the hinge-point is whether the taisains nei-back on their march through Poland to Berlin in order to gobble up the Balkans and Baltic states for themselves, whether they deliberately delayed conquest of Germany proper. Some Polish organizations have claimed the reds did not throw in enough power in their Warsaw drive last August, but the military evidence shows they put 30 divisions into that fray. Also, Warsaw is easier to defend from attack from the east than the west. The Wista river is supposed to run through the city, but actually the important part of the metropolis is on the west bank, which is higher and com-mands the east bank from which attack must be made. The reds appear to have made a real fight and lost in August and then let that matter go in favor of their southern campaign

THE nazi fortifications 10 to 15 miles inside the East Prussian frontier are old, (built

Reports have been published that a Russian drive is about to start on the dormant Polish front, but you cannot tell about that until action starts and progresses far enough to gauge the size of it. The nazis fought the same delaying tactics against the reds in the Baltic states as they used against us in France, holding ports and pockets or resistance with suicide squads. Indeed, elements of 10 German divisions still hold the Riga estuary, nullifying the capture of that port as at Antwerp. On the other hand the southern drive through

On the other hand the southern drive through the Balkans was a waltz up to Budapest. After the Prut river was crossed and Ploesti was captured, Rumania dropped like a plum to Stalin as did Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. It is undeniable that this military campaign has worked Russia's way politically, not only as to the Balkans but by keeping Foland on the rough edge until Polish politics and Churchill settled the Russian way. The Russians are further from Berlin at Budapest than they were

HE facts from Europe seem inwardly and that of the New Deal senator whose statements you may have seen. He says it is all British propaganda about the communists wanting the every time a people's movement rears its head, he says. This is the same line familiar since the Spanish revolution of "it is" on one side,

"it isn't" on the other, with no one getting at acceptable facts of the truth.

Personally, for myself, I rely mainly on the judgment of the military in such matters, but not on politicians here or abroad. By and large, military men care little about communism or conservatives, but want to win their war.

They know more about the facts than senators. Their Army and Navy Journal reflected the viewpoint of a large segment of the defense services, although other army experts are inclined to give Russia the benefit of doubt, at least until they see how big a drive now develops in Poland.

In this kind of a yes-and-no game of news from Europe where skilled propaganda forces are at work in a life and death struggle for power, it is necessary that senators as all citizens try to ascertain and advertise provable.

Today's Roundup

By MALCOLM EPLEY

A N important reminder for the public is in order today as the news breaks that the ocal police chief has been arrested on a morals

It is this: A man is presumed to be innocent until proven guilty.

What has taken place is an accusation. It is a fundamental American legal principle that an accusation does not affect the presumption of innocence; only sworn evidence in court can do that.

The reminder is offered here today in fairness to all concerned. The legal machinery EPLEY has been set in motion to determine the truth or falsity of the accusation, and the fair-minded will await the outcome of that process.

Publicity Conscious

IRST comment from many local people on learning of this accusation will be some-thing like this: "There goes Klamath with more unfavorable news in the state press."

In recent years, Klamath people have become increasingly publicity-conscious about things like this, which is a wholesome sign. The inevitable result of public opinion that wants good repute for the community is to create the local situa-tion that will win that repute.

As a matter of fact, much progress in that direction has been made in recent years. The constructive, worth-while things that happen here, and the worthy and interesting features of our community and the surrounding region, are becoming widely known.

One still finds, of course, a lot of downstate people who say they never notice anything in the Portland papers about Klamath Falls except sensational news.

A lot of other news about this community appears in the Portland papers. Unfortunately, much of this fails to make city editions which are distributed in Portland, whereas some sen-sational "big story" will probably stick through those editions

There is still another point worth mentioning here. People have a way of reading and re-membering sensational news, and passing over less exciting, though more constructive, stuff that appears in the press.

That's human nature, and there's not much can be done about that.

The Marines and Bonds

SOME grand contributions to the war bond drives, not only here, but in many Oregon communities, have been made by the Klamath marines. They have given unstintingly of their time and talent to this job, and every man who has participated deserves the heartiest public

These fellows have not only done our fighting, but they are doing a lot toward financing the fighting by helping out on the bond drives.

Now, for just one jarring note: While these lads have been giving so generously and effectively to the bond effort, there have been a few examples of service men who have done the opposite thing by remarks, heard around town, that you shout like thing the

that run about like this:
"Don't buy bonds. The more bonds you buy, the longer the war will last. The fewer are bought, the sooner the war will be over."

This theory has been suggested frequently enough that we have picked it up a dozen times in the past few weeks, always reported as coming from a man in uniform.

We have heard no facts to support the assertion, and it doesn't make sense—not if we want the war to be over with VICTORY on our side.

To say the complete communist conquest of the Balkans, the four communist party members in the Italian cabinet and two to four in the Greek cabinet, represent only "a cry of communists by the conservatives" is to serve the cause of Russian propaganda, rather stupidly.
