SALEM, Dec. 22 (#)—A logging camp custom of calling the boss "the governor" caused a Montana man 100 miles of travel yesterday to see Governor Earl Snell.

The man applied for a job at a logging operation near Cottage Grove, and was told to "see th' governor."

So he came to see Governor Snell, who telephoned the logging contractor and straightened things out.

POTATO SORTING NEAR STANDSTILL

Potato sorting in the Klamath basin will be at a standstill until the first of the year with the exception of a few crews which will continue to operate, according to a report received Friday from Clyde James, farm labor assistant in Klamath county.

This is largely due to a shortage in potato cars, as plenty of help is available for sorter work through the farm labor employment office, James said.

Contract sorters and growers have decided to hold up work until the first of the year in the hope that more cars can be released for spud shipments at that time.
