Spud Sorters Here

There were no calls today, but by for spud sorters at the Klamath county farm labor employment office, according to Ed James, farm labor representative. Plenty of help is available, said James, but no further demand has been made for it by growers and contract laborers. This would indicate either there is sufficient help in the Klamath basin for planting or that work is still suspended due to the recent car shortage.

There were a few calls, however, for stock feeders and general ranch hands, James said.

News Notes and Comment

By JUANITA SHINN

After a two-week vacation, students and teachers have returned once again to their classrooms to resume studies before time for those dreaded final exams. Everyone should be rested and ready to carry on for several months without slacking, but from the looks of some of the students, they need a rest from vacation. Most of them are in worse condition than when they left the portals of KUHS.

At the Christmas assembly before vacation, George Long, editor of the Krater, in behalf of the Krater staff presented a ring to Clifford Rowe, Krater adviser, who is leaving in approximately three weeks to become an assistant professor of journalism and English, and director of publicity at Pacific university.

H. O. Palmer has been selected to become Krater adviser for the remainder of the year, after Rowe leaves for Pacific university.

Walter Eschebeck, speech instructor, will become adviser to the Future Teachers of America chapter next semester when Rowe leaves.

The Masque and Gavel club will meet tomorrow morning for the election of officers and to talk over initiation plans. The initiation will be formal, and at that time the pins will be awarded to the members.

APPLICATIONS FOR PHOSPHATE ASKED

Any farmers in Klamath county desiring early delivery of phosphate are asked to contact the AAA office here before Saturday in order to insure early delivery.

The state AAA committee has been notified that 4620 tons of AAA phosphate has been allocated to Oregon for the first six months of 1945. The December, 1944, allocation of 520 tons is being delivered in January, making a total of more than 5000 tons available through the conservation materials program through June, 1945.

This allocation is substantially larger than last spring's, although nationally total supplies of phosphate fertilizers are expected to be somewhat shorter than in 1944.

MONTGOMERY WARD'S ANSWER TO THE ORDER OF SEIZURE BY THE PRESIDENT

The order of the president to effect the seizure of the property and business of Montgomery Ward is a violation of the constitution of the United States, which the president has sworn to uphold and defend. The congress, which is the sole law-making authority under the constitution, has given the president no power to seize the non-war business of Montgomery Ward.

The purpose of the president's order is to enforce, by an exercise of arbitrary power, orders of the war labor board which the courts have declared to be merely advisory and legally unenforceable. The courts have held that anyone who refuses to comply with orders of the war labor board is not defying a command of the government and that, since the orders are merely advisory, no government official has the right to impose punishments on those who do not comply.

The president's order does not arise from any failure on Ward's part to pay fair wage rates. Ward's policy is, and has been, to pay wages as high as or higher than those paid by other employers in the community for similar employment. Ward's only objection to any of the war labor board's wage recommendations has been in those instances where the board has arbitrarily demanded that Wards substantially increase its rates above those of its competitors in the highly competitive retail field.

The president has ordered the army to restrict the liberties of Ward's employees by imposing upon them the closed shop in the form of union maintenance. This is the final step in the coercion used by the administrative agencies of the government to force the closed shop upon employers and employed throughout the nation. Wards has long believed that when the public awakens to the extent of this coercion, it will rise in indignation.

Ward's defense of the freedom of its employees has not been prompted by any feeling of anti-unionism. All employees at Wards are free to join or not to join a union, as they wish. Wards fully recognizes this privilege and has assured employees that their opportunity with the company will be the same whether they are union members or not.

Wards cannot in good citizenship accept or obey the commands of those who have no legal power to give them and who are seeking to deprive Wards of its constitutional rights and liberties. Wards takes this position in defense of the constitutional rights and liberties of every citizen of the United States.

The issues are now before the courts where Wards has sought for two years to have them decided. Wards welcomes the opportunity to present its case to the courts.
