

Pelicans Will Meet Bend Five

Perkins to Be Available For Cage Series With Bend Quintet Starting Tonight

The Pelican cage squad received some good news Thursday afternoon when it was learned that Bob Perkins would be available for the Bend series. Perkins has passed his production physical examination and is endeavoring to get into a branch of the navy. He is slated to take the Eddy test sometime in the next two weeks.

The Klamath hoopsters worked out Thursday afternoon on the high school court and displayed a little more zipper than was shown Wednesday. Coach Marble Cook had the boys drilling on out-of-bounds plays and tip-off maneuvers along with hold ball plays. Jim Noreen's absence from the squad is felt, but Cook has worked up a starting combination for the series with the Lava Bears that may catch fire, consisting of Jim Pope and Jim Palmer at forwards, Jerry Thorne at pivot slot, and Bob Perkins and Larry White at the guard positions.

In addition to the starting five, seven reserves made the trip including Bud Bienn, Bus Bussman, Don Noel, Dean Mason, Bill Alexander, Joe Zarosinski and Bob Redkey, a recent addition to the Pelican roster. The entire squad left here at 12:30 p. m. today and will return to Klamath Falls Sunday morning.

FOREVER JACKSON

Bulldog Jackson who has grown to be as familiar to Klamath rascals as their own front door, is coming back for the umpteenth time tonight to do his old act for the displeasure of the cash customers.

All fall Jackson has been cavorting around the ring at the Klamath biceps bin and, while Bulldog occasionally shows flashes of rassing ability, they are few and far between.

One thing we will freely admit, and that is the obvious fact that Jackson is plenty tough. He has to be to go through his song and dance routine every Friday night. In fact, we think Jackson carries the rough stuff a bit too far to be funny, but he probably has to as he certainly can't rattle in the orthodox fashion.

In talking to one of the muscle men the other day, we were informed that Bulldog is just about the hardest guy to rattle in these parts. We assume the reason for this is that he knows all the dirty tricks in the book and is not adverse to using them whenever the time seems ripe. In other words, whenever Referee Wally Moss is looking the other way.

So Bulldog will be back again tonight and as Phil Baker says on his "Take It or Leave It" program, "Not for years, not for life, but forever!" Personally, we'll leave it.

Pete Belcastro to Tangle With Johnson in Main Go

At the Klamath Punch bowl tonight Pete Belcastro will make an effort to drop Gloomy Oast Johnson, junior heavyweight champ of the Pacific coast, for the first time here. Gloomy Gust has emerged on top of the heap in all of his tussles here to date and is a tough hombre to toss.

Pete has plenty of the old ring savvy, however, and may be the boy to push Gust's nose in the canvas when they meet in the headline event tonight. Both muscle men are exponents of the painful and dangerous surf-board hold and will undoubtedly be seeking to use this method to gain the nod for the bout. Once this hold is applied the mauler on the receiving end is not likely to come bounding back for more. Jack Kiser, the all-American boy, will crunch craniums with Tough Tony Ross in the semi-windup and Kiser is liable to run into plenty of trouble. Tony gave Jack a mighty bad time in Salem recently and is one of the more rugged maulers on Cauliflower Row. Ross has a definite yearning for that lightweight belt Kiser wears around his waist and will go to any extremes to get a title bout with Tiger Jack.

Both these bouts should ring the bell, but it will take a mighty big bell to do any ringing when Milt Olsen and Bulldog Jackson supposedly mix it up in the curtain-raiser. The other two top attractions should make up for this fiasco, however, and a good crowd is expected to witness the card, which will get underway at 8:30 p. m.

Baseball Officials Meet To Draft New Agreement

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (AP)—The drafting of a new major league agreement to govern baseball's future and to outline the authority of a commissioner who will succeed the late K. M. Landis today occupied the attention of the two big league presidents and eight club officials.

Although not authorized to consider the naming of Landis' successor, the committee's business is in the nature of laying the groundwork for that assignment, which will rest with the officials of all 16 clubs.

