(NEA Telephoto) Catholic mass, conducted by Chaplain Lt. Arthur P. Pinan, is celebrated aboard a Nazi transport as American invading forces neared the shores of Luzon. A short time later these men joined the first waves of assault troops to secure initial American beachheads on Lingayen Gulf.

LIQUOR ISSUE HIGH ON LAWMAKING LIST

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 17 (AP)—The state's thirst and appetite for wild game were high on the list of items clamoring for attention in legislative minds today as the 29th session steamed into action with all committees approved and ready to function.

The game commission, target earlier of a housecleaning proposal by Gov. Max C. Walgren, again edged into the capitol scene with the disclosure that an interim committee was to meet today with the governor.

With sleeves rolled up for serious action on the liquor issue, several groups were whipping up hills aimed at providing Washington folks with liquor over-the-bar, a pet project of the new governor.

Two resolutions proposing bipartisan senate investigation of the 1943 Kentucky whiskey purchases were tossed to the upper body's liquor control committee with the prediction by Sen. Carl C. Mohler (D-Thurston) that they would be waste-basketed as unconstitutional.

Juvenile Found Dead In King County Jail

SEATTLE, Jan. 17 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old John Emberg was found dead last night in the juvenile cell of the King county jail and Sheriff Harlan S. Callahan said he had been beaten to death, evidently in a fight with other prisoners.

The sheriff said Emberg was born in Minnesota, but that he had no address listed for the youth, arrested December 24 on a delinquency charge. Seven other boys were confined in the cell with Emberg, officers said.

Neuner Prepares Opinion On Names

SALEM, Jan. 17 (AP)—Attorney General George Neuner was preparing today an opinion for the state corporation department on whether any group should be allowed to incorporate under the name of "Oregon Anti-Japanese, Inc."

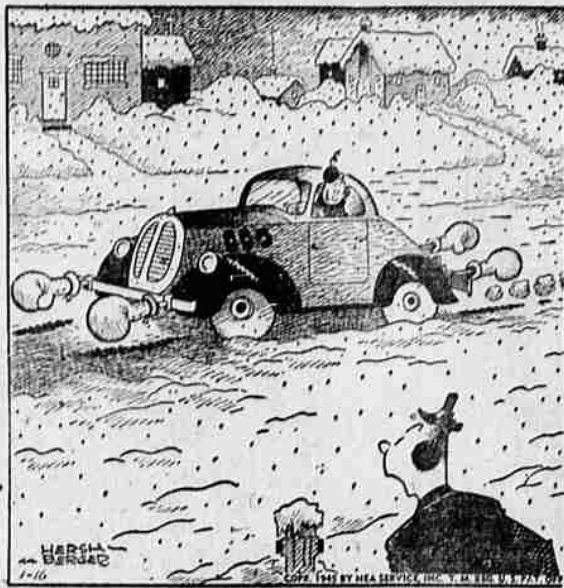

Groups in Portland and Gresham applied for permission to use the name, but the Portland group later withdrew its petition.

Will Meet — Jobs Daughters will meet Thursday, January 18, at 8 p. m., at the Masonic temple. A social hour will be held for the members after the meeting.

Crippled Ghost Ship Lands At Base 90 Minutes Overdue

By VERN HAUGLAND

B-29 BASE, Saipan, Jan. 4 (Delayed) (AP)—A "ghost ship" with an Oregon co-pilot made it home from Japan tonight, an hour and a half after the first B-29s had returned from their strike at Nagoya, their red and green lights forming a great arc in the sky.

Half an hour ago ground crews began giving up hope. After all, the missing plane had a new pilot and navigator. It was the first mission to Japan for the airplane commander, First Lt. Robert E. Engle of Price, Utah, a replacement from the states. And a new man was substituting for the regular navigator, who had been hospitalized for a minor knee injury. Second Lt. Emanuel Pavey, Salem, Ore. was co-pilot.

"The plane's been gone 15 hours and a half—that means she's down somewhere," someone said. On the operations board they chalked her up as "ditched."

Most of the men waiting at the field went back to their camps. Only the single searchlight reserved for tardy planes—the sad beacon that shines for hours for planes that may never get back—played hopefully into an empty sky.

Then came the ghostly sound of engines that logically should have been out of fuel. A B-29 all but given up for lost was coming home.

Engle landed the plane with one of its four propellers missing. Before he could taxi to the end of the strip, the three good engines coughed, spluttered and died of lack of gasoline. The plane had been aloft for 15 hours and 36 minutes.

One minute from the coast of Japan, an engine became disabled and the propeller started "windmilling." To feather the propeller would be to invite Japanese fighters to pick on a crippled Superfortress. Engle chose to continue his bombing run.

with the propeller turning wildly. After bombing his Nagoya target and leaving Japan, Engle discovered the windmilling propeller could not be feathered. Throttling down to an airspeed barely above stalling tempo, Engle quickly fell behind his formation. The element leader stayed with you," but the Utahian replied, "What's the use of endangering two planes? If we must ditch we can ditch alone."

Engle flew four hours just above stalling speed, then notified his base he was preparing to ditch, giving an estimate of the time his fuel supply would last.

Halfway between Japan and Saipan the windmilling propeller flew off into space. Relieved of its strain and drag, the pilot flew onward on borrowed time as the flight engineer, Staff Sgt. Dooley Harry Rogers of Ireland, Texas, sweated out the dangerously low supply of gasoline. The plane landed here in Beaumont, Tex. He is expected to return some time next week.

Jap-Yanks Welcomed In Hood River Area

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 17 (AP)—Three Japanese-Americans, back in the Hood River valley—focal point of much anti-Japanese activity—reported today a "more than gracious" welcome from their former-neighbors.

Ray Sato and Sat Noi of Parkdale and Min Asai of Barrett told the war relocation authority here they had started pruning their 40 and 80 acre orchards with friendly encouragement from nearby farmers.

"There's nothing like being home," said the three. "Our Hood River valley is the most beautiful spot on the face of the earth."
