MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Two well known Klamath men have been awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in action, according to relatives here.

S. Sgt. John W. Bowen, son of Mrs. Clara Bowen, 2141 S. 6th, was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in action in France, and the medal has been received by Mrs. Bowen. John went to France in early July, joined the 4th division of Patton's 3rd army at Cherbourg and fought with it until September 82, at which time he was wounded in the arm and sent to a hospital in France. His mother was advised that he had also been wounded prior to the above date, and the medal was for his first injury. John writes that the hospital is far from the front lines and he is receiving excellent treatment and ex-

Third award went to Pvt. John H. Kellum, 27, husband of Mrs. Delpha Kellum, 1321 Johnson, who was wounded by enemy shrapnel as his company battled for Saint Jean, France. He is recovering at a US army general hospital in England.
"We were set up in a hedge-row when the attack on the city started," the Klamath Falls rifleman stated. "There was a shower of 88 and mortar fire from the Jerry positions. I was hit in the left arm." Kellum was treated on the spot by medics and moved to the battalion aid station and subsequently flown to England. He was at the hospital in England 24 hours after being hit. Kellum is a former Lamm Lumber company employee. He entered the service in October, 1943.

MALIN—Cpl. Ray S. Van Meter of the U. S. marine corps, and Mrs. Van Meter are guests this week of Van Meter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Van Meter, and other members of the family. Cpl. Van Meter, now stationed at Camp Pendleton, has seen more than four years service, spending 1½ years of that time in Alaska.

Mrs. Van Meter will be remembered as the former Patricia Stebbins, Klamath Falls. The couple was married last February.
Prior to enlisting Van Meter was employed at the D. E. Alexander ranch on the Merrill-Klamath highway, and at one time operated a service station here.

Reclamation Congress Slates Annual Meet
SALEM, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Oregon reclamation congress will hold its 32nd annual meeting here, December 19-20, Frank Morgan, Nyssa, said today. Immediate problems confronting irrigation and drainage districts, hampered by limited material and labor supplies, will be an important discussion subject for the first day. Postwar reclamation development, including a progress report on the Willamette valley project will be discussed on the closing day.
