The East grange bazaar and harvest festival held last Saturday was another top-notch social affair ending with everyone feeling that they had their money's worth and a little more. The hall was packed to capacity and somewhere over $200 was cleared from all the booth attractions, the supper and the dance.

This Saturday evening, the organization will hold its annual Christmas party, which will include a program, distribution of candy treats, dancing and a supper. This event, however, is not a public affair but for grange members and their families. Mrs. Louise Miller, retiring lecturer, will have charge of the program. Mrs. Fannie Fisher, newly-elected officer, will take over the duties of lecturer, the first meeting in January.

Richard Keller hauled a load of crushed rock, dumped it and graded it up nicely on his lot laying between the Faris and Butler stores. It was a much needed improvement since the board walk was removed some time ago, and appreciated by pedestrians who had to tramp through the mud and slop.

Alvin Butler, who some time ago purchased the lot where Green's Market stood, removed the old sidewalk parts which had been torn up when the building was moved, improving the appearance of the walk. Soon he plans to fill up the torn-up space with crushed rock and also the 25-foot space between Keller's lot and his brick building.

Mrs. Louise Miller entertained at a birthday dinner last Sunday, honoring Mrs. Mary Miller's 78th birthday. A large number of relatives were present including Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cook and son Bob, Mrs. Cora Cook and children, Margaret Ann, Jimmie and Maryland, and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cook and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Lute Miller. Turkey with all the trimmings was served at the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Newman left last Monday for Klamath Falls where they were to attend and assist in the arrangement for the funeral of Mrs. Newman's cousin, Dorothy Anders, who was burned to death when the Anders home burned to the ground in Klamath Falls early Sunday. Anders, who was also at home, was quite severely burned and is in the hospital suffering from second degree burns.

Mrs. Fay Keller and daughter Bernice returned last Tuesday from San Francisco where they spent a few days before the holiday rush set in.

Little Johnny, the two-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Jim St. Clair has had a pretty rocky time of it since his arrival, owing to the fact he can't keep anything on his stomach. The parents and doctors have apparently done everything within their power to improve his gradually starving condition. The parents plan to take him to a baby specialist at either Eugene or Portland right away.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie L. Ross left last Tuesday for Redding and San Francisco where they will visit for a few days before returning to their home in Cambridge, Kansas. Ross has been working for the last two months at Willow Ranch and thinks that he may return in the spring as he likes this western country pretty well, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Babe Blurton left last Tuesday morning for the bay district, accompanied by Mrs. Florence Colten. Mrs. Colten will stay with her daughter, Mrs. Virgil Walker, for a few days then go on to Los Angeles to visit with her sister, possibly to make her home there.

KERNS HEADS KENO WAR BOND WORKERS

KENO—Workers in the 6th War Loan drive for the Keno district are Lee Holliday, chairman, John Kerns, W. R. Frain, and Joe H. Foster.

A meeting was held at the home of J. W. Kerns and plans for the drive were outlined, and certain territories given over to each worker. Bonds may be purchased at the postoffice, which will save time and gas for individuals in this community. Anyone wishing his bond purchase to be credited to Keno's quota, may contact any of the above named bond workers.

The Keno school is nearing its quota in this drive, and hopes to have reached and exceeded its goal by the end of the week, according to Harvey Denham, principal.

Car Crashes Into Lake Washington

SEATTLE, Jan. 18 (AP)—An automobile, its lights burning all the while, was recovered from 15 feet of water in Lake Washington four hours after it was heard to crash through a heavy guard rail on the Yarrow Point wharf. The vehicle was registered to E. N. Ducan, 704 Yarmouth Court, San Diego, Calif.

Inside, Capt. Bruce Temble, sheriff's diver, and State Patrolman H. R. Ferguson found a pair of women's shoes, a toy, some groceries and cooking utensils. Nearby residents said they heard screams as the fast traveling car hurtled 35 feet beyond the wharf and struck the water, but the machine was unoccupied when recovered.

Coast guardsmen and sheriff's deputies started dragging.

Stamped Envelopes Exempt From Control

Stamped envelopes sold to and by the postoffice department have been exempted from price control, the OPA advised today. This action is expected to result in slightly increased prices for quantity purchases of stamped envelopes by the public, it was explained, but existing prices for single stamped envelopes or for a limited number of them, will remain unchanged, according to postal authorities in Washington.

A job for women who'd like to do men's work

This job is about exactly the opposite of what women so often do in business. That's why it's interesting—and why women seem to like it. The work: helping mechanics, etc., in the S. P. shops . . . handling tools, cleaning up . . . housekeeping, you might say, with locomotives in the front parlor. You won't look exactly glamorous in overalls and turban, and maybe you'll get smudged up a bit . . . but we think you'll like it . . . like working with other men and women whose hearts are in their jobs and whose jobs are vital. You'll be a railroad—and proud of it. (Learn railroad lingo too, you'll find). The work is definitely not heavy. No heavy lifting. We need you urgently. Won't you come in and talk it over?