The committee's business, expected to be completed in two days, will be revising the previous 25-year big league pact which would have expired on January 12, 1946, but which was terminated upon Landis' death last November 25. Landis, 78 at his death and baseball's only commissioner, had held the post for 24 years.

The lid comes off tonight.

NFL May Abolish Extra Point Try

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (AP)—The National Football league, long a pioneer in wide-open play, now is toying with the idea of abolishing the extra point try after touchdown and adopting the "sudden death" method of ending deadlocks.

Among proposals embracing both innovations is included rules changes recommended by officials and coaches for consideration at the league's annual winter meeting here January 9 and 10.

George Strickler, league publicity director, explained that the "sudden death" recommendation—made by Bert Bell, president of the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Coach Earle (Greasy) Neale of the Philadelphia Eagles—calls for overtime periods of 15 minutes duration with the contest to end when the first touchdown, field goal or safety is made.

PATRIOTIC BIDDIES

DECATUR, Ill., Jan. 5 (AP)—Mrs. A. W. Nicholls was on the prowl for a turkey around her farm after she had found giant eggs among the nests reserved for her flock of 240 hens.

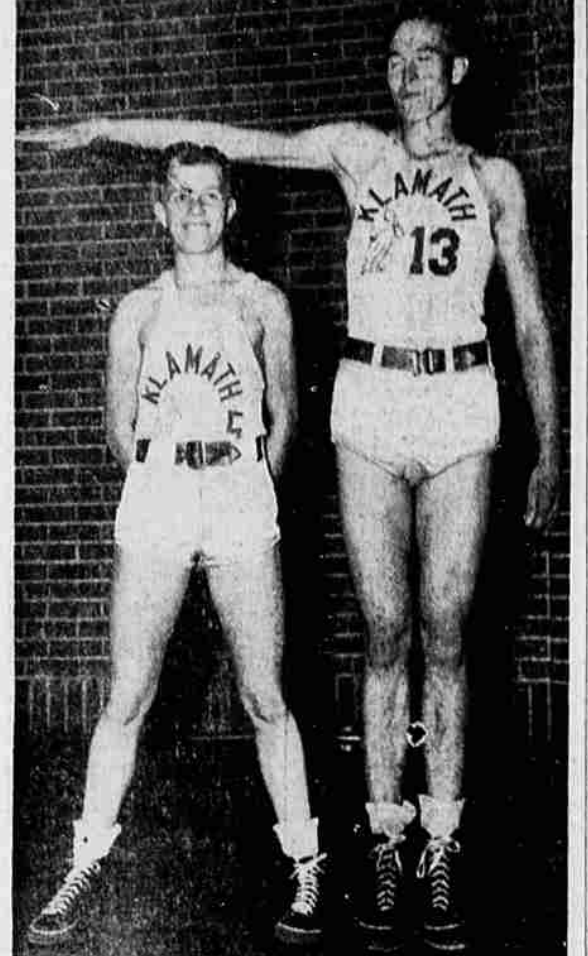

But there was no turkey, so Mrs. Nicholls has decided that some of her hens are heeding the government's call for larger production. The big eggs weighed about 4 1/2 ounces each, measured 8 1/2 inches lengthwise and 7 1/2 inches in circumference.

STREAMLINED SHELLS

Streamlining the back end of artillery shells in the manner of airplane bombs would be a useless procedure. Such projectiles travel faster than sound, and thus, air cannot flow in behind them.

Long and Short of It

Jerry Thorne, rangy Pelican pivotman, towers over Don Noel, shortest man on the Klamath cage squad. The K-men take on the Bend Lava Bears tonight in the first tilt of a two-game series to be played in the Bears' own lair.

Case Ace, which had a standing at $500, now commands a stud fee of $750 for 1945. Ever, Lt. Roebing has infatuated Frank Hunter, his stud man, that the previous fee will be same for those who had paid his stallion in previous years.
