglas, PFC Julian C. Whately, Cpl. Victor Jerome Just, PFC C. W. Moss, PFC E. W. Beckman, PFC Homer P. Andrews, Cpl. G. E. Cushing, who recently underwent an operation at the dispensary here to have an inch-long shell fragment removed from his neck, and Cpl. Edward L. Burgents.

Capt. N. C. Bayley will act as commander of troops for the parade and ceremony.
