In a simple wedding ceremony read by the Rev. Cecil C. Brown of the First Baptist church at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. Gass, 429 North Second street, at eight o'clock Saturday morning, December 18, Marguerite Purich of Palestine, Texas, became the bride of Sergeant James W. Faulk, Houston, Texas. The bride was given in marriage by Dr. Gass, and chose a deep brown wool suit with blue accessories and a corsage of Calliman rosebuds for her wedding costume.

The bride and groom cut their first wedding cake which was topped with a miniature marine and bride. Mrs. E. A. Purich, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Leo Glinkman, mother of the groom, were seated at the head of the table. The ceremony was held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. Gass.

Bailey, Mrs. M. E. Brisson and son, Gary Neil. Gary's father, machinist's mate 3/c, is stationed at Pearl Harbor with the Seabees.

Engaged

The engagement of Katherine Barry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Barry of Kelso, Washington to William L. Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bishop, 429 North 9th, was announced Wednesday, December 20 in Seattle, Washington.

The news, which was given at Wesley House to a number of friends, was told in a most original manner. A live cat was literally "let out of the bag" with the names "Kay and Bill" written on a card attached to a ribbon which was tied around the kitten's neck. The traditional box of candy was passed later.

Miss Barry, who is a sophomore at the University of Washington, is majoring in music, and is very active in Wesley Club and the Kappa Phi sorority.

Mr. Bishop is stationed on the University of Washington campus with the W-12 unit, and is a student of radio engineering. He returned at the first of the summer from the South Pacific where he had served for 10 months as an aviation radioman. Before joining the navy in 1942, he was employed as a teller at the First National bank.

Christmas Tree

One of the prettiest Christmas trees we've seen in many years was the huge silvered fir which stood on the platform in the Elks ballroom when Elks entertained with the annual Christmas party Friday night for children of the members.

Lovely ornaments made of red, white and blue cellophane were sprinkled over the tree and flood lights turned it into something made of magic. In view of the shortage of ornaments, there was a great deal of speculation as to where they came from and investigation disclosed that they were hand-made by Mrs. Boyd Sprague. Santa Claus distributed gifts of candy, nuts and oranges to the several hundred children present, following a holiday program.

Rasmussen, president of the Oregon League of Women Voters, with headquarters in Portland, expects to be in Klamath Falls on January 8 and 9, and during her stay here will meet with the board and members of the Klamath county League of Women Voters, and with any others interested in the work of this organization.

Selections given by the orchestra included the Crusaders' Hymn, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "O Come All Ye Faithful" and "Silent Night." Carols which were presented in the Christmas story were "Fairest Lord Jesus," "Joseph Was A-walking," "No Room in the Inn," "Come, Joseph to the Manger," "The First Noel," "Carol of the Shepherds," "Bring a Torch," "Come, Little Children," "The Three Kings," "There's a Song in the Air," "Virgin Slumber Song," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Silent Night and Goodnight." On Thursday, December 21, at 1 p. m., the Altamont elementary school presented a Christmas program for their parents and friends.

A great deal of time and effort was devoted by the teachers and pupils toward the preparations of a Christmas pageant, with accompanying carols and choral readings of unusual beauty.

The program which was presented included the Southern Roses Waltz by a toy orchestra which was given by the second grade, "Earth and Sky," a choral reading by the first grade, "Oh Come Ye to Bethlehem," a play in which students of all grades participated, a group of Christmas carols, choral readings by members of the third grade, the Luther Cradle Hymn by the first grade, and a community sing, led by Mrs. E. E. Metter.

Mr. and Mrs. Holly Monroe will have as their Christmas holiday guests here, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schneider of Cottage Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Layne, (Bernardine Schneider), also of that city.

Christmas messages received from Roma and Jerry Thomas tell of the lovely winter "in the south," and say they can't imagine a land of ice and snow where the citizens have to go mushin' up and down Main street. Those wishing to send cards to the Thomases at 1108 Oakdale, Houston, Tex., might inform them that we aren't mushin' yet, but neither are we braggin'.
